H. G. Stockman, an assistant engineer on the Union Pacific, is here visiting J. P. Butler and looking over the valley.

W. M. Arrant and family arrived yesterday from Fresno, California. They came expecting to locate hereabouts.

Zack Maxey went up to his Butte Creek homestead ranch yesterday. He is expecting to remain several weeks.

Joe Russell, sheriff of Josephine county, went south yesterday on No. 13 on business connected with his office.

M. A. Fleming, an attorney from Los Angeles, is in the city. Mr. Fleming is thinking of locating in our midst.

Dr. J. K. Reader, W. W. Newlen, C. B. Watson and G. F. Billings of Ashland were visitors in this city yesterday.

Mrs. L. G. Porter and daughter, Miss Lulu, son Harry and Miss Lues Hoyt, left yesterday for a several days' visit at Corvallis.

Mrs. J. E. Jennings of Fargo, North Dakota, was in Medford a couple of days this week, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Davis.

Mrs. J. H. Fitzgerald went up to Talent yesterday to attend the funeral of Mr. Torry, who was killed by a saw the first of the week.

E. J. Keizer passed through yesterday on No. 15, returning to his home at Ashland from a several days' visit at Portland and other northern points.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Helms of Superior, Nebraska, are visiting at the home of O. B. Lundy, corner of Eleventh and L streets. Mr. Helms is here looking over the ground with a view to investing, should he find any property to his liking.

R. E. Haybal, the man arrested a few days since for immoral conduct, yesterday waived an examination before Justice Canon and was placed under a bond of $1000 for his appearance before the Circuit court. In default of bond he was committed to jail. The other parties will be given a hearing later.

The Oregon Granite company is having a large derrick built near the Big Pines Lumber company's retail yards, and near a side track, for the purpose of loading onto cars some of the large pieces of monumental work which the company is shipping to various parts of Northern California and Southern Oregon.

Another of those pieces of furniture that "grow" may be found in the home of Ed X. Anderson in East Medford. It is a light stand made of willow and varnished several months ago. Sprouts have grown on it and are still growing, being now over 2 1/2 inches long. We grow furniture here as well as fruit and vegetables.

John O'Brien, who has been about town for several weeks, most of the time in a partially intoxicated condition, was in police but forcible language requested by Chief of Police Shearer to seek other locations, if as seemed to be the case he must persist in making himself obnoxious to decent citizens. He went on No. 16 yesterday.

(From Friday's Daily.)

A. E. Reames and Colonel Mundy went to Portland yesterday on business.

Professor O'Gara is expected back this evening from a trip up the Rogue river.

Otis Phillips and family left yesterday for Echo, Oregon, where they will likely locate.

Be sure to come to the ice-cream social at the Christian church Friday night. Price for ice cream and cake, 15 cents.

Cusick & Myers, with their families, returned yesterday from a few days at Coletine. All are feeling much better after their vacation.

Three carloads of heavy steel hydraulic pipe of three different diameters is at the depot here for the Condor Water & Power people.

M. L. Erickson, supervisor of the government forestry service, has gone to Hyatt Prairie to adjust grazing matters between sheep and cattle men.

Miss Estentia Achor of Marion, Indiana, is visiting with her brother, J. Merlin Achor, who recently purchased the Manwaring place, one mile west of Medford.

Z. Maxey left a couple of days ago for his homestead in the Butte creek country.

W. P. Chenery of Klamath Falls arrived in the city yesterday and will likely remain here.

L. E. Spicer and A. Noe left yesterday for Los Angeles after a few days in this valley.

Ed Tryer was up yesterday from his home at Grants Pass. Ed is still employed at the butcher business.

D. A. Fitzgerald, a former resident of Medford, now of Grants Pass, was in the city yesterday greeting friends.

Will G. Steel of Portland was in the city yesterday. He is still hustling for Crater Lake and the good road thereto.

H. C. Raedel and family, of Stevens county, Washington, arrived in the city yesterday. They came to make their future home in this section.

J. C. Matthews came down from his homestead, near Trail, yesterday, and will leave today for Weed, California, where he will remain during the summer.

F. H. Page, of the firm of Page & Son, Portland, passed through yesterday on No. 15 on his way to San Francisco, where he goes to look after some business matters.

O. D. Nagle, a member of the Medford Brick company, was unfortunate in breaking his left thumb Tuesday, while at work on the Weeks & McGowan building.

A. L. Pelton, who recently purchased a tract of land in this vicinity for fruit-growing purposes, returned to his home in Rockford, Illinois, to make arrangements to bring his family to this place.

Mr. B. W. Harris, recently from Alledo, Illinois, yesterday purchased from C. B. Gay his very pretty bungalow home on Holly street North, paying $3500 for same. Mr. Gay will build another residence on lots he owns elsewhere in the city. This deal was made by Ray Toft and H. M. Coas.

Mrs. Sealey and Conroy yesterday performed a very successful operation at the Medford hospital upon George R. Briggs. They removed the appendix, which was in a very bad condition. Mr. Briggs has been connected with the coal mining operations near this city, and only recently became afflicted.

Edward Bond and family left yesterday for Cleveland, Ohio, where Mr. Bond has a good position open to him and at which he delights to work. We regret to lose these people after a residence of almost a year among us. They are not promising to remain away from this valley, however.

W. M. Hodson returned yesterday by train from a several days' visit to Yreka, where he recently went by auto. He will dispose of several cars in that region, but says the place looks entirely too quiet to suit him—saw more people on the streets of Medford yesterday at a single glance than he saw in all of Saskatchewan county.

J. G. Hodges returned yesterday from a several days' visit in Benton county, Oregon, where he purchased the farm on which his grandfather settled in 1847. It cost Jess more than it did his relative, but he thinks it well worth the price he paid. Jess doesn't love that region well enough to move there, but will stick to the Rogue River valley, the purchase being a purely business proposition.

County Judge L. R. Webster of Multnomah county, a former resident of Jacksonville, passed through yesterday on No. 13 on his way to Lakeview, where he has some cases to look after in the Circuit court. The judge travels extensively over the state, and he says that the nearer a man lives to Medford the nearer he is to the best part of Oregon, and that the Rogue River valley has no equal on the coast.

Drayman Eads yesterday unloaded a carload of household goods, shipped from the East—one of those big carriage cars—in which there were the household goods of eight families—E. C. Sabin, Charles Newell, C. A. Shultz, H. D. Tisdall, M. A. Rowison, J. D. Morgan, C. F. Barber and F. S. Yorks. The fact that these eight families shipped in one car does not necessarily imply that they did not have many goods, but it does show up to pretty good advantage the capacity of some of those Eastern cars.

(From Saturday's Daily.)

J. W. Lawton went to Grants Pass Friday—business.

C. L. Munson of Portland is in the city for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cox returned Thursday from a several months' visit at a number of Southern California points. They came up as far as Redding in their auto, and from there they came by train.

E. W. Brainard and family and W. H. Simmons and family of Peoria, Illinois, arrived in the city yesterday. Their household effects are on the way and they are expecting to locate at some point in this valley.

Four weeks from last night the commencement exercises of the public schools will be held, and the schools will be closed for the summer vacation. Teachers and pupils are alike busy with final preparations for promotion.

Luke Ryan, a prominent merchant of Jacksonville, went to Portland yesterday to bring his mother home. The lady has been in a sanitarium at that place for some time, undergoing treatment, but her condition is not very much improved.

S. H. Claspel was in yesterday from Butte Falls. He reports that things generally are looking up in that section. The sawmill is in operation and the donkey engines in the woods are "yanking" out the logs at a "dreadful" rate.

George W. Cooper and wife of Yreka, Cal., who have been in the city for the past few days, left yesterday for Grants Pass, where they will visit for a short time before returning to this city. Mr. Cooper expects to invest in property in this city.

Mrs. Dustin High and Mrs. J. R. Casey drove down from Ashland yesterday. Mrs. Casey is the wife of Postmaster Casey, and this was her first visit in this city for several years. She was greatly surprised at the many improvements which have been made.

Bill Hazlerigg of Applegate was arrested Thursday by Sheriff Jones on a warrant sworn out before Justice Doh in Jacksonville, charged with a misdemeanor committed in Medford a few weeks ago. A hearing was had and he was placed under a $300 bond, in default of which he is confined at the county jail.

Mrs. Peter Applegate passed through Medford yesterday on her return from Portland to Jacksonville. Mrs. Applegate has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. R. Stancel, who has been ill at a hospital in that city. Mrs. Applegate brought Mrs. Stancel's little son and daughter back with her to keep until the latter recovers.

Miss Fern Hutchinson, who is attending school at St. Helen's Hall, Portland, and pursuing her musical studies under Mr. Gifford Nash, was presented in a piano recital at Mr. Nash's studio on Thursday evening. Miss Hutchinson is one of Medford's most promising young musicians and her success is a matter of much interest to her many friends.

Harper McKechnie, recently of Seattle, is in the city looking over the country with a view to investing. Mr. McKechnie was compelled to leave Seattle on account of the health of his family, and took them to Pasadena, Cal., where they will remain until he finds a suitable location for them. Mr. McKechnie is very much impressed with the Rogue River valley.

C. M. Baldwin was up on Coleman creek one day this week in his auto. He stopped near a house and went in for a moment to attend to some business matters, and when he returned he found a goat standing quietly in the machine. It had already eaten several feet of rubber tubing off the machine and was just commencing on the brass lamp—the brass lamp part of this story is a goat joke.

Correct Glasses Correctly Fitted

Notice the difference in the way the rays of light pass through the old style lens and the new TORIC glass.

When looking through the TORIC lens you get the same vision clear out to the edge of the glass, in all directions, that you do ONLY through the center of the old-style of lens, thus giving you more freedom of vision without the strain upon the Rectus muscles, which constantly occurs when wearing the old-style glasses.

With the old-style before the eye you see like this.

With the new TORIC lens you get the same results at all angles without turning your head that you do directly through the center of the old style.

Dr. Goble makes a specialty of the above lenses; also fits the 1-BIGHT bi-focal, ground from ONE piece of glass. Optical Parlor in Perry's Warehouse, Seventh Street, Medford.
