Dasent, secretary of the Albany Comereinl club, is arranging an intensely interesting program. The motto and banner of the roral letters enriers is

"Stand for better roads and a greater Oregon," President John H. Scott of Oregon Good Roads association, President Campbell of the University of Oregon, and other distinguished speakers will be present.

Oswego Waking Up.

Oswego, one of the oldest and best known of Portland's suburban towns, is determined to ofganize, incorporate and give other live Oregon communi-ties proof that an old town beats them all growing when she gets started good and proper.

All Oregon seems to have been aroused and enthused over the new home of the Portland Commercial club. At one luncheon last week there were representatives from 15 different towns and cities of the state. The convention ball on the sixth floor in which all Oreon the sixth floor in which an Oregon gon's organized bodies will be well-come, is a central feature. Every pic-ture hung upon its walls is an Oregon scene, and in this room during the next few years will be enneted much of intorest and moment to every man; wom-
