

DOUBLE VOTES ARE EXTENDED ONE WEEK

Double Votes Extended at Request of Majority of Candidates, Who have Promises to Gather in.

By request of a majority of the candidates in the Tribune's big prize contest, it has been decided to extend the double-vote offer on all subscriptions another week so that promises of votes and subscriptions that have been made to contestants can be gathered in.

So many of the candidates have promised of subscriptions that it is deemed advisable to offer double votes for one more week to enable the contestants to use this argument why the subscriptions should be given now.

The double-vote offer which was inaugurated last week was very successful and met with the hearty approval of every candidate competing for the rich and elegant prizes offered by the Tribune, so during the coming week from Saturday, February 15, until Thursday, February 20, at 8 p. m., double votes will be issued on all subscriptions.

This is the very best offer of votes that will be made on any subscription during the entire contest and absolutely the greatest amount of votes that will be given, so do not expect a greater number of votes than that offered this week.

Excitement is running higher at the present stage of the contest than the votes, and the final outcome of the struggle for supremacy is being watched by thousands of people who are interested in the race of their particular favorite.

From now until the end of the contest will see one of the prettiest contested tugs-of-war that has ever taken place on any newspaper west of the Rocky mountains, and one of the noticeable, as well as the most commendable features of the whole contest, is the lack of ill-feeling, and frequent comments are made regarding the harmony and good-fellowship displayed by the candidates throughout the contest.

Numerous changes have occurred during the last few days and it is hard to tell just how a contestant stands and where her name will appear in the list the next day.

The contest race has now about reached the last lap, and those of the contestants who have worked hard from the commencement are eagerly waiting for the end. Although they now have thousands of votes to their credit and looked forward to being among the winners, they are not letting up in their efforts for a moment and are securing subscriptions from whoever they can. And the extension of the double votes will give them the additional opportunity of getting thousands more votes.

In today's issue appears the picture of little Miss Browning Purdin, who now leads the entire list of candidates. Miss Purdin's friends are straining every nerve to have their favorite declared the winner of the Ro Roadster, and to show how they are succeeding, one has only to glance over the list of candidates. This week it is up to the candidates to make every count, as the double vote extension is positively the last and best offer that will be made during the entire contest.
