CONTEST CLOSES AT TEN O'CLOCK TONIGHT

Make Every Moment Count Between Now and the Closing Time--Come To The Opera House Tonight and Witness The Counting of The Votes That Will Decide Who The Winner is.

Instructions to Candidates. Tonight, Saturday, February 22, at 10 o'clock, closes the grand prize contest of the Medford Tribune and Southern Oregonian.

sentative business men whose business methods, honesty and integrity are beyond question.

The following gentlemen have been selected to preside over the final counting of the votes:

H. C. Garnett of the Garnett Hardware Company, Medford.

F. C. Hutchason of the firm of Baker-Hutchason.

The counting of the votes will commence as soon after 10 o'clock as possible and will be conducted at the Medford opera house, where the contestants and their friends are invited to be present to witness the counting.

The close of the contest, the time so long coming, is here at last. Tonight is the final night, and it will draw to a close the best, and most exciting, by that Medford and the surrounding contest territory has witnessed in many a day. Interest is running high, and great are the hopes and anticipations of the candidates and sincere the wishes of their friends for their success.

The final counting of the votes and the accompanying decision are awaited with the most tremendous amount of concern. Votes are pouring in, simply an overwhelming number of them, and the result will be greatly increased standings.

The few remaining hours this evening will be employed in getting together and bringing in the few stray ends and fragments which always stand out until the window.

A final appeal to undecided friends may cause them to conclude to assist you, so try what can be done the last few hours this evening. You may get a couple of friends to help you at the last moment, and they may be just the votes you will need to win the beautiful much we.

There have been no votes counted since Wednesday evening, and the candidates as they appear in this evening's issue, and from these standings they will start the count.

Christian Science.

Christian Science services are held every Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in the Commercial club-room. Subject of the lesson sermon for February 23, "Mind." All are welcome.

Methodist Episcopal Church, B Street.

The revival meetings under the leadership of Evangelist Van Marter and Professor Price will continue through last next week. Sermons are being converted, people are coming with the church and believers are receiving new spiritual helpings. It is doubtful whether the gospel was ever preached in Medford in a more earnest and convincing manner than at present by Rev. Van Marter. Will the unconverted step into the fountain while this revival preaches deliver the message of salvation, or will they by persistent rejection shut themselves out of heaven? Rev. Van Marter will preach three times tomorrow. At the Methodist church at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

At 7:30 p. m. at Angel's opera house will address an evangelistic man's meeting. Come and bring your friends.

W. T. Green of Perpet, Or., spent Saturday in Medford. He is a candidate for the republican nomination for county clerk.
