REFUSED TO GRANT LICENSE

The city council refused to grant a license to liquor to Base & Hale at their meeting on Tuesday evening, tabling the matter indefinitely. Councilman Esteri stated in regard to the matter that the members of the council had agreed among themselves not to vote favorably upon any application for a liquor license until Mayor Reddy had appointed a successor to the present Chief of Police, Charles W. Turpin. Some weeks ago, it will be remembered, charges were preferred against Chief Turpin and he was laid to rest. The council failing to appoint a successor, Mr. Turpin was reported by Mayor Reddy.

The Mayor stated at the meeting that he had delayed the matter in order to find someone for the position who was acceptable to all of the members of the council. He then appointed R. L. Hale as chief, but the council refused to confirm the appointment. A deadlock still continues.

An ordinance providing for the payment of $25,000 to M. F. Hanley out of the $300,000 bond issue was passed. The contract for the water of the Wason Canyon was signed.

A 60 foot street was accepted from Fourth to Seventh streets between the Warner, Wortman and Orr properties.

Table Rock items.

By J. C. P.

Mrs. James Gieves, of Central Point, was visiting Table Rock relatives this week.

Miss Alice French, our teacher, spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents in Ashland.

Mrs. W. R. Hyrum and Mrs. Pondleton were shopping in Central Point and Medford Saturday.

J. G. Morrison is having a visit from his brother and family lately from Minnesota.

E. B. Hanley, of Jacksonville, accompanied by a friend from Washington, spent a day looking over some of Table Rocks' best farms last week.

The Messrs. Ethel and Esther Smith, of Sams Valley visited the school here Friday. Their many little friends were delighted to see them.

Horses Pelton, of Sams Valley, was doing business with Table Rock people one day last week. He says the ground has dried so fast of late that it is hard for man to finish their farm work, a condition affecting the whole valley.

J. W. Lawton, of Medford, was in reviewing the republicans of this section one day last week. Mr. Lawton has many old friends in this end of the valley who would be pleased to see him filling the office of county assessor.

Prof. Narregan made a trip to his Sams Valley farm the first of the week on his return took to his Eagle Point place a load of farming implements. Since Prof. has engaged in the business of farming and fruit raising he is one of the busiest men in the country.

Mrs. R. C. Washburn returned Sunday from her extended eastern trip. She was accompanied by her little niece, Virginia Sears, who is enjoying the county life and renewing acquaintances with the little folks of the neighborhood.

E. S. Hitzler returned from Tacoma Sunday, where he had been to visit his brother, who has been very ill for some time past. He left his brother on the road to recovery, but contracted a very severe cold himself while in the bound country, and was very glad to get back to dry roads and sunshine.

Dr. Rawhouser, of Central Point, is now on our local telephone line and can be called, day or night, at his residence. This may prove great convenience in case of sickness, for of late our "central" system has been almost a complete failure even in day time and at night we were cut off completely.

The record made by the Greater Norris and Rowe circus, museum, menagerie, hippodrome and congress of nations in San Francisco this spring surpassed anything that has ever taken place in the annals of the circus profession. The big show played to 279,873 paid admissions during the run of sixty consecutive performances. Surely a circus that can stay in the metropolis for such a period and play to turn away business must have merit. The big show will exhibit in this city Tuesday afternoon and night, April 25th and will be the one big circus to visit this section of the country this year. The new street parade is said to be the finest street demonstration ever made by tented exhibition, as much as it is new and novel.

Store Methods

Some people can't wait for things to come their way. They want to start a new-fangled scheme to make things come quick. They stuff chickens and milk cows by machinery, manufacture ice in summer and do all sorts of stunts to improve on time. This is the age of hurry and hustle—the hustle part is all right, but the best way is to take things easy. Give us time to get your goods out right. Flesh and blood get tired. You can't work clerks and bosses at a blowing-off point all the time. Get! they must eat and rest a little. You have to do that too. Everything takes time, and that's why if we can add five or six or ten customers a day and hold what we've got, we think we're flying. You know what a peach of a day yesterday was! I never saw so many new faces in the store since I've worked here. If we have some nice weather tomorrow, we'll sell a lot of good things. We ought to, because we've got the biggest and best stock we ever had. Had any of that California full cream cheese yet?
