NORTH MEDFORD NOTES.

(By J. G. Martin.)

James Owings of Owings Bros. returned to Yreka today for an indefinite business visit.

Mrs. E. D. Wilhite, a prominent lady of Antioch district, arrived on Monday for a shopping and pleasure trip.

Young Walter Vincent of North Beatty street is confined to his room with a severe attack of malaria fever.

Mrs. Joe Caskey, accompanied by Mrs. Seales of the east side, were calling on friends on North Central avenue Monday.

Mrs. Philbrook, the popular school teacher of Beatty, is enjoying the annual Chautauqua meetings in Ashland.

Mrs. P. Seeman and family, late of Centralia, Wash., have rented Henry Metz' pretty new residence on North Beatty street.

W. H. Taylor, formerly proprietor of the Beehive, has accepted a position as a practical pruner in the Patterson fruit orchard at Talent.

Grandpa Meeker's condition on North Riverside avenue is improving slowly, but not as satisfactory today as his many friends would wish to see.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Gould and family of West Jackson street have returned home, much benefited by their enjoyable week's outing in Butte Creek vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Orr of North Central avenue, left Friday for a couple of weeks' recreation and sightseeing at the Seattle exposition and other northern cities.

Quite a number of lady friends attended the funeral of the late deceased Mrs. Francis E. Owings Tuesday in Jacksonville. Among them were Mesdames Milligan, Perry, Summerville, Buck, Caskey, Martin and the venerable Grandma Caskey.

Those beautiful wreaths and wealth of flowers so tastefully and appropriately arranged by many thoughtful lady friends of North Central avenue speak volumes for the love and high esteem Grandma Frances E. Owings was held in grateful remembrance.

Grandpa Meeker's condition is critical today.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Cook retired residents of North Central avenue, went up to Ashland Friday for a few days of pleasure and recreation.

Mr. Wheeler and family of North Riverside avenue have accepted a position on one of Dr. Page's fruit ranches near Talent, and have moved thereto.

Grandma Lynch, a pioneer resident lady of Trail, is visiting in the city, en route to Topeka, Kan., and is the guest of James Jones of North Riverside avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Buck are having their well walled with brick and a new pump installed, which will add much convenience and improvement to their attractive property on North Beatty street.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Ingram and family of Jacksonville are visiting Mrs. Ingram's parents, Mr. and Mrs. De Roboam, today.

Mrs. Mary Milligan, accompanied by Mrs. True, went up to Ashland Friday for a few days' social visit with relatives and attend the chautauqua meetings.

Will De Roboam of West Medford has the sympathy of his many friends of the sudden disappearance of his wife, which seems to be a clear case of lost, strayed or stolen.

Clyde Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Smith, left for his home in Los Angeles Friday, having enjoyed a two weeks' delightful visit long to be remembered with his aged parents, sisters and brother.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS.

(By A. C. Howlett.)

Attorney O. C. Boggs and wife of Medford drove out from Medford last Sunday eve.

S. S. Akin of Prospect was over last week for a load of provisions, etc., for Prospect.

A. B. Hamilton, now living on Yankee creek, was in Eagle Point last Sunday and Monday. He and Chauncey Florey started for Crater Lake last Tuesday.

Miss Bertha Peachey, who is teaching school on Yankee creek, arrived last Sunday, stopping over night, and on Monday went to Grants Pass to have her eyes treated by a specialist.

Mr. Harvey, one of the enterprising citizens, has been covering his house with rustic and giving it a coat of white paint, which has greatly improved the appearance of the house. He is a hustler.

Mr. Hamilton, the man who bought the William Ulrich place, was a guest at the Sunnyside several days lately. He is highly pleased with our country and especially with our climate. It is so temperate—neither too cold nor too hot.

George W. Owings and family drove here last Sunday evening from Nevada, where they have been spending some time. Mr. Owings says that he has traveled over a big lot of country since he left here and has found no place that suits him so well as Eagle Point, and he thinks now that he has come to stay.

Mr. Rodgers, the general manager of the business of the Pacific & Eastern railroad, came over last Monday to pay up the hotel bill for the board of the men working on the railroad and to pay up the men for the month of June. The company seems to be in dead earnest about building the road this time.

Monday afternoon Mrs. Charles Buett and her daughter, Miss Mahel, accompanied by one of the Misses Fielder of Medford and Mrs. Dora Caldwell of Lakeview, Mrs. Caldwell and Dora Fleming is a daughter of H. C. Fleming, formerly superintendent of common schools in Lake county, and at one time county superintendent of Jackson county.

Benj. Edmondson, Sr., arrived last Sunday from his home at Butte Falls, returning on Monday. His daughter-in-law, Mrs. Charles Edmondson, is having a very serious time with her hand. She had a felon on one of her fingers and came down from her mountain home to have it lanced, but complications set in and it is feared that she will lose her hand.

Fined for Fast Riding

This breeze quite little town had a little unusual excitement on Wednesday of last week when Harry Smith was arraigned before N. J. Narreagan, the local justice of the peace, on a charge of having ridden through the main street of Eagle Point at a rate faster than six miles an hour. Mr. Smith pleaded not guilty and called for a jury trial, and A. J. Daley, Frank Lewis, W. Jock, Roy Smith, J. B. Jackson and W. L. Childress were sworn in as jurors.

After having five witnesses examined, the case was submitted without argument, and after due deliberation the jury stood three for acquittal and three for conviction, and thus they stood for an hour or more, when A. J. Daley suggested to the court that a compromise might be effected by having the court agree to place the fine at $10—there had been talk that the sentence would be $50 and costs—and the court agreed to remit $10 of the fine imposed on John Mayham.

He was the one that was arrested and pleaded guilty upon whom a fine of $20 and costs was imposed, to which suggestion the court agreed and the jury brought in a verdict accordingly, and then when it came to the question of the cost, the witnesses threw off their claims and the constable threw off his claim and the jurors all except one threw off theirs, and he had gone home before this part of the program had come to the front, and the justice of the peace threw off his claim and said furthermore that if the jurors claimed his fee, the court would pay the amount out of his own pocket. So Smith dug up the $10 and went on his way rejoicing.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

WATER IS NOW IN THE MAINS

Mount Pitt water is now ready for delivery to the city of Medford. On Tuesday of this week at 1 o'clock p. m. water was turned into the new pipe line at the Bradshaw drop, and at 1 o'clock p. m. yesterday the water had reached the reservoir, east of Medford, and half an hour later it was at Roosevelt avenue, in East Medford. Just 72 hours from the time the water was turned in until it reached the reservoir, a distance of about 11 miles, is greater speed than was expected. This more particularly because of the fact that it could ordinarily be expected there would be some delays in the pipe requiring refitting or retightening, but in this instance there were no such delays—the small leaks closed up very quickly and in many miles of the line there are not now any leaks at all.

Wash Out the Mains.

The water can now be turned into the city mains at any time, but in all probability it will not be turned in for a couple of days. It is the intention to thoroughly wash out all of the city mains before this water is turned in, and also to thoroughly flush the pipe line to make sure that no debris is in the pipe which might afterward cause trouble. The water is now being discharged from a waste gate just beyond the reservoir.

If there are any two men in Medford this morning who are feeling better than any other two men these are Engineer W. J. Roberts and Contractor I. L. Hamilton. The first gentleman because all the details of his plans have worked out so nicely, and the latter because that he has been able to so satisfactorily work out these plans.

By getting the water to Medford before August 1, the contractors, according to agreement, are entitled to $50 a day for each and every day the water is delivered here before August 1, not to exceed $1000 in all the amount to be paid. On the other hand, had not the contractors gotten the water here by August 1, they would have to pay the city $50 per day for each and every day beyond that time that water was not supplied.

The Reason Why.

In view of the fact that there are a number of recent arrivals in the city, some of whom do not understand why it is the city is having right-of-way trouble with the Hanleys and still be getting water from this same source, it might not be out of place to state that the present intake, near the Bradshaw drop, is only about half the distance to the permanent intake above the Hanley ranch, and the right of way in litigation is between the temporary and permanent intakes. The Fish Lake Canal company have a canal right of way across the Hanley ranch, but the city has no pipe line right of way across this same land, and it is water from the Fish Lake Canal company's canal that the city will be using temporarily. The reason the city did not contract for water delivered at the Bradshaw drop was that it wanted to avoid the open ditch from the Bradshaw drop to the permanent intake.

CARNEGIE LIBRARY

Ashland Claims to Have Conditions Required for One

"I will admit," said an Ashland business man to a representative of The Morning Mail yesterday, "that you people in Medford have been getting ahead of us in several ways, but here is one thing where we get the bulge on you." In explanation of the statement he showed a copy of their weekly paper, which had the following to say regarding a new public library for that city:

It looks as though the free public library was an assured fact. As a result of correspondence with city officials regarding certain conditions to be complied with, the following letter direct from the Laird of Skibo Castle, through his private secretary, under date of June 25, at the great ironmaster's domain, Dornoch, Sutherland, Scotland, has been received by Recorder Eggleston:

Cost $1500 a Year.

"Responding to your communication in behalf of Ashland: If the city agrees by resolution of council to maintain a free public library at a cost of not less than $1500 a year and provides suitable site for the building, Mr. Carnegie will be glad to give $15,000 to erect a free public library for Ashland."

The foregoing ought to determine the matter, and now there should be no delay in settling upon a site and arranging preliminaries so that this acquisition may be available at an early day and be in line with all the other improvements now under way.

This recent gift to Ashland recalls the matter of the Carnegie benefactions in general, a condensed statement concerning which is as follows: Andrew Carnegie, in a recent statement for Collier's, has given to the public the first accurate list of his library gifts. Up to December 31, 1908, this list included 1800 library buildings scattered among the English-speaking peoples of the globe, the United States standing at the head with 959 buildings and 208 branches, toward which $34,870,745 had been contributed.

Libraries All Over.

Canada stood second in proportion to population, with 86 buildings and 5 branches, at a cost of $2,059,415. Then followed in order named, England and Wales, with 329 buildings and 59 branches, at a cost of $7,559,550; Ireland, with 42 buildings and 21 branches, for $724,610; Scotland, with 105 buildings and 18 branches, at a cost of $2,075,080, and the British colonies in smaller proportion, all making a total outlay of $51,596,993, including $3,653,753 for college libraries.

To the question whether he is satisfied with his gifts, Mr. Carnegie says emphatically that he is. He says that it is not only what a library does in a community that measures its value, but what it prevents. He refers to the other pursuits which would occupy readers. He declares that "free public libraries are the cradles of triumphant democracy."

A TRUTHFUL PAPER.

Editor Told the Truth Some Time.

But He "Raised the —"

The editor of a weekly paper, published in a small town in Missouri, announced that for one issue he would tell the truth. Among other items were the following:

"John Doyle, our groceryman, is doing a poor business. His store is dirty, dusty and notoriously odoriferous. How can he expect to do much?"

"Rev. Stutz preached Sunday night on 'Charity.' The sermon was punk. If the reverend gentleman would live up a little closer to what he preaches, he would have bigger congregations."

"Dave Shankay died at his home in this place Saturday. The doctor gave it out as heart failure. The fact is he was drunk and the whisky was what killed him. His house was a rented shack on Roudy street."

"Married—Miss Selvia Rhoden and James Carnahan, last Saturday evening, at the Baptist parsonage. The bride is a very ordinary girl, who doesn't know any more about cooking than a rabbit, and never helped her mother three days in her life. She is not a beauty by any means, and has a gait like a fat duck. The groom is well known as an up-to-date loafer. He has been living off his folks all his life, and doesn't amount to shucks. They will have a hard life while they live together, and we have no congratulations to offer, for we don't believe any good can come of such a union."

NOAH NO "MOLLYCODDLE."

It must have been in a spenetic and jealous moment that the Society of Naval Architects and Engineers, in its convention at Detroit, refused to enroll Noah upon its list of honorary members, says an exchange. According to our way of thinking, this ancient mariner far surpassed the navigator of today in the attributes and qualifications appertaining to his most exacting profession.

For one thing, how many of the gentlemen now sailing the seas in modern leviathans could assemble a specimen of every conceivable division of the earth's fauna under one floating roof, provision them for a forty-day cruise and keep peace in the family?

It was Noah, too, who employed the first wireless. The dove flying back home with dry feet and a bunch of green in its bill gave the first indication that the siege of waters was at an end.

And who among the naval architects of today could construct a craft capable of housing the infinite population of the ark, and riding out the inundation that made an ocean of the entire world? Very few, we are inclined to believe.

It may be objected to Father Noah that about his first action upon landing was to throw a "lag" of ornate description.

At any rate, not to speak with facetious irreverence, Father Noah was no "mollycoddle."

His frailties are even more human than his virtues.

Bread and meat may be high, but the cheering news comes that the diamond industry is working full time.

One more month and our friends may be coming home to be treated for the summer vacation.

A Clean Man

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health means cleanliness not only outside, but inside. It means a clean stomach, clean bowels, clean blood, a clean liver, and new, clean, healthy tissues. The man who is clean in this way will look it and act it. He will work with energy and think clean, clear, healthy thoughts.

He will never be troubled with liver, lung, stomach or blood disorders. Dyspepsia and indigestion originate in unclean stomachs. Blood diseases are found where there is unclean blood. Consumption and bronchitis mean unclean lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

prevents these diseases. It makes a man's insides clean and healthy. It cleans the digestive organs, makes pure, clean blood, and cleans, healthy flesh.

It restores tone to the nervous system, and cures nervous exhaustion and prostration. It contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. Constipation is the most unclean uncleanness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure it. They never gripe. Easy to take as candy.
