

BUTTE FALLS' NEW SCHOOL

Seven Bids Are Received
---Bronson Gets Contract
---Widow Not a Singer,
but a Wheeler & Wilson

There were seven bids put in for building the new schoolhouse ranging from $4500 to $5000. Mr. Bronson of Butte Falls was the lowest and will receive the contract.

There is a certain widow in our midst and two gentlemen named Wheeler and Wilson are rivals for her hand, one of them asked the widow if she was a "singer." She promptly answered "no," she was a "Wheeler & Wilson." It is now up to these gentlemen.

J. H. Miller, manager of Butte Falls Lumber company, is making a hurried trip to Medford.

Horace Nicholson and Mr. Hewlett of Medford, with their families, arrived Thursday and have gone in camp at the Nicholson homestead to remain some time.

W. M. Duprey has brought in a large load of supplies for his boarding house.

C. P. Briggs, postmaster and druggist, is laying in a fine large stock of goods. He has added a soda fountain, so have also Claspill & Wheeler to their stores.

We have a fine set of young people among us who are ever ready to assist in all entertainments and render most excellent service. Thanks.

J. P. Hughes has completed the painting of his store building, the work being done by Clyde Smith.

C. O. Baker has about finished up his residence and tastefully arranged the grounds around and now has one of the most attractive homes in this vicinity.

The road supervisor has his men out doing some needed work on our roads. Some young men declined to work, but when told they could choose between work and the county jail, they gave in. The law is plain and you must either work or pay.

Frank Netherland, who has been building a home near Derby, was suddenly prostrated on Tuesday morning from a severe attack of incipient pneumonia. He was conveyed to his home in the Falls and Dr. Helt immediately summoned, who is now in attendance. Mr. Netherland has the best of nurses and will certainly come through this spell, which will be good news to his many friends.

Mr. Grover and Dr. Bruce came down from their homesteads. They report that many of the settlers lose all their crops, cabins, gardens and improvements by the authorized survey, but that the more fortunate will turn in and help their neighbors to home themselves and families. It would be hard to find a more intelligent and worthy class of men and families than those settled upon these unsurveyed lands.

Mr. Hoehling of Sills Springs homestead is back from the valley and at work on his place.

Neil Kelso and wife and Miss Richardson of Medford rode into Butte Falls from Willow Creek.

The correspondent of The Tribune for Butte Falls has made your paper solid among the Butte Fallsites. The paper is eagerly expected and Butte Falls items read with great interest. The seed will sprout and The Tribune will reap a profitable harvest.

The hotel under the management of Aaron Beck, assisted by his son-in-law, Law Adams, is liberally patronized and so far as concerned is giving good satisfaction.

Several of our citizens tried their skill in piscatorial sports during the week, among them Mr. Owens and Hughes, and were rewarded with fine catches of beautiful mountain trout.

John Obenchain has been doing business in the Falls lately.

Nearly all the stumps have been removed from Broadway and the good work still goes on. Messrs. Cleveland, Lewis, Cadzow, Baker brothers and others are in charge and doing most excellent service. Private contributions paid for this work.

W. E. Entrop, accompanied Scott Claspill to the valley Tuesday.

Mr. Leadow and the Baker brothers have erected for themselves neat cottages, besides investing in several lots. These are the right kind of boys, as they are industrious and dependable.

It is reported that Messrs. Claspill & Wheeler will add a stock of dry goods to their store and that a new corner from Michigan will have charge of this branch.

Frank Netherland is building himself a home at his ranch near Derby and improving generally.

Will Chambers and family left Tuesday morning for the Klamath country.

A most interesting and delightful commercial club meeting was held a week ago Tuesday night. Many important steps looking towards the betterment of the town in all of its material, social and financial interests were taken, and after the regular program the ladies took charge and gave a most pleasing entertainment, following this by refreshments. To Mrs. Duprey, Mrs. Mahoney, Mrs. Boughton, Mrs. Miller and the young ladies much praise was voted by all present.

Dr. Phemeter, a large orange orchardist of California, was so favorably impressed with the business and residential possibilities of Butte Falls that he has determined to make large investments.

Mr. Coon of Portland, who has been investigating Butte Falls and surroundings, is contemplating the establishment of a furniture factory, while Mr.

Hartshorn of Sacramento, Cal., expresses himself as likely to open a large mercantile establishment. The above gentlemen, controlling large capital, will be instrumental in bringing other money and people among us. They both attended the Club meeting and spoke encouraging words of our town.

John Erickson, who has been in the valley working, has returned to his homestead, taking in a load of supplies.

A generous contribution was given Rev. Mr. Owens last Sunday night. The general sentiment was expressed that all moneys contributed to religious services be applied to Mr. Owens and kept within our town and not expended otherwise. We will welcome all preachers, but we will confine our gifts to home talent.

Alfred A. Clark of Giltner, Neb., arrived from the valley Tuesday before last and continued on to visit his brother on the unsurveyed lands.

Mr. Norris of Medford chaperoned Messrs. Hartshorn, Cook and Phemeter to the Falls. These latter gentlemen are capitalists from the north and east in quest of investments.

R. H. Harris met with the misfortune of having one of the wheels of his auto break while motoring from Castor Mill to Eagle Point. The machine was repaired, but again broke down and Mr. Harris provided other means of reaching his destination.

SPORTING NOTES.

After losing four games straight to the Seals, Portland finally braced up and won the two last. It is still at the top, leading Los Angeles by one point.

Joe Gans, the "old master," is no more a power in the pugilistic world which now rings with the praises of Battling Nelson, the seemingly invincible Norseman.

Packey McFarland and Freddie Welch fought a draw at Los Angeles July 4. Jim Jeffries was referee. The fight is said to have proven that Packey is the best man, however.

On the showing made it would hardly do to say that Gans lost because he is old and ring-sore. It is doubtful if Gans in his prime could have lived through such a storm of action and buffeting as he experienced today.

Two games were played at Ashland during the past few days, one on July 4 and the other on Sunday. Jacksonville won the first, which was for a purse of $75, beating Ashland by a score of 15 to 5. The loser put the Indian sign on Grants Pass in the next game, however, by a vote of 9 to 7.

During the Albany races held at Albany, Or., last week, Dellah, owned and driven by H. Rutherford, of San Bernardino, Cal., paced an exhibition mile on the S. S. Bailey track in 2:07 1/4. She went against her record of 2:08 for a purse offered by the local Fourth of July racing committee, and made good.

As for Nelson, the further he went the stronger and livelier he became. He certainly made good his claim to be known as the Durable Dane. When it's all over it is simply giving further point to the contention that "you can't dope fighters." Unholz had the better of Nelson. Britt defeated Nelson at the Auditorium. What Gans did to Unholz and Britt are among the pathetic memories of the ring game.

The combined effects of exhaustion and body bombardment did for Gans and he sank as a scuttled ship sinks in the seventeenth round of the great fight Saturday. As her oars on his knees with drooping head and heaving chest he heard the snarl of the dense crowd. It was the turmoil that marked the passing of the champion. It was cold comfort for Joe probably to know that there would have been just as riotous a demonstration if the other man had fallen. It was simply the royal salute that heralds a great ring triumph and it mattered little to those who cheered who was the victor.
