AMUSEMENTS

Minstrels at Anglo Opera House. Manager Hazelrigg has secured the Anglo opera house for Thursday night of this week.

Twenty-nine years is a long time for an amusement enterprise to be before the public, for the theatrical sea is a stormy one, and its coast is sailed gaily wrecks.

When you stop to think of the number of years Richards & Pringle's famous minstrels have been making the world laugh, you will admit that it is nothing short of marvelous.

Other minstrel companies have sprung up, flourished for a time and then disappeared, but this remarkable organization has gone along the even tenor of their way.

It's a great show they are offering this year, and it's new from stem to stern.

Seats are now on sale at Haskins' drug store.

HUSBAND IS A CONVICT SUES FOR ABSOLUTE DIVORCE

KENNETT, Cal., Oct. 17.—Hannah Gallagher of this place has brought suit for divorce George W. Gallagher, who is serving ten years in San Quentin for killing A. Garman at Kewick on Feb. 22, 1903.

Gallagher began serving time in June 1905. The fact that he is a condemned criminal is sufficient to insure a divorce for Mrs. Gallagher when the case is called.

Mrs. Gallagher stood by her husband through the months and months that he was in the county jail at Redding awaiting trial and fighting to secure a new trial.

A better example of wifely devotion is seldom seen. It is, of course, no reflection upon her that she should now seek a divorce.

TWO WELL KNOWN MEN OF SISSON KILLED

SISSON, Cal., Oct. 17.—This community was shocked by the news that two fatal accidents had happened.

Food Everton, a well known Southern Pacific conductor was killed in a week at camp No. 4 near McCloud. He had many friends in this community to whom his death was a sad blow.

Eljah Hale, a resident of McCloud, was killed there Tuesday evening by being crushed to death between two heavy logs on a logging train.

Two killed in an explosion; ten hurt. Springfield, Mass., Oct. 19A.—Two workmen were fatally injured and ten seriously hurt in an explosion in the mixing room of the Fiberoid company near here today.

The force of the explosion completely wrecked the interior of the plant. Most of the victims are being removed to the hospitals in this city.

Fasting in Japan.

From time out of mind, says the Japan Times, certain devotees of that country have visited a celebrated temple at Narita twice a year to perform the pious act of fasting within its sacred precincts.

A "fasting hall" has been specially erected for their accommodation. Observations kept on 250 men and 32 women who fasted showed that of the whole number 59 fasted less than a week, 174 fasted one week, 10 continued fasting two weeks, 14 fasted three weeks, and one went without food for five weeks.

Inquiry as to the motives of the fasters showed that 103 men and 25 women desired to rise in the world, 13 men and 2 women wanted to increase their business profits, 16 men prayed for the safety of their families, 13 men and 4 women sought cures of diseases and 10 men wanted general good luck.

Only three persons, two men and one woman, fasted in gratitude for the fulfillment of former prayers. "It need scarcely be said," remarks the Japan Times, "that the period of their fasting was the shortest."

Snowball Showers.

More than one explorer in cold climates has noted the curious phenomenon of a "snowball shower." The balls, it is true, are not very big, the average being about the size of a hen's egg, but they are true snowballs for all that—compressed globes of snow, not little lumps of ice or hail.

A fall of the kind occurred in north London in March, 1850, and at the time it was observed that the balls seemed five times as dense and compressed as ordinary snow and in no way to be told from the usual hand-made missiles.

They had fallen during the night and were strewn many layers thick over a very large area. No cause—except a doubtful electrical one—can be ascribed for the strange phenomenon, and mountaineers are apt to discredit the stories of snowball showers told them by the old guides till suddenly in the midst of an ordinary storm they find themselves assailed as though by myriads of mischievous schoolboys.

A Patient Judge.

A western judge, sitting in chambers, seeing from the piles of papers in the lawyers' hands that the first case was likely to be hotly contested, asked, "What is the amount in question?" "Two dollars," said the plaintiff's counsel. "I'll pay it," said the judge, handing over the money.

"Call the next case." He had not the patience of Sir William Grant, who, after listening for two days to the arguments of counsel as to the construction of a certain act, quietly observed when they had done, "That act has been repealed."—Argonaut.

Up Against a Hard One.

The great deliver into the secrets of nature who had accumulated a fortune and retired from active business in order to be able to give his whole time to study and experiments was observed to be cogitating profoundly.

"What are you giving your mind to now?" inquired one of his laboratory assistants. "I am merely wondering," he answered, "what becomes of all the corks."—Chicago Tribune.

In Doubt.

"That's a curious looking man you're driving," remarked the man who was whittling a pine stick. "Yassir," answered Ernestus Pinkley. "He is kind of curious."

"What will you take for him?" "What'll I take for him? Say, boss, is you referin' to that mule as a piece of property or an affliction?"—Washington Star.

A Map of Jackson County The Tribune and Southern Oregonian is having made at great expense a fine, colored, lithographed map of Jackson county. This map will show all cities, towns and villages, rivers and waterways, section and survey lines, railroads and projected railroads, wagon roads, forest reserve boundaries, election precincts and other data needed by everyone. All townships shown in colors. This up-to-date map will be ready for distribution some time in December. It will be sold only through The Tribune and Southern Oregonian. This will be your only chance to secure a good map of Jackson county, as all map editions are out of print and plates were destroyed in the San Francisco fire, necessitating new plates made at an enormous expense. Further details later. Ready in December.

YAKIMA BEST The Flour of the Hour For some time we have been trying to secure the agency for this flour. Foreign Apple Market Slow. W. N. White & Co., New York, state that American apples in Liverpool are in poor demand, New York Baldwin selling from 10 to 14c per barrel; Greenings 8c to 10c; boxes of Oregon Gravensteins 8d and 6d to 9d and 6d. These prices are low, but quite up to expectations. Because a few barrels realized good prices the week before some of the shipping agents distributed these fancy prices all over the country, but they forgot to tell that some of the fruit had been sold at prices that did not pay freight and charges. The cable today bears the opinion that even lower prices will prevail for a few weeks as the shipments to London, Liverpool and Glasgow have been heavy. At the present time European markets are not able to take quantities except at very low prices. At the prices now quoted with the increased charges now prevailing in Liverpool, the net return to the New York grower on Baldwin will be $1.62 per barrel, on Greenings $1.02 and to the Oregon shipper $1.04.

FLEET ROYALLY RECEIVED BY SONS OF NIPPON TOKIO, Oct. 19.—The first day of the reception of the American battle-ship fleet at Tokio, the capital of Japan, closed tonight with a brilliant dinner at the Imperial hotel, given to the officers of the fleet by Edward C. O'Brien, American ambassador to Japan. The dinner was attended by the diplomatic corps at Tokio, a large number of distinguished Japanese merchants and members of the cabinet. Good will between the United States and Japan was the keynote of the feast and the incidents of the visit of the American fleet to Australia were gloried by all the speakers.
