

STRINGTOWN ITEMS.

(By M. O. C.)

Dr. Frank Roberts of Medford was a visitor at the home of his father, George Roberts, Sunday.

E. O. Rense came down on Saturday to visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Carey, returning Sunday.

George McClain is quite busy these fine warm days, painting several houses in Phoenix, among them one for Jack Wright.

Jeff Devinsky, an old-time Phoenix lad, and brother of Mrs. Collis Stedman, returned from the mines in California this week and will visit with home folks for a while.

A great deal of fall grain is being sown just now in this part of the valley, as the rain has put the soil in fine condition to plow, and every one is taking advantage of the good weather.

The hum of the Weeks furniture mill can be heard again this week. It has required a great deal of labor and expense to put the dam and ditch and flumes in shape for the winter's run. But they have plenty of work on hand.

Misses Mary and Lettie Standliff and Effie Wise are packing apples at the Burrell orchard this week. Mr. Burrell is only packing a few small orders as yet. Most of the orchard men are waiting for the winter's demand and consequent better prices.

Almost the entire population of this little town was in attendance at the comedy given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellis, under the auspices of the Woodmen of the World in Phoenix. Every one was well pleased. Besides, a neat little sum was realized by the camp.

Died—In Phoenix, November 5, of dropsy, Herman Wright, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wright. The little fellow has been a great sufferer for the past three years. His parents took him to Portland over a year ago, where he underwent an operation. But all that medical skill could do was of no avail. He was aged 8 years.

NORTH MEDFORD NOTES.

(By J. G. Martin.)

Miss Emma Grimes, one of Medford's fair young ladies, has accepted a lucrative position in Dunsmuir, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Moore of Woodville is paying Mrs. Moore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Buck, of North Medford, a brief visit.

Br. and Mrs. Dresser of North Medford were happily surprised Sunday from an unexpected visit from their son, T. A. Harra of Washington, but late of Eugene.

H. W. Grimes, the carpenter, of North D street, has returned to his home from his contract of building Sam McClenden's beautiful residence at Gold Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Mackrille of Washington, D. C., stopped off from No. 15 yesterday. They have been looking over Idaho and Washington and have stopped at several points between here and Portland. They are hunting a place to make their home and are greatly pleased with the looks of this valley and city.

W. M. Floyd and family of Los Angeles, Cal., arrived in the city yesterday. Mr. Floyd recently bought the Purdin property, corner Sixth and Bartlett streets, from Mr. Schutte. They have been spending the past six weeks visiting in the states of Illinois, Washington and Colorado, and are now here with a view of remaining.

Messrs. H. D. and F. C. Edmeads, recent arrivals in Medford from Greenburg, Ind., have leased what is now the Hotel Moore dining room and between the middle of December and the first of January will open a boot and shoe store therein. These gentlemen are experienced men in this line of business and they expect to carry a large stock.

Street-paving work took a rest yesterday, owing to the fact that the supply of fine rock for use in the top dressing was temporarily exhausted.

The contractors have had all kinds of hard luck in getting out rock at the quarry. The opening of a new quarry is always a slow and tedious job and not even at this time has the company gotten it in shape so that sufficient room is given for both crushers to work advantageously. Another cause of delay was the breaking of one of the crushers. This, however, is now at work, and with the two crushers working night and day it is expected there will be but little delay in the progress of the work—if, if the weather keeps good.

(From Thursday's Daily.)
