SHOWS DEMAND FOR FINE CHINA
 MEDFORD, Or., Nov. 7.—Whedlock Company, Peoria, Ill.—Gentlemen: The large consignment, which you recently sent us of fine china, stoneware and pottery is going remarkably fast and we feel justified in placing another large order with you. You will remember that you expressed a fear that Medford was too small a city to market such high-class goods. At first we found sales a little slow, and were inclined to think that perhaps we had made a mistake, but since people have become acquainted with our stock and find we sell it at less than Portland prices, it is having a ready sale. We have the best stock of this kind in southern Oregon, making a specialty of fine china and ornamental pottery, carrying all of the choice patterns, including Norse ware, Bearford West Indian and Baseline ware. Although we have been established but a year, we have built up a remarkably fine business, a business that is growing faster than the city, showing our goods are fully appreciated by the people of Medford and Jackson county.
 Yours very truly,
