O. N. Wilson returned Sunday from a several weeks' visit in Iowa and North Dakota, where he went to attend to some business matters. He expresses himself as being glad that he is a resident of this favored region. "No more living in the east for me. I was not aware that there was so much difference until I made this trip."

"He is an eloquent and forceful speaker, combining an impressive presence, a rare Irish wit and cogent, logical reasoning." Who said the above? The Washington Post. Who is meant? Michael Fanning, the Irish orator, who speaks Wednesday at the Baptist church.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gunder of Marion, O., arrived in the city Saturday to look over this section. Entirely unexpected to them, they met J. C. Wood, a cousin of Mr. Gunder's, who came here several months ago from Washington. Mr. Wood is more than pleased here, which means that Mr. Gunder will locate here also.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Wright with their daughter and Miss Faidell of Knoxville, Ia., stopped off Sunday while on their way south for a short visit with Mr. Wright's boyhood friend, Henry Metz of this city. Mr. Wright is engaged in the banking business in his home town and is accompanying his family south, where they will spend the winter. They went out yesterday on No. 15.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davidson stopped in the city Sunday for a few days' visit with friends. He is traveling by team from his home at White Salmon, Wash., to southern California, where he will spend the winter. Mr. Davidson left Medford some six years ago, and says he could hardly recognize the town when he drove in, the improvements are so great.

Miss Hazel Whitmore and her aunt, Mrs. Grigs of New York, visited their old friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Turner Saturday. They were much pleased with the valley and were taken up to Eagle Point for a ride on the Pacific & Eastern. On their way home the day's fun was ended in a chase after a runaway car, which furnished much enjoyment.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bridges of Leavenworth county, Kansas, arrived in the city yesterday and will visit with M. Sullivan and family of West Medford. These gentlemen are brothers-in-law and had not seen each other for over 20 years.

William McKee was unloading at the depot his carload of household goods which had just arrived from Valley City, North Dakota. It will be remembered that Mr. McKee bought a nice tract of land on Griffin creek several weeks ago to which he will remove his goods.

Rev. W. T. Goulder, pastor of the M. E. church South, returned Monday from Portland, where he attended the convention of that church. While north Mr. Goulder took treatment for his rheumatism at Collins Springs, but received little benefit.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex C. Lampman of Minneapolis, Minnesota, arrived in the city yesterday. They were met at the depot by Mr. Lampman's father, H. H. Lampman, of Evans creek, who came from North Dakota several months ago and is one of the best-pleased men of this county with his new surroundings.

PEACHES THIS YEAR ALL OVER THE EAST

was extremely light. We only picked 8000 crates from one orchard, when the usual amount is about 20,000 crates. We received $1.35 per crate, or $10,800, or about 75 cents net a crate.

Invest $25,000 to $30,000.

"We intend to invest $25,000 or $30,000 in this valley, and I will come here to live, as there will be one of us at each tract."

"My brother, E. G. Lake, will come out immediately to this valley and the orchard will be put in by him, as I cannot possibly come here for some time."

"You see, besides being a partner in the firm, I'm cashier of the Bank of Huntington, and am also interested in an ice company and some other local institutions. To close out all my holdings, therefore, will take some time. When I arrive here, E. G. will return to Arkansas and my other brother will be at Rocky Ford, Colo."

All It Claims, and More.

"One thing I wish to say is that I have never found a better town for its size than Medford. It has all it claims and more; it has as great a population as it advertises, or greater. One thing more, you have the spirit for a town of 10,000 people, and I like that, too. Yes, Medford is far better than I expected."

Frightful Fate Averted

"I would have been a cripple for life from a terrible cut on my knee cap," writes Frank Disberry, Kellher, Minn. "without Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which soon cured me." Infallible for wounds, cuts and bruises, it soon cures burns, scalds, old sores, boils, skin eruptions. World's best for Piles. 25c at Chas. Strang's.

Always room at the top, but I can't see Mr. Peary slipping down?

Other Fruit Lands.

"I am a partner; there are three brothers of us in the firm, which is called the Dixie Fruit Farm & Commission company. We own 240 acres of land set to peaches in Arkansas, and recently we acquired 320 acres at Rocky Ford, Colorado. This we intend to set to cantaloupes, and in order to raise them we constructed a ditch 19 miles long to bring water to our land. Land at Rocky Ford is worth $200 per acre, when it is in cultivation and bearing. So it means that my place will be worth $64,000 next year."

Will Buy 150 Acres.

"We intend to buy 150 acres of land here and set it to apples and pears, and I have decided to buy in the vicinity of Eagle Point. Just where I cannot state at present."

"This year our peach orchard netted us only $6000, as the crop of

PLEASED WITH ROGUE VALLEY

"I got interested in Oregon from my visit to the Oregon building at the fair held in St. Louis. I was told there by someone to write to Judge Purdin for any information—which I did, and it was through his letters that I became anxious to see the valley, and here I am," said L. E. Lake of Huntington, Arkansas, yesterday.

"Then I wrote to the postmaster of Medford, asking him to send me a town paper, and on receiving a copy of the Morning Mail I subscribed for it. I have kept in touch with Medford through this paper for the past three years and after reading it decided it would pay me to come to this valley."
