NEED OF GOOD ROADS.

Roads in Jackson county were never in poorer condition than at the present time, and good roads are needed worse than any other improvement. It is therefore desired that every aid be extended the good roads agitation so that public sentiment may be fully aroused to the necessity of needed legislation to secure the desired result.

Experts on good roads have been delegated to conduct this campaign of education by the newly formed State Good Roads association, and co-operation of the people of Jackson county is essential to accomplish needed reforms.

The automobile owner is not the only one interested. The farmer is still more concerned. Where the auto driver goes for pleasure, the farmer goes on business, and a good highway to place his products at market is essential to his prosperity. Besides, good roads enhance the value of all property reached, and the farmer is more vitally interested than the city man.

CLEAN UP YARDS AND STREETS.

There never was a time in the history of Medford when the streets in the business section had as ragged, unkempt and uncouth appearance as at the present time. Seventh street and C streets look more like somebody's unkept back yard than the main thoroughfares of a city.

Part of this is caused by the work of placing water mains, laying sewers, and installing curbing and is the litter left by contractors. Part is due to negligence by the authorities, who, expecting an early paving, have entirely neglected the thoroughfares.

Medford expects E. H. Harriman, Governor Chamberlain and other distinguished visitors tomorrow, and an effort should be made to clean up a little before their arrival. There is no sense in brazenly parading our slovenliness. Every resident merchant and property owner should see that his yard is clean and the street in front of his place free from litter, if he has to do it himself.

NUMBER HOUSES AND NAME STREETS.

To a layman, there seems to excuse for not placing signs on streets and numbering houses, so as to secure free mail delivery. The necessary ordinances were passed by the city council six months ago, but nothing has been done to enforce them, and half the people in the city cannot tell what street they live upon or so describe the house that a person can find it.

Asy any merchant regarding the difficulty he experiences in delivering merchandise. Half of his troubles is due to the inability of delivery clerks to find addresses given according to landmarks that only the native knows.

CAN EQUIP FOR TEACHING WITHOUT LEAVING HOME

Quite a number of important changes have been made in the revised course of study for the elementary and high schools of Oregon prepared by Superintendent of Public Instruction Ackerman.

A teachers' training class course is suggested as an optional course for the tenth, eleventh and twelfth-year pupils in the high schools of the first grade. Four lines of work are prescribed: art of teaching, 14 weeks; observation work seven weeks; practice in teaching, seven weeks; state course of study, four weeks; practical school problems, four weeks.

Pupils contemplating this work are to be given certificates which will be honored at any state normal school in lieu of the work prescribed in pedagogy in the freshman year. A detailed outline of the work to be attempted in the observation work and also in the problems to be solved worked out in the course of study.

The teachers' training course is designed to be of assistance to high school students who intend to teach but feel they cannot leave home to fit them selves for that work.

Superintendent Ackerman is of the opinion that many students who take this course will become so interested in it that they will eventually take up more advanced work in one of the regular normal schools.

Bookkeeping is made a half-year subject. It will be taken in the first half of the ninth, and botany is made a mandatory subject in the last half of the ninth grade. A two-year commercial course designed for the eleventh and twelfth grade pupils in the high schools of the first class is offered. This course practically parallels the

MANY MEDFORD PEOPLE VISITING IN KLAMATH FALLS

Miss Agnes Piel, who has been visiting her uncle and family, A. W. Piel, left yesterday morning for her home in Medford.

Medford has sent her share of pleasure seekers to the Klamath country during the past month. A large number of people from that city have visited Crater lake and the resorts in the north end of the county in the past few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Horsing are in the city from Medford and will remain here a few days attending to business matters. Mr. Horsing is a firm believer in the future of the Rogue River city.

What Papers Say

MUST FACE THE ISSUE.

(New York Evening Post, Rep.) The campaign will be difficult. It is indeed to talk of a walkover for Taft. He himself makes no secret of his belief that Bryan's chances of election are better than they have ever been before. The republicans will know that they have been fighting before the battle is over. They cannot bring out their old hopes. The country is not going to be frightened into rejecting Bryan.

Bury the Knocker

Bury the knockers out in the woods in a beautiful hole in the ground where the woodpecker pecks and the humble bee hums and the straddle bug straddles around. He is no good to the town to push; too unpractical, stinky and dead, but he wants the whole earth and part of the crust and the stars that shine over his head. Then bustle him off to the humble bee's roost and bury him deep in the ground; he's of no use here, get him out of the way, and make room for the sun who is sound.

SPORTING NOTES

For the first time, the Los Angeles team seems to have a struggle hold on the pennant. They have just taken turns walloping every team in the league, finally downing their old rival, the Beavers, four out of six games. This series has been a close one, but the Angels had just enough of an edge to give the fans assurance. Two of the games went extra innings, of which each team won one. Saturday's was a 15-inning affair, a pitcher's battle between Gray and Ross.

Freddie Welch, the English light weight champion, was awarded the decision over Johnny Murphy of San Francisco at the end of 25 rounds, fought in the Jeffries athletic club Vernon arena, Los Angeles. Murphy fell through the last five rounds in a groggy condition under a rain of blows that cut his nose and lips to ribbons and closed both eyes.

Minor Heli, the great pitcher, has broken his record of 2:10 1/2 by doing the mile at the grand western circuit meet in 2:00 1/2, cutting a clear second from his previous time. The first quarter was paced in 0:29 1/2, the half in 0:59, the three quarters in 1:29 1/2. The last eighth was negotiated in 0:14 1/2.

Pittler Evans of the Hartford club broke all records last week. He pitched a game that is the talk of the baseball world and may not be equaled in several decades. Twenty-seven batters faced him and not one reached first base, nor did one hit the ball out of the infield. Cy Young, Johnny Ward and Richmond of the Worcester club have kept 27 batters off first base, but Evans is the first pitcher on record to give his outfielders no work. The Bridgeport club was the victim.

Central Oregon Livestock and Agricultural association, which holds its fair at Prineville, October 12 to 17, has issued its price list and race program. Special premiums are offered in many classes for horses, cattle, sheep, swine, poultry and dairying. The race program is: October 1, first race, one-fourth mile, $100; second race, five furlongs, $150; October 14, first race, three furlongs, $150; second race, six furlongs, $200; October 15, first race, one-half mile, $175; second race, one mile, $250; October 16, first race, three and a half furlongs, $175; second race, trotting for Cook county horses, $100; third race, mile and an eighth, $400; October 17, first race, handicap, five furlongs, $200; second race, consolation or other special, $100.
