Investigation of the accounts of the the public. Neither has it been given county superintendent of schools office out why the county court relieved Daily at Jacksonville show that P. H. Daily, from his daties, and whether the action who last January resigned as county superintendent, was a defaulter in bondsmen. An interesting speculation school funds to the extent of nearly is as to what secret arrangement the school rinds to the extent at heary $1000. Part of this shortage was dis-eevered receatly by J. Percy Wells, Daily's successor. Part of it has been known of by county officials for months, but carefully concealed from and whether it was agreed that the bondsmen were not to be disturbed. The school districts were not the only the public. It is reported that further investigation will reveal more discrep-ancies. Daily left the country months ago, and his exact whereabouts are not ones which suffered losses through Mr. Daily. Various individuals were also knowed the answer to inquiries regardin him being that he is in a sanitar-ium somewhere in the north recovering his health. School district No. 78, near Trail, is out $452, intrusted to Daily by John Nelson, then clerk of the district, who upon resigning to go east, turned the money on hand over to the county failed to take advantage of any of school superintendent. A year or so ago Daily, as agent of the Northwest Supply House, contracted with the district for the purchase of $450 worth of furniture and supplies. The district paid the money to Daily, but never received the materials ordered.

In addition to these defalcations, i is reported that all the money in the institute fund which should have been accounted for is missing. This is a special fund formed from money pair in by teachers for certificates, and is used to pay expenses of teachers' insti-tutes. Mr. Wells reported that there tutes. Mr. Wells reported that there was no money in the fund, though dur ing Daily 5 incembers he should have beelied $180. He kept no books, yet he held his institute, so the actual short are is maknown.
