Roque River Valley Fruit Brings Third Highest Figures in Eastern Markets

Rogue River valley Bartlett pears are bringing a third higher figures than pears from any other section in th United States in eastern markets, and this despite poor conditions prevailing and the fact that the quality is below the average. Only a few ears have reached the market, and the price brought was low compared to that of last year. Medford fruit is, however, bringing as high a price per box as those from other sections by the bar rel. The New York market this wee has been badly demoralized and poorer than that of any other section in the

New York Apple Prices.

The Producers' Price Current of Nev York, under date of August 29, give the following report of market condi-

Apples-We have a had a fair suppl both from up-river and western New York sections this week and the mar ket has shown very little change in the range of values. The demand is fair, but chiefly for the better grades and much of the supply consists of me mium and lower qualities, for which comparatively easy prices have to be necepted. A good deal of the stock arriving, consisting of ordinary to fair average qualities of fall fruit of mixed varieties, has been selling at a range of $2@2.50, with inferior qualities low by. Large green apples and fancy large red tables sorts have been inquired for and bring very good prices, but it re quires strictly fancy fruit to reach on outside quotations, Large varieties of crabapples move slowly; some call for small at good prices, but few such ar riving.

Eastern Pear Prices.

Pears-We have had a continued lib eral supply of Bartlett pears, most of which are of small to medium sizes, often cloudy and largely packed in short barrels. The market for such has been quiet with the great bulk of the busi ness ranging from $2502.75 per barrel, with inferior lats even lower. There is some scarcity of large clear Bartletts in full sized packages and these have sold from $350.3.50, but there are comparatively few worth the outside price Very few Clapp's Favorite now arriv-ing and these hold steady when of large size, hogh color and fine condition; ordinary lots, however, have had to go comparatively low, especially some wasty goods. Most of the Seckel are of small to medium size and offered freely in range of $2003 per barrel, some very small and poor going lower, but good sized Seekel have sold up to $3.50. The commoner varieties of pears, ineluding all of the early receipts of late varieties, have been meeting a dull market with prices in buyers' favor.

COLLEGE NEWS NOTES

The fall session will open September 7th and wil lbe held in the rooms occu-pied at present at the Aikin building, remnining here until the Swedenburg building is completed. From the prospects at present there wil lbe a larger attendance than ever. Miss Hattie Cingcade of Eagle Point was the first student to enroll in Sep-tember; 1904. She completed the com-mercial course and has been employed as a bookkeeper in San Francisco for more than three years. She has now returned for the course in shorthand and is the first to caroll in September, 1908. Miss Cingcade evidently knows where to secure a business education.

MARSHAL WILLIAMS IS DISCHARGED BY MAYOR

A flurry was caused in local munic pal circles Monday, when Mayor Hap ins notified Marshal Willias that his ervices would not be required after that date. It is understood that the marshal took a vacation of several lavs without permission from the may o retrench somewhat in the expense necount, caused the mayor to take the action he did. Marshal Williams, bowever, stood on a provision of the char-ter which says the mayor may not remove an appointive officer except with the approval of the council. The charter seems to be somewhat conflicting on this point, one clause stating that the mayor may, at his pleasure, remove such officials, while is another place it says that such action may only be taken by the executive with the approval of e council. Mayor Hopkins learned of the conflicting provision of the charter esterday forenoon just as he was start-ng with his family to Crater Lake and further action on the matter was deferred until the regular monthly meeting next Monday evening.-Herald.

FOREST FIRE BREAKS OUT ANEW IN KLAMATH COUNTY

KLAMATH FALLS, Sept. 5,—The forest fire in the vicinity of Round ake, northwest of here, has broken at anew and is beyond the control of the fire wardens, J. Y. Johnson, one of the Weyerhaeuser men, sent in this morning for a crew to help fight the ire. Charles Baldwin left at 9 o'elock with a team and eight men.

Several fires have been in this section for some weeks, but they have been kept under control. A party of men were fighting fire in that district last week, but returned to town after putting it out. Since then, however, it has started up again and is now doing considerable damage. The men on the ground have been unable to do any thing and were compelled to send for free from the trouble." assistance. The late fire is near Clover
