Next Attraction at Medford Opera House, "Old Arkansaw."
 Everything that mechanical and artistic ingenuity can offer has been brought to bear in the production of "Old Arkansaw," and the result is a series of pictorial, sensational and mechanical effects that make recent dramatic productions of this kind look tame by comparison. The play is in four acts. Complete sets of special scenery and stage environments are carried for each act, and the following scenes of the play, viz: "The Railroad Hold Up," "The Arkansas Mob Scene," "The Jail-Breaking Scene," "The Conservatory Scene," and "The Electric Fountain." "Old Arkansaw" is from the prolific pen of Mr. Fred Raymond, whose reputation as an author has been established by several previous works of high order of merit, including his comedy successes, "The Missouri Girl" and "My Frisky Dad." It is certain, however, that the intensity of purpose, thoroughness of character delineation and absorbing dramatic interest exhibited in "Old Arkansaw" places it above any of his previous efforts, both as a valuable acquisition to dramatic literature and as a lasting tribute to the genius of its author and manager. The play is a rural melodramatic comedy with a theme absolutely original; an intricate plot full of heart interest and stirring situations, with a delicious vein of pure comedy running through it. The company is made up of the best talent that can be procured in the dramatic and vaudeville lines. Numerous specialties and musical numbers are introduced during the action of the play. A first-class attraction in every respect is promised the patrons of the Medford Opera House Tuesday February 18.

St. Mark's Church (Episcopal).
 Where you are always welcome. Sunday morning service at 11 o'clock. The double quartet under the direction of Charles Hazarding will render special music. Mr. Williams will preach on a subject appropriate to the season, "Love and Marriage." The evening service will be held at 7:30, with an address on "The Creeds of the Church."
Shakespeare Says
 "There is a tide in the affairs of men, Which, taken at the flood, Leads on to fortune."
 And there is a tide in the souls of men, which, taken at the flood, leads on to heaven; but if persistently opposed, leads down to eternal night.
 Forty-nine men out of 50 believe in a God and a hereafter. The majority of unprejudiced thinkers who have carefully studied the life of Christ are ready to admit that he was the purest character and the greatest teacher that ever lived. Once he said: "And I, if I be lifted up, will draw all men unto me."
 Through the church, Christ is carrying on his great work of lifting men heavenward. At present a genuine evangelical revival is in progress at the Methodist Episcopal church, B street. Rev. Van Marter presents gospel truth in a clear, earnest convincing manner, and insists in thorough work. Christ's gospel is more than a reformation. It is a regeneration and a transformation. The holy spirit, the great dynamic force in the kingdom of God, convicts, regenerates and purifies men. He is now knocking at the hearts of the people in Medford. Will the people of this prosperous town admit him, or say, with Felix, "Go thy way for this time; when I have a more convenient season I will call for thee?"
 Preaching tonight by Rev. Van Marter, twice tomorrow and every night next week. Everybody invited.
 "Almost persuaded, harvest is past; Almost persuaded, doom comes at last; Almost cannot avail, Almost is but to fail, Sad, sad, that bitter wall, Almost, but lost!"
 W. C. REUTER.

DINNER BILL
 Mr. says there are two things for which no one is ever prepared, and that's "twins." It's the little things in life that count. So says the poor man with a large family when he counts up his household expenses for the month. Perhaps if he reread the bill individually it wouldn't look so big; and perhaps if he traded with Miller & Eyland he wouldn't begrudge the money so much. Why? Because a fellow doesn't mind parting with the coin when he gets the full equivalent, and a good dinner means more than wealth to the average man. You'll all agree he's able to find something good at our store to tempt your appetite. Try it. If Sunday dinner problems worry you any, you're just the one we're looking for. Yours to please,
MILLER & EWANK

Go Window Shopping
 Your Sister in the City Will Go Tomorrow
 In the city we find thousands of people who never think of buying an article until they have seen the windows about town. In this way they not only have a chance to see what all the stores are showing, but they many times save money on their purchases. Once you get in the habit of reading advertisements and watching the windows you will find that you not only get the choice of all goods, but you save a lot of money.
