MEDFORD TRIBUNE AND SOUTHERN OREGONIAN GRAND PRIZE CONTEST

ONE VOTE.

Good for TWENTY-FIVE VOTES when used as a nomination blank.

FOR DISTRICT NO. _____

This Coupon, cut out and mailed to the Contest Department, or deposited in the ballot box at the Tribune Office, will count as one vote for the lady whose name is filled in.

COUPONS SHOULD BE SENT FLAT, NOT ROLLED OR FOLDED

In all she wrote over 300 letters. Of course she did not get replies to all of them, but the percentage of answers was enough to give her the grand capital prize.

Be the First One.

Realize the importance of an early campaign among your friends and acquaintances. If you do not get there and announce that you have entered the contest with a determination to win, someone else is liable to beat you out. Even now some of the contest ants are saying they would have had more votes if they had seen their friends before their opponents did.

Hustle yourself and yet your friends to working for you. Get them to rustle votes for you and things will come very easy. Go about securing your votes in a systematic manner; appoint two or three of your friends as your lieutenants in this battle of ballots; have them go among their friends. They will certainly work hard for you if you let them know the number of rides you will give them in the automobile after you win it.

It is a good idea to poll a few votes from day to day to let people know that you are working and really desire to win a prize.

People like to help those who help themselves, but then again it is not a good idea to poll too many of them and let the other candidates see your strength.

Don't Be Backward.

Don't be at all backward, for if you fail to ask your friends for their business and votes they will be secured by someone else and you will be too late to derive any benefit from the subscription.

Start at once—today is the day. It is amazing how fast votes will come up if you start. Four hundred votes are given for a three months' subscription, and 200 for a six months' subscription. Vote as given on all money received, whether old or new subscriptions. They count twice as many votes. You will have to do the same or else someone will have twice as many votes as you.

An Important Matter.

Owing to a rush of news and other matter yesterday it was found impossible to print the coupon as usual, however, today it will be found that there are two coupons printed, and the extra one will make up for the loss of yesterday's subscription, and as there day's.

WHO WERE LUCKY ENOUGH TO GET SPOT'S PRESENTS?

Martin McDonough, the enterprising proprietor of The Spot, with his accustomed liberality, presented a beautiful doll and a big white Teddy bear with electric eyes to his numerous customers.

As yet those who are entitled to these presents have not received them, because one of the lucky persons has not called and made a choice. The numbers which annexed the doll and bear are 2924 and 2348.

the grand prize contest per and are being held until some lady leaps and bounds. Some of those who entered whom they are well acquainted with. Many people are willing to help the candidates and are only waiting to be asked. Some have many votes entered out of the paper and have not decided whom to give them to, and the first contestants to ask will be the one to receive the votes. So if you want to change your position in the list and secure a good reserve, it is necessary for you to go among the people and let them see that you would appreciate their help.

No One Losing Hope.

No one is losing hope, and as the contest is but barely started and the difference of a few thousand votes is nothing, as that means but a year or a two years' subscription, and as there are several weeks remaining in which to secure votes and subscriptions, and clear the space between you and those who are up in the list, no one should get discouraged. Make up your mind that you will win, and you will certainly win it.

Have you ever thought of writing letters to your friends in other parts of the United States? One contest that the manager was personally acquainted with was won simply as a result of the letters that the winner wrote. She not only wrote letters to her own friends, but to her mother's friends, to her mother's friends and her friends' friends.
