

BUFFALO BILL HAS GENUINE TRAIN WITH HIM

Among the new and varied scenes which will be depicted with Buffalo Bill's Wild West is one showing the various stages of far western development and "the great train holdup." The depredations of train-robbers outlaws have been a constant menace to the advance of civilization in the settlement of the prairies. With the advance of time their occupation has become so hazardous through the vigilance of railroad officials and the methods employed for their capture and punishment that train holdups are now, fortunately, few and far between. Along the line of the Union Pacific and its tributary roads, train-robbing has become almost a thing of the past. This state of affairs has been brought about by the good work of the "bandit hunters of the Union Pacific," a body of men experienced in "roughing it" and familiar with men and country where bandits were wont to thrive. These avengers of lawlessness are provided with a special car, in which their horses are stabled, ammunition is stored and all is held in readiness for immediate action in case of need.

Has Real Train.
Colonel Cody has prepared for his wild west exhibition a reproduction of one of the typical train holdups which were formerly a frequent occurrence. Science has provided him with a practical train drawn by a practical engine, and the scene painter has created a rugged mountain scene in which to present the melodrama. The maneuvers of the bandits in stopping and robbing the train are shown in detail and the arrival of the "bandit hunters of the Union Pacific" gives an idea of the quick vengeance which is meted out to the lawless in the still sparsely settled west. Coincident with presentations of "the great train holdup" will be shown "the battle of Summit Springs," as the chief feature with the wild west. There will also be shown "a holiday at T. E. ranch," in which the life of the plainsman is reflected, and the dangers attendant upon pioneering will be set forth graphically in "the attack on an emigrant train." These western scenes will form only a part of Buffalo Bill's entertainment; there will be rough riding, military displays and exhibitions of horsemanship which are shown in no other entertainment now before the amusement-loving public.

SHERIFF AFTER MAN WHO PASSED BAD CHECKS

KLAMATH FALLS, Sept. 19.—The sheriff and deputies have been scouring the surrounding country today looking for a man who has been forging checks and passing them upon the public. The authorities state that the man's name is John Larsson, but that he has been using several other names. He purchased a suit of clothes yesterday from the Boston store and gave in payment a check on the First National bank and signed with the name of W. O. Webb, the proprietor of the O. K. feed stable. The check was made out to Theodor Ramsey and was for $41.25. A man who is believed to be the same party, presented a check to cashier Delzell, of the First National bank just before closing time last night. The check was for $200 with the signature of W. O. Webb attached and made out to Frank Clute. Mr. Delzell felt satisfied that the signature was genuine, but told the man that he would have to be identified. The man left with the check and did not return.

When the matter was reported this morning it was found that the man had left town. John Schallack started on the road toward the gap and William Wagner and J. A. Hance went down the Summers road on the south side of the valley. A telephone message was received about 3 o'clock from Mr. Wagner stating that they had caught the man at one of the government camps and had started for town with him.

SOIL SURVEY OF REGION ABOUT KLAMATH FALLS

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., Sept. 19.—The department of agriculture has covered a vast extent of territory in Klamath county in making a soil survey, and the work will be continued during the fall. A. T. Sweet of the bureau of soils, who has had charge of the work, states that he has found the origin and character of the soil very similar to that of the Yakima valley in Washington, and barring climatic conditions the same results should be obtained.

To new farmers settling in the Klamath basin this soil survey that the government is making will be of great value, as it will tell them what crops are best suited to certain localities, manner of handling different soils, methods of irrigation, etc. Copies of the survey will be obtainable from the congressman of this district, or from the bureau of soils, Washington, D. C.

NEW LINE OPENED ON GRAND TRUNK-PACIFIC

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 19.—Charles Hayes, president of the Grand Trunk Pacific, arrived here today in a special car with officials of the railroad. This marks the opening of the line. The first through train over the 650 miles of track that almost connects Winnipeg with Edmonton will leave Winnipeg Monday, when the entire stretch of road will have been laid.

MAJOR GENERAL LUARD DIES BY OWN HAND

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Unable to bear any longer the veiled accusation that he had killed his wife, whose body was found shot through the head in a lane at Seven Oaks, August 24, Major General Charles Edwards Luard is believed to have thrown himself in front of a train on the Southeastern railroad yesterday.

Major General Luard's body was found literally ground to a pulp near his home. All the circumstances point to the theory that the famous army officer committed suicide.

The coroner's jury that had been called to investigate the death of Mrs. Luard adjourned Thursday afternoon, September 23, without having reached any decision. It was intimated by the officers in the case that the murders would be arrested before the coroner's jury was together again.

Luard is thought to have believed that he would be accused of the murder of his wife. He left a note declaring that he could no longer bear the strain of the accusation. The note was found at his home.

The murder of Mrs. Luard was one of the mysteries of London. The general and his wife were walking through a lane in the evening, and Mrs. Luard complained of feeling badly and started back home. She had not gone far when she was killed by a rifle shot.

A cross-eyed hoppecker was arrested by Scotland Yard detectives, but was afterwards released. No motive has ever been advanced for the possible killing of Mrs. Luard by her husband.

RAIN WAS GENERAL OVER NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

The following dispatches show that the rain which fell here Tuesday was general and did much good:

YREKA, Cal., Sept. 17.—Yreka and vicinity were visited Tuesday by a delightful rain. In the afternoon a thunder shower came up and it rained quite hard for about half an hour. In the evening about 7 it began raining again and kept it up for an hour. It was very acceptable. This was the second time it has rained here this summer. The weather is a great deal cooler now, but is still threatening.

EDGEWOOD, Cal., Sept. 17.—The first rain of the season fell Tuesday afternoon and that night. This is the first time in about four months that the just has been laid.

KENNETT, Cal., Sept. 17.—Kennett has experienced its first instalment of winter. The complete change of weather was a decided surprise. The drop in temperature, the steady downfall of rain and the heavy overhanging clouds made the day seem more typical of February or March than of a summer month.

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., Sept. 17.—Klamath county has had its first rainfall of the season. It was not sufficient to lay the dust for any length of time, but nevertheless put out several of the forest fires raging near here. The precipitation during the past ten months has been very slight, not near up to the average.

BIGGS, Cal., Sept. 17.—Shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon this section was visited by quite a fall of rain. The rain Tuesday evening did not damage, but yesterday's will retard the drying of prunes, figs and other fruits. The outlook is good for more showers and unless warm weather follows soon the Tokay grape crop will be damaged very much.

NEW RULING WHICH WILL TIGHTEN IMMIGRATION LAWS

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 19.—It is announced at the office of Commissioner of Immigration H. H. North that the immigration laws referring to Chinese will be tightened considerably following a recent decision by the United States supreme court forbidding the immigration officials to examine returning orientals for disease.

The court has decided that when an oriental has once established residence in this country he cannot be subjected to an examination for trachoma before he is admitted a second time. The decision will result in more rigid examination being made of incoming orientals to establish their identity. Hitherto it has been possible for them to be examined to see if they were suffering from trachoma and there was a question about admissibility on other grounds.

WATCHING YOUNG WOMAN TO KEEP HER FROM INJURY

OAKLAND, Cal., Sept. 19.—Believed to be mentally unbalanced and in danger of suicide by brooding over the death of her brother, the late Durham S. Stevens, who was assassinated in San Francisco some months ago, Miss Rose Stevens is under surveillance here today.

The warrant which caused the arrest of Miss Stevens was sworn to by Percy W. Rochester, director of the Berkeley chamber of commerce. He charges that her actions have caused himself and his family much annoyance. Miss Katherine Stevens, a sister, is heartbroken over the affair. She desires to have the custody of her sister and keep her in a secluded place. Miss Stevens was recently brought here from Atlantic City.

FREEWATER FARMER IS INMATE OF SALEM ASYLUM

PENDLETON, Or., Sept. 19.—With his mind temporarily gone, C. Stewart, a prominent farmer of Freewater, is today an inmate of the asylum at Salem, where it was declared that his mental condition is due to worry over a crop failure. His strange action were not particularly noticed until Thursday morning after he had worked all night in his orchard.
