

Social and Personal

Order your trees for fall plant now. C. F. Cook has the best.

Mrs. Henry Albers of Roxy precinct is reported to be quite sick.

Dr. Carter spent Sunday with his family, who are camping at Colectin.

William Noah of Sams Valley, the pioneer, spent Saturday in Medford.

C. D. Hazelrigg and his family have returned from their trip of vacation.

Full line of extra fine imported bulbs at Portland prices. C. F. Cook, the nursery man.

Frank E. Bybee, the well known stock man, was over from North Jacksonville Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pendleton of Table Rock were among the many in Medford Saturday.

L. H. Meigs and H. Pohlman of Orchard Home transacted business in Medford Saturday.

Judge Charles Prim is among the southern Oregon colony who are sojourning at Newport.

L. L. Love and W. K. Pries, who live near Central Point, transacted business in Medford Saturday.

Misses Isie McCully and Amalin Britt of Jacksonville were among their Medford friends Saturday.

Mrs. Fred Cartwright, who has been sojourning at Newport during the past fortnight, is at home again.

Dr. J. R. Keene and wife have left for a visit to Peyton, Or. They expect to be gone until September 5.

Charles Duman was over from Applegate Saturday in company with several other residents of that section.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin McDonogh have returned from a trip to the hills, where they spent their vacation very pleasantly.

John P. Miller, postmaster of Jacksonville, accompanied by his partner, Emil Britt, went to Colectin Sunday morning.

Mrs. C. E. Gladstone will lecture on South America at the Free Methodist church, Tenth and G streets, on Tuesday evening, August 26, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Gladstone has lived in South America for many years and her lecture will be very interesting.

Scott Davis and family returned yesterday from an outing at Newport. They report a very enjoyable vacation amid the cool ocean breezes. Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Warner leave for Newport this evening and will occupy the cottage which the Davises have just vacated.

J. U. Wilke, former councilman from the First ward, and Mr. Macklin, an insurance agent, have bought the McClelland place, located on Upper Rogue river, and containing several hundred acres of good land, paying $10,000 therefor. Considerable stock, farming implements, etc., were included. These gentlemen will plant a large portion of the land in fruit trees.

Grace P. Edmunds has been given a divorce from Charles H. Edmunds, in the state circuit court for Multnomah county. The defendant failed to appear. The testimony offered by his wife put Edmunds in a most unenviable light. She said he had been continually cruel, is given to habitual drunkenness, has beaten her, and devotes considerable of his time to dissolute women. His flirtations were a subject of constant boast in her presence, she said. The parties are well known in Medford.

Superintendent J. Perry Wells of Jackson county and Superintendent Lincoln Savage of Josephine county have arranged for a joint teachers' institute to be held the latter part of October, probably the 28th, 29th and 30th. It will be held either here or at Ashland, which has not yet been determined. In addition to local talent, Superintendent Wells is planning to secure foreign speakers of note, and it is planned to make the program of more than usual interest to teachers, and all those who are concerned with the schools of the valley.

RUSHING TROOPS TO END FINLAND REVOLT

HELSINGFORS, Finland, August 24.—Russia is hurrying troops into Finland in anticipation of a general revolt, according to information brought to this city today. So far the mobilization has been carried on secretly, but the facts are now known and have aroused great excitement throughout Finland.

Officials of this place are trying to minimize the extent of the military operations, but they cannot conceal their conviction that they believe the present conditions are threatening.

The Finnish diet is the center around which the present storm is raging, and the early dissolution of the body by the czar is expected to precipitate trouble. Russia evidently views with alarm the strength shown in the body by the liberal majority, and leaders of the liberal movement have repeatedly asserted that they would be immediately arrested but for Russia's fear that such a movement would be the signal for the opening of a campaign with which the czar is not ready to deal. It is now believed Russia proposes to deprive Finland of its constitution.

PROMINENT FRUITMEN EXPECTED TOMORROW

W. P. Stark and W. J. Ovinge, prominent fruit men of Missouri, will reach this city Tuesday on their tour of the fruit districts of the west.

WILL MAKE REPORT ON PEAR BLIGHT

WASHINGTON, August 24.—The attention of the experts of the bureau of plant industry in the department of agriculture has been called to the claims being made and extensively advertised in California relative to an alleged cure for pear blight.

This cure consists in treating the trees with a substance which enters the sap and is said to prevent the development of blight. The claims made for the treatment have been investigated by the department experts and orchards which have been under treatment for two years by the method have been examined with the result that trees were found to be in very bad condition with holdover blights. The only effect which the treatment seems to have had on the trees is to retard their growth, and as a result of this blight makes less active developments.

AMERICAN HUMORISTS CRACKING JOKES IN DENVER

DENVER, Col., August 24.—This city is shrouded in darkest gloom today. The American Press Humorists' association is holding its sixth annual convention here.

Lanky humorists, fat humorists and various other brands of funny men are here for the occasion, all wearing funeral faces and appearing as gloomless as though they were attending a wake.

Frank T. Scarright of Los Angeles is president of the association. S. E. Kiser of Chicago is vice-president and J. Mortimer Lewis of Houston, Tex., is secretary.

The chief event of the convention will be a session at which the funny men of the nation will exchange witticisms and laughable compositions.

SIMONEAU, FRIEND OF STEVENSON, DEAD

MONTEREY, Cal., August 24.—Jules Simoneau, patron and beloved friend of Robert Louis Stevenson, and once an interesting figure of California's pioneer history, is dead today at his picturesque home in this city.

The end came last night after a long illness.

Simoneau became famous through the peculiar and admirable friendship that sprang up between him and Stevenson when the great English novelist came to California for his health. Stevenson lived for several months at his little hostelry in the old city of Monterey, and the two spent many hours each day in conversation and over the chess-board. Since the author's death, Simoneau's Bohemian restaurant has been the Mecca of Stevenson's admirers. In the volume of travels Stevenson mentions Simoneau with great affection.

Water for Jacksonville

The water question has taken on new light and the prospects are good for a water system for Jacksonville. The proposed sight is in Jackson creek, just below the point where Centroll gulch intersects Jackson creek. The board has investigated this water supply and were so encouraged that they employed a water engineer to make measurements and survey out a proposed sight for the dam. His report will be prepared and come before the board at the next meeting, September 1, when, if it be found that the report is favorable the board will take steps to float a bond issue.

Musicians, attention! Wanted, piano, cornet and clarinet players who are willing to organize small orchestra for dance work. Address or see J. W. Wilson, Hale's Music store. 134.

TERRIBLE PANIC AFTER STEAMER STRIKES ROCK

BERGEN, Norway, August 24.—Passengers who escaped from the Norwegian steamer Folgen Fonden which sank three minutes after striking near Skonviks today, describe the terrible panic following the collision of the boat with the rocks and declare that they think more than 40 perished. The first report was that not more than that number had gone down with the ship.

Fifteen bodies have been recovered and a search for the remainder is being made today. The steamer carried 70 passengers, several of whom were natives. Those who were rescued say that many of those aboard lost control of themselves and leaped overboard before lifeboats were lowered. Boats from shore reached the scene too late to be of any assistance.

GERMAN AMBASSADOR HAS DIED OF CANCER

BERLIN, August 24.—Freiherr Speck von Sternberg, the German ambassador to the United States, died at Heidelberg today following an operation for cancer. He had suffered a long time and the operation was performed as a heroic measure to remove the cancer, which was on his face.

Baron von Sternberg was born in England on August 21, 1852, and became ambassador to the United States in 1889.

The German ambassador was one of the most popular members of the diplomatic set, and his illness had caused much concern. He was one of the most intimate friends of President Roosevelt, who always addressed him as "Specky."

The Baroness von Sternberg was the beautiful Miss Langham of Kentucky, the sister of Arthur G. Langham of Louisville. She has been one of the leading figures in Washington society.

SEATTLE, Wash., August 24.—Although Moore City, Alaska, has been in ashes since July 3, news of it did not reach here until today. Passengers arriving from Nome and St. Michaels on the Northwestern brought the report, saying that the United States commissioner's office, the jail and some shanties were the only buildings left.

GRAND HARVEST SALE. Read Carefully for There is a Reason. Ever since we opened this store we have been running sales. Why? In order that we might demonstrate to the people of southern Oregon that we could and would save them money. The reason for this sale is simple—We have bought very heavy for this fall and must have money with which to meet our bills in order to save the discounts, which amount to six, seven and eight per cent for cash. You see, if we save these discounts, and turn our stock three times a year, we have saved enough in discounts alone to enable us to sell very close to wholesale cost. We Must Raise $4,000 Now. In order to pay cash for our goods and save these discounts for our customers, we need $4000 by September seventh, and in order to show you that we mean every word that goes into our advertisements we have gone through the store and marked almost every line of goods now in the store at prices that average less than the cost of production. SUPPLY YOUR NEEDS FOR FALL NOW and save all the profits and more. SALE COMMENCES TUESDAY MORNING. SEE NEXT ISSUE FOR FULL PARTICULARS AND PRICES. SEE THE WINDOWS BAKER-HUTCHASON CO.
