NEWBERRY TELLS OF DEFALCATION

Editor Tribune: I am one of the bondsmen of former County Superintendent Daily and beg to make a statement in regard to the shortage in the office, and I trust you will give this statement the same conspicuous position in your paper which you gave to your readers in the issue of April 13.

Mr. Daily tendered his resignation and J. P. Wells was appointed his successor. I stated to the county court in open session, Dunn, Patterson and Brown being present, that I wished they would require the successor of Daily to make an investigation and report of the financial condition of the office, and if there was a shortage I was ready to make it good. I know that the institute fund came into Mr. Daily's hands by virtue of his office and the law, and I examined the institute fund record myself and found that there was a shortage in the branch of the office, and I informed the court to that effect and that I was ready to turn the money over to the court. I was told to wait until Superintendent Wells made his report so that the court might know officially what the shortage was, and then turn the money over. I do not know whether the superintendent has yet filed his report, but when ever he does the money is ready to make good any shortage the office may show.

In regard to the shortage in district No. 78, permit me to state that the shortage has been made good and the clerk of that district has his money. I never had a demand made upon me for that money except through the district attorney's office, and did not know of the shortage except in that way. Mr. Rounes' threat to sue me as one of Daily's bondsmen gave me the first knowledge of the shortage in that district, as the records of the office did not show that fact. When informed by Mrs. Daily that it would have been fairer to let her settle the claim without threatening to sue the bondsmen, Mr. Rounes replied that he "thought it would be fairer to sue the bondsmen."

So far as I know, the records of the superintendent's office does not show a shortage in any other district except that of district No. 78, and that sum has been paid to the clerk of that district. The institute fund is ready to be paid over to the county as soon as I am informed of the amount short. The claim of district No. 78 is settled, and I know nothing of any shortage of Daily's in any other district referred to. If there is one, it will be settled.

Now, in regard to the bond—I do not know whether I prepared the bond or not, but if I did I wish to say it is a good one so far as the form is concerned, if the copy published in the Tribune is a correct one. I signed the bond and justified under the law as to my responsibility financially. If the name of Daily is missing from the bond I cannot be blamed for that, for I had no authority to sign his name to the bond and can certainly not be held responsible because his name is not there. I believe, however, that I did not prepare the bond.

I want to say to the people of Jackson county that if I am elected district attorney there will be no necessity for suing the bondsmen of P. H. Daily, for whatever shortage there may be in the office will be made good as soon as we know of the amount without the necessity of a suit, and besides, Mr. Rounes remains in the office for nearly three months yet and he can bring suit on the bond in that time, and there will be no necessity for Newberry suing himself. I understand from a reliable source that Rounes, who is a demagogue, but is attempting to dilute the nomination of republican candidate for district attorney in this district, has said that he would like to see Newberry on the bond, for it "would cripple him politically by defending such a suit."

Very respectfully,
GUS NEWBERRY.

BALOONS OF MARSHFIELD TO CLOSE ON SUNDAYS

MARSHFIELD, Or., April 16.—The saloons of Marshfield must hereafter close on Sunday. District Attorney G. M. Brown of Roseburg has been in the city and held a conference with the liquor dealers. He cited the state law regarding Sunday closing and told the saloonmen that he would see to it that the law was enforced and that he would prosecute any violators. North Bond recently passed a city ordinance providing for closing every night at 12 o'clock and on Sunday all day. The Marshfield city council passed a midnight ordinance but did not take up the Sunday closing question. The Anti-Saloon league of the county has since been endeavoring to bring about the enforcement of the state law prohibiting the sale of liquor on Sunday. The league has succeeded in securing a sufficient number of petitions to place the local option question to a vote of the people at the next election.

District Attorney Brown has announced that he has chosen L. A. Hillquist, a young lawyer, to assist him as prosecuting attorney for this district.

H. M. Cake, Republican Candidate for Nomination for United States Senator.

Mr. Cake is the advocate of Statement No. 1 and the popular election of United States Senators. Two years ago he took the stump for his successful opponent. He deserves the respect of every loyal Republican who believes in pure politics. The machine element needs his nomination if it people go to the polls, but doubts that believe in Statement No. 1 will not be interested enough to vote at the primaries. This is the last appeal to those who believe in the popular election of United States Senators to assert the rights which the old machine is trying to wrest from them.

MINERS TO FORM BIG ASSOCIATION
MONTAGUE, Cal., April 16.—The Miners' Protective association is the name of a new organization formed at Yuba Thursday evening, and at which J. B. Downing of Hornbrook was elected temporary chairman and Fred W. Armstrong of Callahan, temporary secretary. The proposition of having a central association located at the county seat, with branches in the various mining districts, and the protection of the "foot" money, were discussed. The meeting adjourned at the call of the chair in order that a proper representation may be had from the several districts at the next meeting. At the meeting were miners from Black Bluff, Yreka, Downie, Elm Mills, Gaselle, Gila, Happy Camp, Hornbrook, Hawthorneville, McCloud, Montague, Oak Bar, Oro Fino, Sisson, Scott Bar, Steel Wood, Yreka, the Kleinfelder and Scott Rivers.
