HILLCREST STANDS

shot off from the others. And for sleeping, the men have no rough plank shelves, so commonly found, but spring mattresses. In fact, everything for the comfort of the men which can be done has been done.

The packing house is a second building that has been built rightly. Cold storage rooms, private rooms for the packing girls and well equipped through out, it stands a testimonial to thoughtfulness.

The barns, the teams of mules and equipments in no instance show neglect. The orchard is run upon business principles and also is everything connected with it, even to the smallest details.

The residence alone is worthy of much praise if it could be given. An acetylene plant furnishes the light and sideboards, closets, great windows—all tend to the comfort of the occupant.

The Hillcrest orchards stands a testimonial of systematic and scientific fruit raising.

What the future will mean for Hillcrest can only be conjectured. The market for American apples is extending all over the world. Long recognized here as the king of fruits, its regal claims are gradually being admitted in other lands. The choicest of other fruits yield in time to the prince from over the sea. Italy tires eventually of her oranges and longs for the solid comforts of the apple. Austria wearies of olives, the Greeks find their current grapes unsatisfactory as a regular diet, nectarines and apricots pall on the taste of the Spaniard, and dates become tiresome to the Arabians. The extension of commerce has made all these nations acquainted with the great republic of the west and they long for the solace only to be had from the best of our apples. Trade follows demand and wealth awaits those who supply.

ALLEN PURCHASES SITE ON KLAMATH LAKE SHORES

A. C. Allen, who recently returned from Klamath Falls, has purchased a five-acre tract on the shores of lower Klamath lake, where his father, Colonel Allen, and himself will build summer homes. Mr. Allen states that it is almost impossible to secure building sites along the lake shore, as nearly all the shoreline belongs to E. H. Harriman, the Weyerhaeuser timber syndicate or to the Klamath Indian agency.

TRYING TO PATCH UP NEW BATTLESHIPS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The lid having been taken off, it has become known that the Newport conference substantiated the charges of naval defects pointed out in Commander Keyes' letter. The conference decided, however, that very few of these defects could be remedied in the North Dakota and Delaware, which are now 40 per cent completed, but suggested that if practicable, additional case armor of about 100 tons be placed around the smoke pipe and uptakes to protect them against splinters. The armor now being five inches, the additional armor would increase the protection to eight inches. The conference recommended that if practicable, an addition fire control must be placed forward of the smoke stack, so that in case the vision from the rear mast is obscured by smoke, a clear view could be secured from the other position.

The conference also hesitated about making extensive changes in the Florida and Utah, as the plans of those vessels required six months for preparation. As now designed the two after turrets on the Florida and Utah type are on the same level, and it was proposed a practicable to raise the second turret from aft so as to allow it to fire over the aft turret. This is proposed because in the event of the aft turret as now designed being disabled in certain positions the firing from the second turret would be limited. The weight so added to the second turret from aft could be counterbalanced by lowering the middle turret.

TO SPEND $16,000,000 IN STREET RAILWAYS

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 10.—Sixteen million dollars is the enormous amount of money the Washington Water Power company, which operates the electric street railway lines throughout Spokane and vicinity, and the interurban lines to Medical Lake and Cheney, intends to expend on improvements and additions during the next few years.

Announcement of this proposed outlay of money was made yesterday by Manager D. L. Huntington of the company. The money will be expended at the rate of about $2,000,000 a year.
