

Social and Personal

Medford went north Monday evening on a business visit.
 E. V. Medyanski, the Big Butte granger, is down from his homestead.
 J. D. Heard and his family were over from Sterling mine Monday afternoon.
 Dr. R. T. Burnett, county recorder, spent a few hours in Medford Monday evening.
 Mr. Rheil and W. A. Hillis were guests of J. B. and William Hillis of Wimer last week.
 John P. Rolfs was down from Gold Hill Saturday. He is still engaged in mining and prospecting.
 Mrs. L. J. Lewis, who has been visiting in Medford and Ashland, returned to Jacksonville Monday.
 Mr. Hutchason and Ben Garnett and their families are rusticated at Oilestin. They will return in a few days.
 E. C. Boeck, the woodwright, and his family, who have been rusticated in the Rogue River hills, are at home again.
 Charles Turpin, former chief of police, who is now an honest grocer, was in Medford Saturday. So was his brother Al.
 George Peil, who was formerly interested in the Medford laundry, is now engaged in the same business at Vancouver, Wash.
 David Keith, the Salt Lake capitalist, arrived at Hollywood orchard Monday evening for a visit with A. C. Allen and his family.
 J. M. Eader of Eagle Point precinct, former sheriff of Jackson county, and his wife spent Sunday in Medford.
 Martin Pernoll is in Medford more often nowadays, as he is hauling freight for the Applegate store from here instead of from Grants Pass, as formerly.
 P. E. Beaulieu, a roman of H. T. Findley's fine orchard at Orchard Home was in Medford Monday. He has been investigating the possibilities of the country about Woodville as fruit raising district and seems favorably impressed therewith.
 R. E. Doane, representative of the Los Angeles company which is developing the coal deposits southeast and northwest of Medford, spent Monday in the city. He is sanguine as ever of a favorable outcome to the those enterprises.
 Charles E. Short and Mrs. Maggie E. Hearn were married at Grants Pass on August 19. They are both well known in Portland. Mrs. Short being formerly clerk of the local circle, Norma, W. O. W., and Mr. Short at one time conducting a printing establishment on Front street. The latter is now engaged in business at Merlin, Josephine county, where they will be at home after September 5. At present they are at Crater Lake, with Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Stevens and George Bruner of Portland.
 Walter H. Drennan, formerly a railroad engineer, later a clerk in one of the state offices at Salem, who is known in this section, has been arrested in Portland on a charge of insanity. He made an attack on his wife and she feared that he would kill her. Drennan was severely injured in the wreck of a train on the Southern Pacific while he was at work as an engineer ten years ago. Several persons were killed and Drennan's life was for some time despaired of, his skull being crushed and one arm so badly mutilated that it was amputated. His mental trouble is attributed to the effects of the injuries he received in the wreck.
