THE WATER BONDS

Medford is to be congratulated upon its public spirit. Almost unanimously citizens voted for $200,000 water bonds for the purchase of an adequate supply of pure mountain water and the construction of a pipe line.

The vote shows that Medford has risen to the occasion, grappled the most serious problem she faced, and now will move resolutely into her destiny—that of being the largest city south of Portland.

A bond issue of $200,000 would stagger some cities, but not Medford. She faces every crisis and solves every difficulty in her path toward becoming a real city, and rises triumphant past her rivals—superior in all things, but principally in citizenship.

The election showed, plain as words can tell, that the mosquito has ceased to be a factor in Medford—in fact, the mosquito has almost passed away. He has been, however, converted and is no longer a mosquito.

Medford is nearer from many backs, the cause of Oregon, than any other community, and so has an immense advantage over rivals.

TIMBER AND STONE MEN WIN OVER HOMESTEADERS

Again homestead stock in the tall pines of Southern Oregon has taken a tumble and is below par. Only a few weeks ago a decision from the general land office was received by the Lakeview land office giving the homesteaders a decided advantage over timber and stone claimants. Now comes a decision by the assistant commissioner which says in effect that in order to hold their lands the homesteaders must make substantial improvements, must establish a residence and maintain the same, must cultivate the land not as mere speculators, but as agriculturists, and must be able to prove when it comes to a contest that the land has been the settler's home, particularly, not occasionally.

The decision concerning all these points was rendered in the Marshall vs. Taylor case. N. W. Taylor of Silver Lake placed a non-stake filing on a piece of timberland in 1905. The 160 acres would net perhaps $200,000 feet or more of merchantable softwood timber. He built a cabin on the place and in a preliminary survey complied with the homestead law. About a year ago W. W. Marshall of Riddle Falls filed a contest, alleging abandonment of land and non-cultivation. The register and receiver of the land had offered hold, contingently, against the former claimant for the plaintiff, the latter for the defendant. The general land office, on appeal, sustained the register.

AMUSEMENTS.

Local theatergoers will shortly have an opportunity to witness Sullivan & Condit's big vaudeville company, which is slated to appear in this city at the Medford Opera House the evening of April 9. The list of artists appearing with the company contains the names of some of the bright particular stars of the vaudeville world. Richey Craig, the drill comedian, is to present his latest comedy offering, "I've Got a New Job No. 1." The act is replete with catchy lines and Mr. Craig's quaint humor is certain to bring the house down. Young Buffalo, the champion rifle shot of the world, will furnish a marvellous exhibition of his skill. Young Buffalo has all kinds of fancy stunts with the rifle, among them being his wonderful human target work. The star feature of Buffalo's act is his dissolving of a young woman by shooting the buttons from her clothing. Davis, Lee and company will be seen in the remaining comedy sketch, "The Ballet Girl." Mr. Davis is a well known eastern comedian and his assistants in the act are performers of ability. The O'Neil brothers are a trio of singers and dancers, and Miss Maud Sutton presents a dainty little comedy creation abounding in catchy situations and bright lines. Brooks & Jeanette, sketch. The cast is an all-star one and the S. R. O. sign will doubtless be hung out long before the doors open. The company will only appear here for one performance. Seats on sale at Hasbain's Drug Store, Monday, April 6. Prices, 75c for all reserved seats.

The Dunbar Company—Male Quartet and Bell-Ringers.

The Dunbars offer a delightful entertainment. Often there is standing room only and many purchase the privilege. The bells are marvelous. Their sweet tones and re-echoes through the auditorium long after the chimes have been touched. Their bell ringing is easily superior to anything of the kind ever heard in the city. The bells themselves possess rich tones and they are manipulated with consummate skill which wins instant favor with the audience.

The quartet is one of the most artistic features of the entertainment and brings down the house. Wherever this company has been they have easily won their claim to the greatest popularity and they give a program that quite charms the audience.

Open House, Wednesday, April 8. Seats now on sale.

Watch for the opening of the new bakery and delicatessen. Eighth and T streets.

ARCTIC EXPLORER IS BACK FROM FROZEN NORTH

SEATTLE, April 3.—Captain Ejnar Mikkelson, who jointly commanded the Anglo-American Polar expedition, which sought to find an undiscovered continent in the Beaufort sea, arrived from the north on the Ynestan. Captain Mikkelson's vessel, the Duchess of Bedford, was lost in the ice pack near Plaxman Island a year ago. He brings with him a great fund of information concerning the unexplored Beaufort sea and announces his purpose of fitting out another expedition to continue his search for land.

GOOD CROP PROSPECTS IN WILLAMETTE VALLEY

SALEM, Or., April 3.—Climate conditions during the past winter have been exceptionally favorable for all farm crops and the present fair weather, it is considered ideal for fruit. The cold spring has kept the fruit trees lush, thus protecting them to a large extent from danger of injury from frosts and late rains. Growers now expect fair weather through the blossoming period and with such conditions prevailing a full crop of fruit will be assured.

In the course of 1 year the balance of your watch makes 157,080,000 revolutions.

THINK OF IT!

In time the oil gears, produce friction and wear the delicate bearings, destroying their high finish and perfect fit, thus ruining an accurate time piece.

An ordinary machine is oiled daily. Your watch should be oiled once a year.

Let me examine try my latest opinion from me will cost you nothing.
