

BRITISH PREMIER RESIGNS OFFICE

ASQUITH IS CHOSEN AS HIS SUCCESSOR—MANY CHANGES IN THE CABINET.

Brilliant Career of Retiring Premier Ends in Hopeless Sickness—Sorrow Among Radicals.

London, April 6.—Great Britain is in a peculiar position today, being without either Premier or Ministry. The long-expected resignation of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the Prime Minister, has been officially announced. According to the Court Circular, he resigned on the urgent recommendation of his medical advisers, and as the constitution provides no automatic successor, it rests with the King to choose a new head of the government, and as in accordance with the custom and precedent, the whole Cabinet resigns with the Premier, no step to appoint a Ministry can be taken until Herbert H. Asquith, Chancellor of the Exchequer, who has been summoned to Biarritz for the purpose, has seen the King.

The position of the country is quite unprecedented, there being no previous example of a change occurring in the Premiership while the sovereign was abroad. On this account the course of procedure to be followed is in some doubt.

Sir Henry's condition remains unchanged, according to the physicians' bulletins published today. The King, in telegraphing his acceptance of the Premier's resignation, conveyed an expression of his regret and esteem, with best wishes for Sir Henry's recovery.

POPULISTS NAME TICKET.

Watson and Williams Their Choice for National Standardbearers. St. Louis—For President of the United States—Thomas E. Watson of Georgia. For Vice-President—Samuel W. Williams of Indiana.

This ticket was nominated last Friday by the People's party convention after two stormy sessions, throughout which the Nebraska and Minnesota delegations, working in the interests of W. J. Bryan, strove desperately to bring about an adjournment till after nominations had been made by the Democratic and Republican parties. Hopelessly outnumbered, and without any chance of gaining their object, the Nebraska men fought desperately to the last, and when Jay A. Forrest of Albany, N. Y., mounted the platform to place Mr. Watson in nomination, they withdrew from the convention, attended by the Minnesota delegation.

Vancouver Milk Poisonous. Victoria, B. C., April 6.—"One hundred and forty babies under a year old died in Vancouver last summer. The milk supply is so bad it is like feeding them arsenic. Of the number 190 babies were undoubtedly sacrificed to rotten milk. Unless there is some change they will die this summer like rats in a trap."

These startling charges with respect to Vancouver's milk supply have been made officially to the City Council by Dr. Jakendall, who urges bacteriological tests. The Council has ordered an investigation.

Beaten by Their Wives. Fresno, Cal., April 6.—At the school election Friday in Eastern District, adjoining Fresno, the wives of three men nominated for trustees were elected. As there seemed to be no opposition, the three men paid no attention to the election. When they returned home after the polls had closed they found that their wives had been named as an opposition ticket and elected.

A Healing Salve For Burns, Chapped Hands and Sore Nipples. As a healing salve for burns, sores, sore nipples and chapped hands, Chamberlain's Salve is most excellent. It allays the pain of a burn almost instantly, and unless the injury is very severe, heals the parts without leaving a scar. Price 25 cents. For sale by Chas. Strang.

TAKES TOO MANY HIGHBALLS.

Howard Gould Gives Daily Record of Liquor Wife Abuse. New York, April 6.—Howard Gould's answer to the suit of his wife, Katherine Clemens-Gould, for a separation and alimony, which was filed in the Supreme Court Monday, forms the most amazing document that has ever figured in a divorce trial in New York City.

For the first time the name of Dustin Farnum, the actor, is brought forward as a co-respondent. In addition, Mr. Gould declares that his wife was grossly intoxicated at many places on many occasions; that she consumed daily enough mixed drinks to put several strong men out of business; that at theaters, restaurants and hotels she repeatedly behaved in a scandalous manner while under the influence of cocktails, highballs and champagne; that she once broke up a fashionable card party by biting her hostess in the arm and that she shocked a wedding party at St. Thomas Church by announcing that she saw "many old cats" present.

In addition to the clause involving Farnum, the answer filed by the millionaire's counsel embodied all the older allegations which he has previously made about her misconduct, with Colonel W. F. Cody (Buffalo Bill), both before and after her marriage, drunkenness, quarreling and using obscene and profane language.

Hoody Election Riots in Lisbon. Lisbon, April 6.—The elections here today, which were conducted peacefully with the exception of minor disorders in some of the disaffected districts, were followed by serious rioting, which was only put down by most vigorous action on the part of the police and troops.

The rioting broke out in different parts of the city, as though by a preconcerted plan. Troops which had been in reserve were immediately ordered into action, and they repeatedly charged the mobs that in places filled the streets, but without effect. The rioters used clubs, stones and whatever other weapon was at hand, and finally the troops were obliged to fire upon them, killing and wounding a number.

Blows Up a Schoolhouse.

Spokane, Wash., April 6.—The village schoolhouse was lifted bodily a foot from the ground and collapsed. Richard McIntyre was terribly injured and Mrs. John Utz suffered a broken leg when an acetylene gas tank exploded at Princeton, near Palouse. The annual school election was in progress and men and women were voting or preparing their ballots. A moving picture show was to be given in the schoolhouse in the evening and McIntyre, owner and operator, was preparing chemicals and placing them in the tank when the explosion occurred. Every window in the building was blown out and a stove was shattered into small bits. Every one in the building was thrown down.

Death Roll Is Thirty-six. Portsmouth, England—Thirty-six men, including Lieutenant Middleton, the commander of the torpedo-boat destroyer Tiger, lost their lives in the collision of the Isle of Wight last week between that vessel and the British cruiser Berwick. When the destroyer attempted to cross the big cruiser's bow she was caught amidships and cut in half with knife-like precision, sinking almost immediately.

FLEET'S COMING ASSURES PEACE

ADMIRAL EVANS SAYS VOYAGE WAS WELL TIMED AND OF INESTIMABLE VALUE.

Commercial War is Near and Will Be Fought With Brains and Dollars and Not Ten-Inch Guns.

San Francisco, April 6.—Admiral Robley D. Evans, in an interview last night said: "The greater interest of the United States today is in the Pacific. The coming of the fleet to this coast has not only demonstrated to the world that we have 16 battleships which can be brought together for a long cruise at a moment's notice, but it has called the attention of the people of our own country to the fact that we have a Pacific Coast as well as an Atlantic Coast, and that it will be defended just as much as every inch of land around New York, and that our interests in the Pacific are today greater than in the Atlantic.

"This is the short road to the countries of the Far East, where the greatest commercial development is to be. With development will come war, but it will be a commercial war, fought with brains and dollars and not with 10-inch guns. It will be generated by such men as Harriman, and the part of the navy is only to be always ready. We do not plan nor fight commercial battles.

A May day festa is being planned by the students of the University of Oregon. A May pole will be erected on the campus, and the usual exercises will be held. The election of a May queen is now in progress.

The County Court at Astoria has contributed $500 to the funds of the promotion committee of the Chamber of Commerce to be used for advertising purposes. Five hundred dollars has also been set aside for an exhibit at the State Fair at Salem.

The special election held in Roseburg Friday on the question of bonding the city in the sum of $35,000 for the purpose of paving and otherwise improving the streets, resulted in an overwhelming majority for the issuance of the bonds.

Clark W. Carnahan, Collector of Customs for the Port of Astoria, died at the hospital in that city Friday evening, after a few days' illness with an abscess in the ear. He was operated upon Wednesday night and never recovered consciousness.

The twelfth annual session of the Oregon conference of the United Evangelical Church, which closed on Saturday at Dallas, was a most successful one. Bishop H. B. Hartler of Harrisburg, Pa., president, and 23 ministerial and lay members of the conference were present.

The County Court at Oregon City has granted franchises for telephone mutual farmer lines to the Mount Scott Telephone Company for a line from Lents over Mount Scott to Happy Hollow and the Monitor Mutual Telephone Company for a line in road districts Nos. 27, 36 and 42.

The city bond issue of Medford for the acquisition of a water right and construction of a pipe line to conduct water to the city from Wascon Creek Spring, at the base of Mount Pitt, 18 miles distant from Medford, was voted upon Friday, resulting in a majority of 372 in favor of the issue.

The 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hull was so severely burned at the family home near Crawfordville Friday that she died soon after. The child was playing with her 4-year-old brother, when they lit a piece of paper at the stove which caught her dress on fire, resulting in serious burns.

CARNEGIE GIVES $5,000,000.

Increases Fund to Pension University Professors. New York, April 6.—Announcement has been made that Andrew Carnegie would add to the fund of the Carnegie Foundation whatever sum might be necessary to include as pension beneficiaries eligible professors of state universities.

No provision was made for this class of educators in the original gift, for the reason stated by Mr. Carnegie at the time that the donor thought it possible that such institutions might prefer that their relations should continue exclusively with the state from which their chief support was derived.

It was found that the earnings of the original fund of $10,000,000 were exhausted through the outlay already planned and that, if facilities of all state universities were to be benefited an additional $5,000,000 would be necessary. Mr. Carnegie stated that he would give the amount required.

Fasts and Climbs Mountain.

Los Angeles, April 6.—Day H. Elmore of this city, today observed the thirty-ninth day of a continuous fast by a journey on foot from Sierra Madre to the summit of Mount Wilson and return without exhibiting any injurious effects. Mr. Elmore has reduced his weight from 205 to less than 170 pounds and expects to continue fasting a few days longer.

OREGON STATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

W. W. Seales, a normal sophomore at Weston, is heir to a fortune of $106,999, this being his share of an uncle's estate.

The citizens committee of The Dalles has completed the task of raising the $50,000 requisite for the construction of a new modern hotel. Baker City's first monthly market day was a pronounced success, hundreds of farmers having brought in stock to be sold.

The postal receipts for the Chehalis office for the year closing March 31 was $12,441.39. For the preceding year they were $9,517.75.

Julian E. Epling, aged 57 years, a prominent fruitman of Hood River, died suddenly at the Mount Hood Hotel Thursday afternoon from heart failure.

The Multnomah County Masters' and Lecturers' Association was organized at Gresham on Friday, the objects to be fraternal intercourse and mutual improvement.

The Blue Ledge Copper Mines, 40 miles southwest of Jacksonville, are discharged 100 men, leaving 15 at work. This is due, it is said, to financial conditions in the East.

Incoming stages over the Bray and Pogeema lines have been carrying full loads for several weeks to Klamath Falls. Nearly all those coming in are homeseekers and looking for farming land.

A May day festa is being planned by the students of the University of Oregon. A May pole will be erected on the campus, and the usual exercises will be held. The election of a May queen is now in progress.

WONDERFUL READERS.

Macaulay's Almost Superhuman Gift For Absorbing Literature.

Here is an interesting list of the volumes read by Lord Macaulay in a period of thirteen months, during which time he was also busied with his official duties as one of the members of the supreme council of India. "I have read Aeschylus twice," he writes a friend; "Sophocles twice, Euripides once, Plautus twice, Callimachus, Apollonius Rhodius, Quintus Calaber, Theocritus twice, Herodotus, Thucydides, almost all Xenophon's works, almost all Plato, Aristotle's 'Politics' and a good deal of his 'Organon,' besides dipping elsewhere in him; the whole of 'Plutarch's Lives,' about half of Lucian, two or three books of Athenaeus, Plautus twice, Terence twice, Lucretius twice, Catullus, Tibullus, Propertius, Lucan, Statius, Silius, Italicus, Livy, Valerius Patruclus, Sallust, Caesar and lastly Cicero. I have finished a little Cicero left, but I shall finish him in a few days. I am now deep in Aristophanes and Lucian."

Manifestly Macaulay had an almost superhuman gift for reading. Trevor-Yaughan said of him: "Macaulay's extraordinary faculty of assimilating printed matter at first sight remained the same through life. To the end he read books faster than other people skimmed them and skinned them as fast as any one else would turn the leaves. And this speed was not in his case obtained at the expense of accuracy."

Balzac's ability to take in at a glance half a dozen or more lines of a page is a well known incident of literature, and the Frenchman got all the meanings and the shades of meaning from the page. Balzac was not a systematic reader and boasted that he never read a book through. But he, too, had the power of "assimilating printed matter." M. Brunetiere says that Balzac's capacity for absorbing knowledge as well as learning is not to be judged at all by the standards of ordinary men. The same principle incidentally is the sufficient answer to those who doubt that Shakespeare wrote Shakespeare because there is proof that he was never a student.

Doubtless those who have been mentioned here were exceptional readers, or rather, devourers of books. But their example is interesting not because it is exceptional, but for the reason that industry in reading is really not exceptional. The bibliographers attach to the man who is content to merely "do" the magazines. The learned person who occasionally advises that a reading of Shakespeare and the Bible "is enough" has doubtless himself read wisely.

Even a cursory survey of the subject convicts that reading and its amount depend upon one's temperament and habit and has nothing whatever to do with time—Kansas City Star.

ENGLISH RED TAP. War Office Methods and the Test of a Mountain Gun. The story that a gun of marvelous possibilities invented in England may be sold abroad owing to the apathy of the powers that be is not altogether surprising.

Whitworth refused Napoleon III's offer of $500,000 a year for life to go to Paris and manufacture his cannon for the French army, but perhaps our war office was not so fuddy then as now. Some little time ago a new gun for hill fighting was offered and was sent out to India to be tried. It was dragged up steep hills, rushed down rocky ledges, left for a week at a time in mountain torrents—in fact, submitted to all the tests which a veteran officer accustomed to war with the hill tribes could suggest.

The report was satisfactory in every respect, but a war office genius blandly asked if the gun had been dropped down a precipice. It had not.

The war office was horrified and amazed at the neglect of so elementary a test. The gun was now dropped down a precipice with the inevitable result—its internals were irremediably damaged.

How was it possible, the war office asked, to accept such a weapon? And the army of India was left to potter along with obsolete weapons because this new arm would not stand impossible tests.—London Sketch.

AWAY BELOW ZERO.

The Awful Cold That Comes With Eighty Degrees of Frost. It is difficult to form any conception of the degree of cold represented by 80 degrees of frost that at times prevails in certain parts of Russia. Sir Leopold McClintock tells us how in one of his arctic expeditions a sailor was foolish enough to do some outdoor work at precisely this temperature. His hands froze, and when he rushed into the cabin and plunged one of them into a basin of water so cold was the hand that the water was instantly converted into a block of ice.

At 25 degrees, Dr. Kane says, "the mustache and underlip form pendulous beads of dangling ice. Put out your tongue, and it instantly freezes to this icy crustling. Your chin has a trick of freezing to your upper jaw by the happy aid of your beard. My eyes have often been so glued as to show that even a wink was unsafe."

During a theatrical performance given by the crew of his ship at an inside temperature of 30 degrees "the condensation was so excessive that we could barely see the performers. Their hands steamed. When an excited Thespiann took off his coat it smoked like a dish of potatoes. Any extra vehemence of delivery was accompanied by volutes of smoke."—Pearson's Weekly.

Boying Books. A library is something more than a collection of books. An imposing array of unopened and untouched volumes does not make one. Your books should express your own individuality, says a writer in the Delimitator. Do not let any one persuade you to buy a book you know is not your kind of book. Do not be lured into buying a handsome library edition of some author that you do want if the library edition is heavy and uncomfortable to hold and your own preference is a comfortable pocket edition with flexible covers. And, above all, if you are building up a home library to which the whole family is to have free access do not choose bindings of such delicate colors or expensive texture as to destroy all the comforts of reading.
