THE PUTNAM CASE AGAIN

The Portland Oregonian of January 23 contains the following:

The Oregonian has received a copy of Judge Hanna's charge to the jury in the Putnam libel case, and candidly demands the admission that it contains no evidence of premeditated unfairness. That it does contain, however a disastrous misconception of the law seems fairly obvious.

The cause originated from Mr. Putnam's published charge that the grand jury of Jackson county ought to have indicted a certain Barnum for murderous assault, but failed to do so. He stated the matter in such a way as to imply that the jury and the prosecuting attorney must have been corruptly negligent in their duty.

In the prosecution for criminal libel which ensued, Mr. Putnam desired to show that the assault was really murderous and to raise the inference that the grand jury, with the facts before them, could not have failed to indict Barnum unless they were corrupt.

Every condition seems to point to the constant growth and development of Medford and the Rogue River valley, with a greater Medford and the Rogue River valley, with a greater immigration and a more active year in reality than yet witnessed.

BRIGHT PROSPECTS AHEAD.

The year is yet young, but events are daily demonstrating the fact that it is going to be the brightest and busiest yet for Medford.

At last the Pacific & Eastern railroad is in the hands of the right parties, of people who will extend it to the timber belt.

The Catholic clergy are planning to make Medford headquarters for the region between Portland and Sacramento.

Capitalists are turning their attention to our orchard lands and are beginning to plant extensive areas to be subdivided into small tracts and sold to the small fruitgrower, something long needed and for lack of which thousands have been forced to seek other places for homes.

With the spring is coming a resumption of mining. The placer miners are having a prosperous season with abundant water, and the gradual climb of copper will witness the erection of a smelter at the Blue Lodge and the construction of a railroad.

Every condition seems to point to the constant growth and development of Medford and the Rogue River valley, with a greater Medford and the Rogue River valley, with a greater immigration and a more active year in reality than yet witnessed.

REGISTER! DO IT NOW!

Thousands of voters in Oregon will be regretting next April and next June that they did not register.

STIFLING FREE SPEECH.

Every once in a while some political ring in a community attempts to stifle free speech.

Every once in a while some political ring in a community attempts to stifle free speech. In a small city like Medford men come to believe that criticism of any of their official acts is an injury to the community.

Every once in a while some political ring in a community attempts to stifle free speech. In a small city like Medford men come to believe that criticism of any of their official acts is an injury to the community.

result was the passage of the Barry contempt law whereby such contemptible acts could not be repeated. Medford will be a better place to emigrate to after the officials down there are aware that free press and free speech cannot be monkeyed with—in other words, that Medford is in those United States, and is not a part of Mexico or Russia.—Oregon Journal.

WATERWORKS RECEIPTS AND EXPENSES FOR 1907

The total receipts of the Ashland city waterworks for the year 1907 amounted to $17,963.33. The total expenditures, including interest, taxes on mill property, maintenance and additions and extensions of the system, amounted to $8249.46, leaving a balance on the right side of $8827.11.

There are several mains in town which will have to be replaced with larger pipe in order to give adequate service and there must be considerable expense for betterments this year. It is understood that the water department will purchase a car of pipe early in the spring for this purpose.—Valley Record.

Deviled Ham and Relishes

Miller & Ewbank. I was at a party the other night and a lot of young girls were gazing at an old bachelor and asking him why he'd never married, etc. He sprung those old guys about "marrying in haste and repenting in South Dakota," and there being "just no good fish in the sea as have ever been caught," when one of the girls remarked, "Did it ever occur to you that the bait might get stale while you were angling for them?" In angling for customers we never allow the bait to get stale around this shop. We get our best goods by most every express these days. The best business in keeping the stock right up to the minute, so that if you read in any of the magazines or home journals of a new food product or relish of any kind you can come right to this store and see the article for yourself. We just got in a big lot of Deviled Ham and Sardines. We are headquarters for relishes. They certainly do better than our goods and plenty of your favorite is a little hardware. MILLER & EW BANK
