

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING

Robbery, as well as murder, will out.

Most campaign poetry is bad. This year it's worse.

The royal Morocco shoe seems to be on the other foot.

However, a snake in the pillow is better than one in the boot.

In these modern days the "raging of the dog star" is not taken seriously.

The New York stock exchange is also friendly to the limelight.

Not exactly a "brainstorm" in the circus case; just emotional, nervous prostration.

The Chicago Record-Herald does not believe the sheath gown buttons up the back.

This year the "glad hand" is the one outstretched to receive campaign contributions.

Professor Lichtenberg seems to think Vesuvius more easily quenched than a cultivated thirst.

Oklahoma will not be truly happy until her constitution has been declared the national anthem.

The tail of the Tammany tiger is wagging so fast for Bryan that it may not need Croker's help.

Anyhow, canned speeches will not add to the labors of the men who are trying to enforce the pure food law.

Massachusetts failed to pull off a hatching bee. Imitative—but she couldn't get ahead of Illinois.

John W. Gates thinks that congress isn't anything to bet on if Uncle Joe Cannon is in charge.

Kansas is now howling about the gas business. It is a wonder the gas holds out for her to howl.

The expelled bazers will now have plenty of time in which to learn all they care to about the ant and its habits.

It is hoped that the lone highwayman who robbed seven stages in the west didn't capture a campaign contribution box.

From Chicago comes the news that 100 Pullman porters are working for Bryan. Now the campaign fund may grow.

In the work of making the homes of the farmers brighter the Standard Oil company could do its share by reducing the price of oil.

The Richmond Times-Dispatch says Kansas is "the heaven of the hog." Does it mean the fellow who gets all the offices?

It will surprise a good many people if Springfield, Ill., is officially found guilty of anything more than disorderly conduct.

As soon as the oyster returns, a good many folks will lose that grouchy feeling they have been troubled with all summer.

When a man declines to knock those who have wealth, it's a sign that he expects to inherit some money one of these days.

The debate on "Shall the people rule?" will warm up after somebody has been induced to take the negative side of the question.

Mrs. Jack Gardner's opinion of the tariff law, if put in writing, would probably be as long as Mr. Taft's acceptance speech.

The Altoona man who was cured of deafness by a stroke of lightning can now hear his friends every time they touch him for a loan.

John D. Rockefeller's pastor says this is the best world he ever was in. A fat salary always does make a man feel like that, we notice.

Lillian Russell's numerous ex-husbands must have been shocked the other day by her declaration that she is in love for the first time in her life.

If that Michigan man who is running for office "against his will" fails to get the office, there'll be a job waiting for him in a dime museum.

A day on the planet Jupiter is said to be as long as 50,000 days on the earth. A two weeks' vacation with full pay on Jupiter must be worth while.

Penniless Chicago is bound to see the world less bright than it was a few brief months ago, but business at the stockyards will go on as usual.

According to a fashion authority, waists that button in the back will soon be out of fashion. After that, fewer husbands will be out of patience.

Chairman Mack claims victory already. He is to be congratulated upon possession of information at so early a date. But why continue the campaign?

Now that the interior of the stomach can be photographed, it will be useless for men to imagine they can deceive their wives with a cloven broom.

If Prince Kitel can't keep down his weight by wood-sawing alone the barber might let the young man eat the family supply of sauerkraut in addition.

While Mr. Taft promises immediate revision of the tariff, Mr. Bryan promises to "gradually" wipe it out and substitute an income tax.

Bakers in convention have proposed a new form for the pretzel. All right; but no approach in resemblance to a coiled serpent, mind you!

Then, again, a good many Democrats may be hanging back, with their campaign contributions because they half expect that theirs is tainted money.

The St. Louis surgeons who amputated a man's memory probably rendered their bill in the presence of witnesses before beginning the operation.

If Mr. Kern adds another defeat to his list in November he may conclude that his sister displayed rare wisdom when she advised him to quit politics.

One of these days it will occur to the insurance companies that it might be a good idea to reject the applications of people who are too fond of mushrooms.

The selection of Elihu Root for temporary chairman of the New York Republican state convention explains why he took a second course at Muldoon's reformatory.

A Muncie, Ind., man punched his sweetheart in the face and broke her jaw. Now she will probably consider it her duty to marry the man in order to reform him.

Hundreds of men are being added to the forces in the mills every few days, and thus good old General Prosperity is coming into command of his invincible army.

A Goldfield miner has left his entire fortune to a girl who filleted him four years ago. And all this time she was probably under the impression that she had hurt his feelings.

The society for the suppression of useless noises will have to grow more powerful before it can hope to deal with the man who repeats all the cute sayings of his children.

A Philadelphia woman has expressed regret that she hit a man on the head with an ax. If the man is still living his expression of regret will doubtless be even stronger than hers.

"We smoked 55,000,000,000 cigarettes last year. What does that prove?" asks the New York Mail. It proves that the Mail has a stronger constitution than we ever gave it credit for.

Mr. Hagen has the satisfaction of knowing that when he gets through running for president he can go back to his business and find that the demand for axle grease has not fallen off a bit.

One physician maintains that only a monomaniac can think of one subject continuously for five minutes. What does he think of a man who can think of the presidency for twelve years?

While Carrie Nation is trying to regulate fashions for women she should be careful to not let the advanced mother-in-law have one of her keen-edged little hatchets.

John D. Rockefeller's letter to the press humorists is calculated to impress them with his great ability. He seems to have mastered their trade in a very limited apprenticeship.

A judge of the district court in the Panama canal zone states that he at one time married 46 couples in 45 minutes. Which again shows that a great deal of trouble can be made in a very little time.

John D. Rockefeller, the celebrated author, is making good time on his autobiography; but he has not yet arrived at the chapter where he is to present the loving-cup to Judge Grosscup.

Japan has postponed its great international exposition to 1917. Whether on account of its financial condition, or for other reasons, is not stated. But the postponement is an evidence of wisdom.

What with Governor Stuart, Senator Knox, Nicholas Longworth, General McAlpin, Candidate Sherman and the rest of them, that Republican meeting at Wilkesbarre September 16 will truly present an all-star attraction.

That is a most pathetic case of the woman charged with leading the Springfield mob. But it is not of a nature to incite reasonable persons to further violence. On the contrary, it is but a fresh illustration of the evil of ignoring the law.

The Charleston News and Courier remarks that the financial depression has not kept the people away from the summer resorts. In a very short time, though, it is likely to send a good many people home from there—Exchange.

Professor Lichtenberg may be sincere in his belief that he can drown the fires of Vesuvius, but has he calculated the force of the superheated steam that he would generate? As a first experiment he might try sweeping back the waves of the ocean with a broom.—Exchange.

C. E. Eddy of Goldfield, Nev., dropped into Medford yesterday. Mr. Eddy is a prospector and newspaper man—and when best known is the "poet-pro prospector." He is a native of Douglas county, this state, but has been "scattered" from that section for nearly 20 years. His home was formerly at Myrtle Creek, to which place he is now en route.

The Medford Electric Cleaning company has leased a room on South G street and will move its works thereto. This location is just north from D. G. Karnes' residence, and opposite the West Side Livery stables. This company has been engaged in this business in Medford for several months and have given entire satisfaction, so satisfactory, in fact, has been the work that an immense trade has been built up.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Petree arrived Friday last from their home at Lakeview, Or. John Metzker, an aged gentleman, came in with them and took the train Saturday for Portland. Sunday Mr. Petree's brother James, whom he had not seen for several years, arrived from Roseburg, and will accompany his brother back home, where he will look after some property interests which he owns in Lake county. Mr. Petree will load up with Rogue river peaches to dispose of to his neighbors.

They Take the Kinks Out.

"I have used Dr. King's New Life Pills for many years, with increasing satisfaction. They take the kinks out of stomach, liver and bowels, without fuss or friction," says N. H. Brown, of Pittsfield, Vt. Guaranteed satisfactory at Chas. Strang's drug store. 25c.

STILL AFTER THAW.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Aug. 29.—Thaw denies unqualifiedly the report that he intends bringing a suit for divorce against Evelyn Thaw. He stated he knew she was not contemplating proceedings for a separation.

John C. Gleason, a New York lawyer, has sued Harry K. Thaw for $40,000 for counsel fees. The papers were served on Thaw today.

NEWS OF THE STATE

George Nolan took the oath of office as circuit judge at Klamath Falls yesterday before Judge H. L. Benson, whose resignation was made effective September 1.

A switch engine in the yards at Myrtle Creek cut off the arm of Lauretta Hoover, 2-year-old daughter of Frank Hoover, section foreman there. The gate was left open and the child strayed onto the tracks.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Williams, who reside about half a mile east of Drewsey, was drowned while playing on the bridge which crosses the big irrigation ditch a short distance from the house.

Jacob Buhler, the 10-year-old son of A. Buhler, a German farmer residing near Dallas, was painfully injured while attempting to untie a horse, and it was found necessary to amputate three of the fingers on the left hand.

C. J. O'Reilly of Baker City paid Condon a visit yesterday and in the course of a sermon made a fervent appeal to the congregation for funds to complete the Sisters' school, now in course of construction. Fifteen thousand dollars was raised.

E. G. Speck, bartender at the Hotel Scott, Portland, was held up and robbed yesterday morning at East Seventh and Brunsdale streets by two men, both of whom thrust revolvers in his face. They secured $5.40 and a gold watch by the robbery.

Acting in compliance with a request received today from the Law and Order league of Prineville, Mayor Wurzwiler instructed the city marshal to notify all inmates of the redlight district here to leave town on or before September 1.

Dan Shannon, famous as an evangelist of the Billy Sunday type, is going to Oregon City Sunday, October 18, for a series of revival meetings in the First Baptist church. He comes from Stanwood, Mich., and is accompanied by his wife, who is a Gospel singer.

The Astoria water commission, at its meeting, engaged Engineer Kelley of Portland to prepare plans and specifications for the construction of a 20,000,000-gallon reinforced concrete high service reservoir on the site recently purchased inside the city limits.

H. J. Moore & Son, owners of a large prune orchard in Benton county, near Albany, have submitted a proposition to the Albany Commercial club to establish a large fruit cannery in Albany. If given a site, they will erect, equip and operate a big plant.

Mrs. Nora Moore of St. Johns, came to Portland last evening with Miss Beatrice Miller and has not been seen since. A five weeks' old baby is crying for its mother, and her parents are sure she would not abandon the baby under any circumstances. Her disappearance is a mystery.

The run of salmon in the harbor at Aberdeen has thus far been slow. The fresh fish dealers are paying 60 cents, while the canneries are paying 50 cents. Many Columbia river men have come to the harbor and more are expected, the Columbia river season having closed.

Charles Christie, a lad of 16 years, was shot and probably fatally wounded by a companion of about the same age, while out hunting near Wonder. The boys had separated and Christie had stopped to examine some deer tracks, and upon rising his companion shot him, thinking he was a deer.

Mrs. John Dorcas, aged 53 years, died at the Salem hospital. Mrs. Dorcas was the mother of George and Charles Dorcas, of the firm of Dorcas Bros., hop dealers, and of Ralph Dorcas, a commercial traveler, besides several daughters. Mr. Dorcas, husband of the deceased, is proprietor of the leading hotel at McMinnville.

Mrs. William Ward and her sister, Miss Grills, were injured in an automobile accident at Marshfield. Mrs. Ward was running a large automobile in which were three other women, in the south part of the city. The automobile ran off the elevated board street, and Mrs. Ward and her sister were both thrown out and badly bruised.

Contract has been awarded to W. H. Mason of Klamath Falls for the extension of the south branch canal of the Klamath irrigation project. The work consists of the construction of about seven miles of canal, involving the excavation and embanking of about 112,000 cubic yards of material. Mason's bid amounted to $22,703.

Correct Glasses Correctly Fitted

Notice the difference in the way the rays of light pass through the OLD style lens and the new TORIC glass.

When looking through the TORIC lens you get the same vision clear out to the edge of the glass, in all directions, that you do ONLY through the center of the old-style of lens, thus giving you more freedom of vision without the strain upon the Rectus muscles, which constantly occurs when wearing the old-style glasses.

With the old-style before the eye you see like this.

With the new TORIC lens you get the same results at all angles without turning your head that you do directly through the center of the old style.

Dr. Goble makes a special of the above lenses; also fits the I-SIGHT bi-focal, ground from ONE piece of glass. Optical Parlor in Perry's Warehouse, Seventh Street, Medford.

Your Paint—and Your Painter's Paint

If you employ a modern progressive painter, you will find that he is just as much interested in economy in the use of paint, and in the beauty and wearing quality of the paint after it is applied, as you are. For the houses he has painted that show paint-quality as well as painter-workmanship are his best advertisements.

The modern painter has neither time nor desire to mix his own paints. He will quickly agree with you that

Lowe Brothers "High Standard" Paint

Gives Best Results

—because it contains just the materials required for perfect paint efficiency, mixed and ground by powerful, perfectly adjusted machinery, until there is a perfect union of solids and liquids—more particles to the gallon than any other paint.

This means greatest covering power, spreading capacity, beauty, wearing quality, economy. "HIGH STANDARD" PAINT is sealed in air-tight cans—always fresh and good.

The Lowe Brothers line supplies every paint- and varnish-needed.
