SUBSCRIPTION $1.50 a Year

Entered in the postoffice at Medford, Oregon as second class mail matter.

In its news columns on Saturday evening, the Tribune says "It will probably take a year or more to secure a decision from the Supreme court." In this case the wish is father to the thought, questions in which the general public are interested may be expedited in the Supreme court by being placed on the docket ahead of ordinary civil cases.

Annually with the recurrence of summer and the gathering of the pioneers of Oregon for their reunion, comes the thought that those men and women who have helped to make this section the great country it now is, are rapidly diminishing in numbers. With the passing of the years the familiar faces of those who crossed the plains and endured the hardships and privations of frontier life, are not seen so often. It is but right that the pioneers should be recognized and given their just due. We know that through their efforts Oregon has become the great country that it is. They are the original boosters. We honor the pioneers of Oregon for what they have done and are even yet doing to uphold this state.

The Republican convention at Chicago did what it was expected to do, barring a stampede to Roosevelt by nominating W. H. Taft as the candidate of the Republican party for the presidency. It is now up to the people, and especially to those who believe in the principles of the Republican party, and who indorse the policies of that organization as promulgated by McKinley and by Roosevelt to back up the action of the convention by the election of William H. Taft, as president of the United States. Mr. Taft has had a long and varied experience in public life and in positions requiring executive force—and he never has been found wanting. Time and again he has been sent out on the firing line of administrative and diplomatic battles and he has yet to come back without honor. He is a man of forceful personality, calm and level-headed in emergencies, and will be a worthy successor to the man who now occupies the executive chair.

formerly receiver of the land office at Roseburg, was completed this afternoon in the United States District court. At that point a formal announcement of the death of former President Grover Cleveland was made to the court and an adjournment was taken until tomorrow as a mark of respect to his memory.

Booth is accused by the government of having accepted money for giving advance information regarding the throwing open to entry of public lands in his district.

Change in Plans.

(Associated Press Dispatch.) OYSTER BAY, L. I., June 24.—A radical change in the program resulted from the death of Ex-President Cleveland today. The president will not go to New London to witness the boat races. The president and Mrs. Roosevelt will go to Princeton Friday on a special train to attend the funeral. A beautiful floral wreath was ordered to be sent to Princeton to be placed on the bier of the ex-president.

The Persian Troubles.

(Associated Press Dispatch.) WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.—It was learned at the Persian legation today that the city of Teheran has been placed in a state of siege by royal edict.

BERLIN, June 24.—Lokal Anzeigers' Teheran correspondent says that heavy rifle firing was commencing again this afternoon, but there was little opposition on the part of the people to the troops.

North Dakota Primaries.

(Associated Press Dispatch.) ST. PAUL, Minn., June 24.—Specials to the Pioneer Press state that the returns tonight indicate that Senator Hansbator has been defeated in the North Dakota primaries and C. B. Little (Stewart) and T. E. Marshall (Insurgent), will be the two high men in the race.

Eleven Jurors Secured. (Associated Press Dispatch.) WALLA WALLA, Wash., June 24.—Eleven jurors were secured today for the second trial of Bud Barnes, accused of the murder of Mrs. Aldrich. Seventy-six talesmen were examined.

Wanted.

Experienced man with A-1 reference wants position as overseer of an orchard. Address, CHAS. DARBY, Medford Ore.

SHERMAN IS BETTER.

(Associated Press Dispatch.) CLEVELAND, O., June 24.—Congressman Sherman rested more comfortably today. Attending physicians are of the opinion that the necessity for an immediate operation has passed. It is expected that Sherman will be able to leave the hospital before next Sunday.

Circuit Court Proceedings.

E. B. Hanley vs. W. H. Stewart et al.—Set for trial June 26.

Gertrude O. Young vs. Alexander J. Young—Default taken and decree granted.

Roosevelt in New London.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., June 24.—The Roosevelt family left this afternoon on the Mayflower for New London, where they will transfer to the Slyph to view the boat races tomorrow. They will return home on Thursday night.

WANTED—10 or 20 acres, improved, close in; give description, price and terms; prefer to deal with owners. Address E. H. Bliss, box 856, Medford. 26-11

Orchard is in fine shape.

Fred Lundahl, superintendent of the Western Oregon Orchard company, being interviewed by a representative of The Morning Mail, took occasion to state that the orchards of this company now looking fine and that the young trees were doing especially well.

This company has 900 acres of land set to fruit—40,000 trees. Mr. Lundahl stated that those trees upon which he was using a commercial fertilizer were responding very noticeably to the added nourishment. Mr. Lundahl also stated that he had discovered a preventative against injury to young trees by borers, ticks, mites and all the different insects which cause more or less trouble. The custom has always been to bind the trees with a stiff paper, but Mr. Lundahl has found that a liquid compound which has long been in use in Germany is equally as effective here. He had read of the preventative and made an experimental test and found it an absolute preventative from the ravages of all insects. As before stated, it is a liquid and is applied with a brush or cloth, to the trunks of the trees from the ground to as high as there would be danger of attack. He claims to have thus treated all the company's trees, and so far has found it to be very satisfactory, no injury having been done the trees, and only 12 gallons of the liquid used on the entire orchard. He cannot, he says, be absolutely sure as to its being a preventative against borers until in August, at which time these insects commence their onslaughts. However, inasmuch as the borer egg is deposited on the trunk of the tree and near the ground earlier in the season, he sees no reason why the preparation he uses would not keep off the insect which deposits these eggs.

When applied to the trees it has a gummy appearance and even after it has been applied it still remains in the same gummy condition and does not wash off from rains.

If this proves to be all that Mr. Lundahl claims for it, its use generally will prove a great saving to the orchard men of the valley, as the wrapping of trees, as is now done, is a great expense.

"The people do certainly read 'The Morning Mail,'" said Fred Lundahl Monday morning, "as I found to my certain knowledge. That article you published Sunday morning about my experiments with borers was evidently interesting from the number of inquiries I have had from orchard men as to the nature of the compound I used, so I thought I would drop in and tell you the benefit of the people at large. The compound is avarinus carbolinium and is manufactured in Germany, where it is extensively used for the purpose for which I used it. I had known of the preparation for some time, but had never thought to use it, as in insecticide, but it certainly did the work. As soon as it was applied to the trees you could see the worms begin leaving their happy homes. They stood not on the order of their going, either; they just got up and traveled. Another thing I noticed is that the carbolinium prevents rabbits from attacking the young trees. I noticed on several occasions rabbits approach a tree, get a sniff of the stuff and back off like he had touched something hot. Then he would try another, but with a like result, until finally he would become disgusted and look for his supper somewhere else. The use of this preparation will be a large saving of expense to orchardists. Not only will it stop the ravages of insects, but will also do away with the necessity of protecting the young trees with covers, as is now done. I have been also trying another experiment and that is using a small amount of fertilizer on young trees planted in new ground; that is, around not heretofore cultivated, and the result is more than pleasing. The trees have taken a vigorous, healthy growth and have a good start already."

BAPTISTS MEET.

The Rogue River Baptist Association at Central Point.

What is proving to be the best meeting ever held in the history of the Baptists of the Rogue River valley is now in progress at Central Point. Delegates from all the churches but Williams Creek and Selma are in attendance. Baptists from the church of this city have been largely in attendance. Yesterday a large load went up and spent the day.

The forenoon yesterday was devoted to prayer. No addresses were given and no visible leader was in charge. The afternoon was devoted to a session in charge of the ladies. A paper, "Sunlight Mission Among the Hope Indians," written by Mrs. G. G. Shirley of Medford, was read by Mrs. Bowling of Medford. "Our Country," a paper prepared by Miss Alice Tiekell of Medford was read by Mrs. S. L. Bennett. The paper was interspersed by the verses of a solo rendered by Mrs. Tozier. "The Story of the Missionary Dollar" was read by Miss Crane of Grants Pass. She said: "Some figure out that it takes 99 cents of every dollar in administration to carry 10 cents to the foreign field, but it has been estimated by Dr. Mable that only 10 to 15 cents of every dollar is used in administration purposes." Other parts of the program were well taken by Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Kent of Medford and Mrs. Holmes of Ashland.

Prominent field workers from abroad are Rev. F. E. Dark, Pacific Coast representative for the Steward committee; Rev. M. M. Bledsoe, pastor to rat large for Oregon; Miss Carrie O. Millsbaugh, district secretary for the Woman's Missionary society; Rev. W. H. Wherry of Colporten wagon No. 23, and Rev. C. H. McKee of Colporten wagon No. 41.

H. C. Garnett of this city was elected as moderator and is filling the office as only he can. The association has received reports from all the churches but three. Those who have reported show an increase

Wedding.

On June 22 at 8 o'clock occurred the marriage of Miss Estella M. Stinson to Stanley Taylor. The wedding was at the home of the bride's parents, west of the city of Medford, in the presence of the family. In the absence of her pastor, Rev. G. Leffoy Hall, Rev. F. C. Lovett of Grants Pass performed the ceremony. Miss Stinson is well known and is held in equally high esteem. Mr. Taylor is the son of the Josephine county treasurer and operates a creamery in Provolet. The young couple departed on the evening train for Grants Pass and Luene to Provolet. Many friends in both cities would have shown their interest had they been aware of the event.

Closing Exercises.

The closing exercises of St. Mary's academy at Jacksonville were held on Friday afternoon. An interesting musical and literary program was rendered in a manner which reflected great credit on both teachers and pupils. The display of fine needlework done by the pupils was very fine and showed that there were many pupils in this year's classes who were real artists with the needle. Among the out-of-town people who attended the closing exercises were: Miss L. Julien, Yreka; Misses Arminta, Emily and Lillian Kaiser and E. J. Kaiser of Ashland; Ed Layton, Miss Amy Layton, Grants Pass; Mrs. W. S. Jones, Miss Maude Jones, Mrs. J. Kime, Miss Gladys Kime, Medford, and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Smock, Holland, Or.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS.

Rev. John Fletcher and his stepdaughter, Mrs. Sam Bruce, of the unsurveyed country, came out last Monday, remaining over night. Mr. Purdy, a brother of Dr. Holt's wife, arrived here on Monday last week. He is at present a resident of Ashland and is interested in the selling of lumber for a company in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrigan of Marshfield, in company of William Greeves and wife, were visitors Monday night. Mr. Harrigan is in the hardware business in Marshfield and he and his wife have been the guests of William Greeves and wife for the last few weeks. They think this is a grand country that we live in.
