GRANITE LANDS MAKE THE BEST GARDENS

Wilfred Harris, a native of England, who came to America some three years ago and has been a resident of West Grants Pass for the past two years, was the first to market green pears last season and again this season. He brought in the first ones the 20th of May this season. He started his garden two years ago on purely granite soil. He has recently decided to go into gardening on a larger scale—his vocation in the mother country—and after the two last seasons here is fully convinced that granite gives far the best results.

Mr. Harris, as well as others who have been here longer, say that the granite soil gets warm earlier in the season and will therefore produce an earlier garden than the other soils. Another point in favor of the granite is that it will produce a large crop of vegetables, strawberries and other small fruits where some of the other soils would have to be irrigated. As evidence of his claims, Mr. Harris has pea vines in his granite garden four feet tall at the present time.

Those who have inclined to the opinion that the granite soil is worthless will do well to take notice of Mr. Harris' garden. A small investment in the same kind of soil will bring them handsome returns either as an investment or in an increase in the value of the land within a few years.—Rogue River Courier.

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING

Now people are wondering what it is going to cost to keep the water-wagon in repair.

General George H. Williams will make the seconding speech for Taft at the Chicago convention. It is very appropriate and it will be very well done.

Peary offers to find the North Pole for $50,000. At the prevailing price of lumber it would pay the price to put up the money and let him bring the old pole down to the sawmill belt.

A number of Astorians propose to organize a company of the Oregon National Guard. Presumably the first gun as a result of the late election in the matter of the army bit appropriation.

The fellows who were compelled to seek assistance in filling out their tickets Monday invariably insisted on voting against woman's suffrage on the ground that the fair sex was not competent to vote.

The sound business policy which is followed by the local banks has again been noticed in a signal manner by the United States government in the creating of a national depository in one of them. And they went through the recent financial flurry in a way that reflects credit upon the men conducting them.

Between 1887 and 1907 the business of the country as shown by the bank clearings increased from $52,126,704,480 to $154,662,515,258. Deposits in banking institutions increased from $4,208,519,750 during the same period to $12,948,563,123. It is the contemplation of this vast expansion of trade and banking business, and the relatively small sums lost through default or bad management, which inclines men to believe that the world is not growing worse, as some pessimists would have us believe it is.

FATHER OF LOCAL MAN KILLED

(From Tuesday's Daily.)
E. C. Boeck of this city received a telegram yesterday evening from Chester City, Ia., conveying to him the sad news of the death of his father, C. R. Boeck, 84 years of age, who was killed in that city Sunday by a tornado.

The story is that a tornado struck that city Sunday afternoon about 3 o'clock, demolished about 200 dwellings and barns. Mr. Boeck was the only grown person killed, but four children were reported missing. The path of the tornado was about ten rods wide. It struck the city in the southwestern part, crossed the river at a point a quarter mile east of the bridge on the main street and lifted the water almost clean from the river bed. It passed in a northerly direction, just missing the Charles City college buildings, and spent itself a few miles northeast of the city.

CHINESE BUILD RAILWAY OF THEIR OWN

An Americanized Chinaman, Chin Gee Hee, is the projector, president and engineer-in-chief of a railroad which has recently been opened in the Hong Kong Interland. The road, which was built almost entirely by Chinese capital and labor, will eventually be 40 miles long and will connect Samkuphot and Sunning, from the last-named place extending to Kung Yick, a newly opened port. The capital of the company is $2,660,000, of which $2,000,000 was subscribed by Chinese resident in America and the remainder by merchants of Hongkong. The embarkment of the whole line was completed in seven months, and the part opened in January comprises 17 miles. Of the six locomotives used four were purchased in the United States, the others coming from Germany.

The president says that his chief difficulty in building the road was in overcoming the obstinacy of the natives, who opposed the work on the ground that the smoke from the locomotives would ruin their crops. The women of one locality offered him personal violence, and other attempts on his life had to be repelled by a military guard. Mr. Chin, who is one of the best-known Chinese merchants on the Pacific coast, receives the magnificent salary of $80 a month from the railroad company. He relinquished an income of $3500 a year to undertake the work which he is so successfully carrying out in China.

MANY CONDITIONS PULL DOWN HOP CROP

That there will be a very short crop of hops in Oregon as well as in California and Washington this season is now believed by all interests. Reports from Willamette valley yards during the past week indicate that those yards which were receiving the best cultivation will not harvest over 75 per cent of a crop, and many will not give that much. This, coupled with the acreage plowed up and others left without stringing, means that unless something unforeseen at the moment happens Oregon will not produce more than 90,000 or 100,000 bales this season. However, even this amount is that many bales too many for the good of the price.

He finds a ready local sale for all the lumber he can put out.

Telluride Ore on Canyon Creek.

There are a bunch of mines being developed on Canyon creek, about ten miles west of Kerby, that promise big. The ore is telluride and almost identical with that of Cripple Creek. Assays of sample run from $200 to $6000 to the ton. Samples assayed at Spokane gave value of $8000 to the ton. A sample assayed here by G. H. Binns produced at the rate of $4000, and a later specimen yielded at the rate of $2000.

These samples were from mines owned by a Mr. McPherson and others. They are comparatively new properties, and until recently very little work was done on them. The ore vein runs from one to three feet in width, and the telluride is stratified through the vein. The sample brought here last week came from a depth of 75 feet, and from the surface to that depth the ore carries the values stated. An experienced mining man of Grants Pass who has examined the prospects is very enthusiastic regarding the property, and is confident that it will develop mines of high value.—Gold Hill News.

WILL MAKE A TEST OF ROGUE RIVER VALLEY LIME

We have received a request from Professor Cordley of the Oregon Agricultural college for samples of Gold Hill lime for the purpose of testing it and comparing it with other limes for use in spraying compounds. It is claimed that the Rogue river lime is stronger and of better quality than Roache Harbor or Eastern limes, and if this can be so proven, a great market can be opened for this product from Gold Hill. If parties who are burning lime will bring samples to this office, about two pounds of each, we will ship them to the college at Corvallis, where the tests can be made. If the tests prove satisfactory it will prove a great advertisement for our community, as well as a paying prospect. We will gladly attend to the shipping of any samples that will be brought in.—Gold Hill News.

STRAWBERRIES ARE SCARCE.

Strawberries were scarce all through the past week owing to cool weather and rains both here and in California. However, at the close of the week it appears likely as if the Oregon berry will take entire control of the market next week for arrivals promise to be very liberal. Because of the scarcity during the week the market showed extremely high values.

The old style of DOUBLE SIGHT glasses do not look as well, and there is always a dirty line separating the far sight from the near. The BI-SIGHT BIFOCAL is ground from ONE piece of glass. The difference between the two is illustrated in the cut below. There is no piece simply cemented on to the main glass to work loose in a few months, and when you wipe them they are clean, and no one knows that you are old enough to be compelled to wear double-sight glasses, because they cannot tell them from the kind of glasses worn by young people.

Bi-sight Bifocals are the nearest to one's natural sight of any glass made today. The patent on these bi-sight bifocal glasses was issued August 6, 1906, so they are the newest and most up-to-date glass obtainable.

Fitted and sold by Dr. J. G. Goble, Medford.

The new style. There is no dividing line. The old style bifocal. Notice dividing line. Samples to be seen at Dr. Goble's Optical Parlor.
