MEDFORD TRIBUNE AND SOUTHERN OREGONIAN GRAND PRIZE CONTEST

ONE VOTE

Good for TWENTY-FIVE VOTES when used as a nomination blank.

FOR.....
DISTRICT NO.....

This Coupon, cut out and mailed to the Contest Department, or deposited in the ballot box at the Tribune Office, will count as one vote for the lady whose name is filled in.

COUPONS SHOULD BE SENT FLAT, NOT ROLLED OR FOLDED

With only a few more weeks remaining until the close of the contest, it behooves every one who has any intention of winning one of the beautiful and valuable prizes in the Tribune's voting contest to get busy.

Get Busy Means This.

You have put in numbers of hours during the last few weeks in securing subscriptions and votes from your numerous friends and they have the idea that you intend winning one of the Tribune's prizes; otherwise they would not have given their subscription to you, but would have given them to someone else who seemed more determined, so now it is up to you to make good the intentions displayed to them.

You do not want to discourage your friends by standing back now when the race is just begun, do you? Should you not, but what you want to do is this: Stick until the end and show them that you are no quitter. People do not like those who are "quitters" and give up simply because someone in their district has a few more votes than they, but they like to see those who display the stick-to-itiveness to stay at all hazards and win out in the face of defeat.

No One Has the Advantage.

At this stage of the game, as the race has just begun, and a lady at the bottom of the list can, during this next week, secure enough votes to pass the leaders and lead a merry chase the rest of the way, providing she had the resolution to back up the determination.

Perserverance and that are needed in a contest of this character, and to give up in despair because the first one from whom you asked a subscription refused, displays none of those qualities that go to make the successful business woman.

Think It Over.

Think it over and then act. Now is the time to make up for lost time, and many thousands of votes can be gathered if you will only try.

With the double votes in effect from now until the middle of next week the contestants have their best opportunity of the contest. Those who may at the present time be back in the list a good deal can with a very little effort overcome any lead that the others may have obtained.

Two for One.

Two for one on any subscription you may bring into the office from now until Wednesday, February 12, 1908 on a year's subscription instead of 2000 as heretofore, will soon make a big difference in the standing of any candidate. All that is required is a little nerve, energy and aggressiveness on the part of the contestant.

Seventeen Prizes.

To 17 ladies in the five districts, and each and every prize well worth the effort to strive for.

Pick out the prize you most desire and then go after it with a determination that will break of no defeat. Keep at it with a persistency that will haul you among the prize-winners at the final count.

Thousands of Votes.

Still remain to be secured in this city and the surrounding territory. There are many numbers of people who are simply waiting for some enterprising contestant to come along with nerve enough to request their votes, and the first one to ask for those votes will get them.

A gentleman came into the Tribune office and when asked who he was supporting in the contest he made the reply that he was going to assist the first lady who came along and asked him for his votes. He went on to state that if a lady did not have energy enough to ask for subscriptions and votes she was not deserving of a prize, and that if by the end of the contest no one had asked him for his votes, well and good. He struck the mark when he said that "the Lord helped those who helped themselves."

There is very little change in the standings of the candidates in this evening's issue. In District No. 2 Miss Helen Cox goes over the 20,000 mark. Miss Cox, if hard and conscientious work and numerous friends count for anything, will make it very interesting for some of the other contestants in the race for those valuable prizes.

In District No. 4 Miss Lottie Taylor makes a phenomenal gain, having polled over 7000 votes yesterday. This gives Miss Taylor the lead in her district, and she says that now that she has secured it she does not intend to relinquish it without a struggle. However, Miss Taylor had better not rest on her oars at the present time, as there are several other candidates in the same district that are also doing all in their power to gain the coveted position.

Keep Up the Good Work.

Those of the contestants who have a substantial vote to their credit now must keep up the good work in order to hold their position, now that they have secured it. If not, there will be some of the other candidates pass them. Now that the double vote offer is on, however, it gives the former the same opportunity to maintain their lead, and it is up to them to do so.

Keep up the work of securing votes and subscriptions and the ones who lead will have no regret for so doing at the end of the contest.
