Henry Bates and Fay Lane who visited San Francisco last week to see the fleet returned home Sunday. They report a good time.

Irvin McCall and Stan Aiken, two sturdy, well-to-do and old time residents of Prospect country were in Medford Tuesday on business.

E. E. Korpaugh and wife, of Grand Forks, N. D., are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tuttle, of this city. Mr. Korpaugh is connected with the Daily Herald of Grand Forks.

Arthur Brown who recently sold his ranch a few miles west of Central Point intends to visit the Willamette valley and his old home in Kansas soon. Mr. Brown disposed of his ranch to A. L. Aiken for $2,000.

E. H. Grubb, now a resident of San Francisco was in Medford Tuesday on a visit. Mr. Grubb was born near Ashland, but has not visited this section for over fifteen years. He is an old friend of James D. Fay, of the mail staff, and in the years since by they rode, ate and slept together on the cattle ranges of Eastern Oregon.

H. B. Nye, the proprietor of the Black Channel mine, was in Medford Tuesday. Just as an evidence of the richness of his mine he was showing a nugget which he picked up in the mine a few days ago which weighed $30.40. Beside running a mine—and a good one—Mr. Nye is giving part of his attention to farming and horticulture.

Volney Dixon returned last week from Modoc county, California, where he had been engaged in selling Page fence. While there he was bitten on the cheek by a poisonous insect and for several days he was apprehensive that the result might prove serious. Upon reaching Medford he was given medical and surgical treatment and is now getting along all right. While over in California he sold, in Siskiyou county, fence to that large Dankard Colony and also to the Jesse D. Carr Land and Live Stock Company.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Starr left Medford Tuesday for Portland, where they will reside in the future. Before going Mr. Starr sold his fine residence property on North Holly street, to T. J. Williamson, the consideration being $2500. He also sold his acreage property in East Medford. Those good people have been residents of Medford since a time when the city was a small village and during all these years they have made an almost innumerable number of friends—and there is not one of them who will not regret their departure and will wish them happiness and good health in their new home. They go to Portland because that the low altitude will be conducive to Mr. Starr's health.

T. A. Moore alias E. Grimes was bound over to wait the next session of the Circuit Court by Justice Stewart Wednesday on a charge of stealing an overcoat from Charles Prim and later disposing of it at a second hand store of the city. He waived examination through his attorney W. E. Phipps, and was granted bail at $150. It is alleged that Moore stole an overcoat from Charles Prim on Monday evening from where it was left hanging in the Medford saloon. He is said to have pawned the coat at a second hand store. A man who was seen in Moore's company previous to his arrest stated to the police that Moore was wanted in a certain city for murder and that there was a $3000 reward offered for his capture. As the man was drunk at the time of making the statement little credence was given the story but Sheriff Jackson is looking up the matter as requested to do so by Chief of Police Shearer.

O. R. & N. Will file answer.

Portland—W. W. Cotton, general counsel for the Harriman lines in the Northwest, has filed in the Federal Court the complaint of the O. R. & N., in a suit to enjoin the Oregon Railroad Commission from enforcing the recent order of the Commission directing a reduction in the distributive rates between Portland and points east of The Dalles.

It will be contended by Mr. Cotton that the enforcement of the rates prescribed by the Commission would be in violation of laws regulating interstate commerce and would necessitate a complete revision by the railroad company of its transcontinental rates to Eastern Oregon and also its California rates to the same territory.

Seek to Convict. Roseburg—The investigation by Postal Inspectors Riches and Clement of the method used by C. I. Leavengood in inducing people to file on O. & C. railroad land, it transpires, is not confined to Leavengood alone, but to others in this city, who have been in this line of business.

By representing that the Government would force the O. & C. Railroad Company to give up these lands to settlers at remarkably low figures, applicants are easily induced to part with their money. Hundreds of applications have been received and the operators have reaped an immense harvest.

Sells His Franchise.

Baker City—W. L. Vinson has returned from Chicago and other eastern cities, where he has been for the past two months completing the arrangement for the building of the railroad from this city to Eagle Valley. While in the East Mr. Vinson sold his franchise and interest in the road to Cincinnati capitalists, and it is expected that work on the road will be resumed in a short time. A. W. Jacobs, the engineer in charge, is to arrive here in a few days. The people of Baker County subscribed $100,000 toward the project and are anxious to see the line built. About seven miles of the road has been graded.

The Oddfellows will erect a two-story brick building in Brownsville. The Cove State bank is the title of a new institution for banking purposes at Cove. With a capital stock of $10,000. The firm was incorporated by S. G. Roese.

Home on Trial Again.

Dallas—Jesse H. Crenshaw, of Tillamook County, turned A. J. Hem-bree over to Sheriff Grant last week. Hem-bree is brought to Polk County on a charge of venue from Tillamook county, and will be tried on the charge of murdering his daughter. He was sent to the penitentiary for the murder of his wife, was pardoned by Governor Chamberlain and will now be tried for the second crime.

Plan Continuous Revival.

Pendleton—At the big stamp meeting on the Umatilla reservation, a continuous circle of evangelistic meetings was arranged, which will include every Indian reservation in the Northwest. The plan is to be placed in operation July 1, 1908, and will end one year later. The states to be covered are Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana.

First School in Oregon.

Dallas—The school picnic to be held at Rickreall, Saturday, May 16, will be in commemoration of the founding of the first school in Oregon in 1845. The first teacher was John E. Lyle, who was later one of the principal promoters in the founding of La Creole Academy, which took place in 1863.

Taft Men Will Be in Control.

Portland—Three-fourths of the delegates in the Republican state convention of Oregon this week will favor the nomination of Taft for President. Under the circumstances, instruction of the Oregon delegates in the National Convention for Taft is likely.
