DEFEAT OF SUFFRAGE.

In another column can be found a letter written by Mrs. Dunaway, the equal suffrage leader, upon the recent campaign, which is well worth the reading.

This endless interruption of conflicting interests? by non-residents and non-taxpayers, who are hired for the purpose of setting neighbors against each other...

The liquor traffic has been with us since long before the early dawn of civilization. It is older than any civilization, and probably will outlast most civilizations of today.

This "mighty moral wave" is simply a popular craze, engendered by microbes of bigotry and intolerance, that, like other crazes, must run its course.

This paper is not defending the liquor dealers—their own rule in the past has brought on their present predicament, and the rule of booze is intolerable.

At the recent election, the straight democratic vote polled was in the neighborhood of 1351, the vote for Whitney, candidate for congress.

BREAKING PARTY LINES.

The straight republican vote as cast for Hawley for congress was 2241, and the straight socialist vote 411.

Chamberlain received 2182 votes and ran ahead of his party in the county by 832 votes.

Jones, democrat for sheriff, polled 2272 votes, 921 above the party vote.

The largest vote polled by any of the local candidates that had opposition was that cast for Burnett for recorder, 2566, or 325 above his ticket.

The only republicans falling behind the party vote were Calk, 539, Buchanan 133, Hammersley 402, Kubli 711, Dunn 402, Jackson 505, and Kellogg 347.

SIGNORINETTA WINS ENGLISH OAKS RACE

LONDON, June 6.—Signorinetta, the Italian filly which suddenly sprang into fame by winning the English derby at 100 to 1, today added another notable victory to her record by capturing the Oak stakes by three-fourths of a length.

Richard Croker's entry, Rhodora, had the race already won and was leading the field by several lengths in the stretch when she stumbled and fell.

The Issue Is Made

Mr. Bryan was wisely prompt in proposing that Mr. Taft should unite with him in an appeal to congress to pass the publicity bill.

And, what do we see? The same old money devil, surrounded by his imps, occupying the seats of the mighty, but disgraced as a friend of the people, preaching civic righteousness, whilst looting pure blanketing upon predatory wealth, preaching tariff reform—after the election—the robber barons to do the reforming; preaching democracy to the ear of the credulous only to break it to the hope of the intelligent.

And, whom do they hate? Mr. Bryan. Whom do they fear? Mr. Bryan. Else why are they so eager to defeat his nomination?

Well, he is going to be nominated all the same, and if they can fool more than half the people all the time, maybe they will beat him; but they will have

THE REAL BRYAN.

"Will someone please stand up and explain this man Bryan—the Phoenix who arises from the ashes of defeat stronger, better loved than ever?" This question was asked by a Pittsburg, Pa., man in a letter printed in the Christian Union Herald.

"All this, mark you," said the Pittsburg man, "in the city of Pittsburg—intensely republican, 'conservative,' tariff-loving Pittsburg—the stronghold and center alike of his democratic and republican enemies! If this can occur in Pittsburg, what must be his hold upon the people in communities where the what-is-right doctrine is not revered as here!"

From these scenes the Pittsburg man turned and in utter perplexity asked, "What is the explanation of Bryan?"

ROSEBURG SHIPS 12 CRATES OF ROSES FOR CARNIVAL

The two crates containing the most choice flowers will be presented to the king and queen of the festival. Of the balance in bulk, a large portion will be exhibited in one of the street windows of Meier & Frank's establishment, while the remainder will be arranged in huge bouquets and placed in the leading hotels. The bouquiers will be given away as long as they last. Every rose tens distributed and every exhibit will have attached a ribbon bearing the word "Roseburg," together with a few other words of advertisement. Upon arrival in Portland, the roses will be taken in charge by a committee of the lady "boosters" club of Roseburg, to whom credit is due for the origin of such a clever advertising scheme.

THE OLD HOWARD RANCH. Three miles south of Medford and 2 1/2 miles west of Phoenix, is now cut up in small tracts to suit the purchaser.

The disposition of the publicity bill settles that. Nobody can now doubt that the republicans hope only to carry the election by buying the electorate. The same scheme of bribe and sale which was revealed of late by the insurance investigations is to be relied on to flood the country with campaign funds stolen from the widow and the orphan, blasted out of the railways and the banks, filched from labor by frying the fat out of the manufacturers. See it this all.

And, whom do they hate? Mr. Bryan. Whom do they fear? Mr. Bryan. Else why are they so eager to defeat his nomination? If he is so weak and so easy to beat they ought to help him along toward that nomination.

Well, he is going to be nominated all the same, and if they can fool more than half the people all the time, maybe they will beat him; but they will have

WATER CARNIVAL ON WILLAMETTE ATTRACTS MANY

PORTLAND, Or., June 6.—Down on the Willamette last night there was a sight worth braving the damp breeze that blew up the river to see. The Willamette may not be altogether lovely in the daylight, but transformed into a fairy spectacle with countless small boats and graceful yachts sending shimmering rays of light over the water and marking their course by ripples of fire, it was a thing of beauty.

From below the bridges, where the big white Charleston lay, a wonderful object stretching out its arms of light in enormous ribbons that now picked out a crowd of sightseers on the bank, now a little motor boat in the river and now one of the other warships in the harbor above Riverside street, where the sailboats were maneuvering, their graceful masts and sails outlined in Japanese lanterns, the river was alive with boats of very description, all decorated and all filled with laughing people.

Launches in Gay Dress.

Commander H. C. McAllister, chairman of the water carnival, was in the cruiser Charleston's launch, and directed the review and parade from it. The Charleston had two steam launches in the parade, both handsomely decorated, and with sailors on board burning red fire and discharging fireworks, they made an attractive addition to the carnival.

The gasoline boat Koos, decorated with strings of colored lights, a double row of them around the rail from stem to stern, and with strings of electric globes running to the flagstaff Maypole fashion, the lights alternating and the cabin banked with ferns and roses, was exceptionally beautiful and carried off a first prize in the trophy contest. There were scores of canoes and launches, motor boats, catamarans, ketchicabots and cutters, all decorated in the Japanese lantern and all adding to the beauty of the scene.
