HAD TO HUSTLE TO RETIE BRIDAL PAIR'S LOOSE KNOT

WINSTED, Conn., Nov. 5.—Rector Griffith of the Episcopal church had to hustle yesterday to overtake Harold R. Bowman of New Preston and Miss Margaret T. Hitchcock of Cornwall, whom he had married at Limerock, in the town of Salisbury, on a license issued in the town of Cornwall.

"Hurry before it is too late," hollered the witnesses, after the mistake had been discovered. The young couple who had not been married at all under the law, were by that time well on their way to a hotel in Limerock. The rector sprinted to a phone and called up Miss Julia Goodwin, who lives on the road, half way.

She stepped the couple and held them till the minister arrived. He apologized for his blunder and went with them to Falls Village, where another license was obtained. A real knot was then tied in the directors' room of the bank, and the couple went on rejoicing.

CASTELLANE'S PETITION UP IN PARIS COURT

PARIS, Nov. 5.—Count Bond de Castellane's petition for a modification of the decree of divorce obtained by his wife (who was Miss Anna Gould of New York) on account of her subsequent marriage to Prince Helle de Sagan came up in court today, but at the request of the defense hearing was postponed until next Wednesday.

Great Revival Begins Tonight.

The long looked for revival at the Christian church begins tonight. Robert L. Whiston of Boston and Clay Longman of Bethany, Neb., are the evangelists. Mr. Whiston is a man of national reputation in the Christian church, having held some very successful meetings in the eastern churches. You will enjoy hearing him. He has been compared to a Kansas cyclone, not in destructiveness, but in accomplishing what he sets out to do. The singing will be one of the most enjoyable and interesting parts of the entire service. Everybody enjoys first-class music. You will have it at the Christian church any and all the time. Our own leader, Mr. Forrest Edmonds, cannot be excelled anywhere in Oregon. Mr. Longman will have charge of the chorus during the meeting. Special songs will be rendered at every service. Meeting begins promptly at 7:45. Cordial invitation.

SIERRA CUTOFF PASSES NEAR HISTORIC SPOT

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 5.—Considerable interest was manifested here today when it was learned that the new Sierra cutoff of the Southern Pacific railroad over the Truckee mountains would pass within a few yards of the cabin occupied by the Breen family, members of the ill-fated Donner party that perished near Donner lake. The survey for the cutoff had been made by railroad engineers to reduce some of the steep grades and difficult curves in the Truckee division, and when the survey to locate the Breen cabin was made by another party of engineers a few days ago it was discovered that it had stood within a few yards of the proposed line of railroad.

J. E. Breen, son of Edward P. Breen, who was a member of the Donner party and who lived in the cabin in that terrible period 62 years ago, arrived here late last night from the mountains, where he had been with a surveying party. When the general, C. P. McGlashen, of the survivors of the ill-fated Donner expedition, his daughter, Miss June L. McGlashen, and William Thompson, a Southern Pacific engineer who volunteered his services, he located the acre of ground on which the Breen cabin stood, which has been given to the state for a monument.

An immense wooden cross formerly marked the spot where so many of the Donner party died, but this was wrecked by the storms. A stone monument will be erected.

RESEARCH BUREAU DOING MUCH WORK IN STATE

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Nov. 5.—The Research Bureau of the department of Economics and Political Science of the University is collecting a great deal of valuable data for the use of the members of the legislature at the coming session. The facts on both sides of questions under consideration are gathered from all sources and placed in a convenient form for reference. Some of the questions being investigated are as follows: "Comparison of the financial provisions of the Oregon state constitution with those and with those of present day constitutions." "Graphic showing of the development of the different sources of Oregon state revenues." "The Pacific northwest internal waterways systems." "Oregon water power resources and a desirable state policy." "Graphic showing of the development of different lines of public expenditure." "Oregon's public lands policy." "Oregon's school fund and system of common school finance." "Oregon's wagon road appropriations and system of state highways." "Financial statistics of railroads of the Pacific north west." The information gathered will also be placed at the service of the public, who may get the results by inquiring at the university when the work is completed.

JOSEPHINE PROPERTY IS ASSESSED ON REAL VALUE

GRANTS PASS, Or., Nov. 5.—For the first time in its history, and in accordance with the present tax law, Josephine county property will this year be assessed on its real value instead of one-half or two-thirds its valuation as heretofore. While this will not materially affect the amount of taxation, it will make a much better showing for the county. Assessor Will Palla believes that it will actually reduce the levy, as it will more equitably distribute the burden of taxation, and create greater property value upon which to base county expenditure. The work of getting the county out of a very bad condition into which it has fallen, that of low valuation and high tax levy, was begun three years ago. In that period the property values of the county, as shown by the tax books, have almost doubled. For the past year alone there is an increase of 50 per cent. Last year the valuation given for the county was about $5,000,000. This year it will be $8,200,000.

KLAMATH IS GREAT COUNTRY FOR ALFALFA

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., Nov. 5.—That no section of the west can grow better alfalfa than the Klamath country is the report of A. T. Sweet of the bureau of soils of the agricultural department, who has been engaged the past summer in making a soil survey of the lands embraced in the Klamath project. The average yield per acre over the valley is about three tons, while some farmers who thoroughly understand the culture of alfalfa get five tons. Mr. Sweet estimates that 40 acres of good alfalfa land here will support 20 dairy cows with room for a few horses and hogs. With the present price of butter fat, 25 cents, the net return should be from $1200 to $2000 a year.

You Save Money by So Doing

Suppose there were no show windows, as was the condition in Medford a short time ago; one had to go to the store and have the clerk pull down the goods and then you could look at them after they were tossed around on the counter. But today it is different. You can come to this store sixteen hours out of every twenty-four and see a complete display of four different lines at once, and the prices are all in plain sight. Think of the time saved and think of the money we save you at the special sales.
