A JOURNALISTIC PECKSNIP.

In a two-column editorial the Portland Oregonian in its issue of September 7 explains and defends its course prior to the land fraud trials and replies to criticisms made by The Tribune.

Utterances virtue comes out of every pore of this journalistic Pecksniff. Harvey Scott has had a hard time fighting the devil.

The Oregonian is the one force in this state of Oregon which will not enter into any combination with those who are in politics or public effort of any kind for that there may be 'in it'.

It is a fine thing to know that there is one incorruptible force in Oregon, one man superior to the run of humanity, who spurns combinations with those who are in politics, and who, like Royal Bakin powder, is absolutely pure.

Referring to the senatorial election of 1903, the Oregonian says: "Mr. Scott had no thought or wish to be a candidate (for the senate) himself."

Further on the Oregonian states: "These accusers, whether they call themselves democrats or republicans, are all very much alike."

October and November statistics for wheat and flour shipments from Portland and Puget sound ports are particularly interesting as showing the enormous resources being converted into actual cash in Oregon and Washington.

During the two months of fall coal output, September 1 to October 31, the Denver & Rio Grande railroad sold 5081 long-choke tickets to the north west, which was an increase of 2547 over last year's business.

Coal for Sale. We are now prepared to furnish hand-picked coal at the mine, five miles east of town, in any amount desired.

Notes for Daymen. For the benefit of those who may be interested in the promotion of the dairy industry in the state, the Southern Pacific company will issue tickets at a rate of one fare and one-third.
