

Social and Personal

Dr. Conroy is in San Francisco on business.

A. J. Baell of Wenatchee, Wash., has arrived in Medford. He may locate here.

Opie Read's southern dialect is perfect. As an impersonator of all classes of southern characters, from the poor white trash to the Kentucky Colonel class, he is inimitable. 217

Mrs. D. C. Wilson of Sams Valley after visiting friends here for a few days has returned home.

W. C. Henry of Spokane has decided to locate in Medford and engage in the contracting business.

Mrs. Caldwell is home from a visit in Gold Hill.

Those who have laughed over the "Kentucky Colonel," "The Jackkins," "Old Ebenezer," etc., need no further proof of Read's ability to entertain. Saturday night at the Medford Theater. 217

Mrs. J. A. Jones of Eagle Pointe paid a visit to Medford Monday.

Peter Applegate was in Medford transacting business on Monday.

Ray Garner of Wenatchee, Wash., is visiting in Medford.

The people of Medford will have their first opportunity to hear Opie Read, the celebrated novelist and lecturer, Saturday night at Medford Theater. 217

Earl Case of Antioch was a recent Medford visitor.

J. B. Knudsen, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league of Oregon, is expected to arrive shortly in Medford.

Those who avail themselves of the opportunity to hear Opie Read Saturday night will probably go home with the face ache and be obliged to rest their features—but they will be proof against the blues for many moons. 217

H. C. Garraett left Tuesday on a business trip to Los Angeles. He hopes to secure a settlement with the Pacific Coal company, which has partially completed payments on the Medford coal mine.

A. B. Maclellan of New York is a guest of the Hotel Nash.

Those not wishing Thanksgiving dinner can have regular dinner at usual price at the Emerick. 214

All Redmen are invited to attend the celebration at Jacksonville Wednesday evening. A special train has been chartered.

Those not wishing Thanksgiving dinner can have regular dinner at usual price at the Emerick. 214

Mrs. Edgar Hafer, who has recently returned from an extended sojourn east and a month's visit in San Francisco, entertained at dinner Monday evening in honor of Colonel J. F. Mundy.

Hunt Lewis left Monday evening for Portland. His wife had preceded him. He will spend most of the winter there, but will occasionally come to Medford.

H. L. Kelly, Jr., of the bureau of fisheries spent Tuesday in Medford.

W. Bittle Wells, representative of Sunset Magazine, author of the Commercial club booklet on Medford, and countless other pamphlets, spent Tuesday in Medford.

There will be a meeting of the Medford Commercial club tonight to discuss a Medford pamphlet for the coming year. All members are requested to attend.

George H. Fitzgibbon, the genial representative of W. P. Fuller & Co., is among his customers of the valley.

J. G. Pope of the Joshua Hendy Iron works of San Francisco spent Tuesday in Medford. Mr. Pope is known to all miners on the coast and makes a specialty of mining machinery. He reports prospects bright for an awakening in copper mining early in the coming year.

Notice to Redmen.

All Redmen are invited to join the excursion to Jacksonville Wednesday evening. A special train will convey you free. The degree team especially is requested to be present.

J. H. FITZGERALD,
Great Sachem.

Land Sold in Sams Valley.

G. B. Fisher of Lakeview, Or., has purchased the Charley Lane property in Sams Valley, and will take immediate possession of the same, says the Gold Hill News. This property consists of 45 acres of the best land in that part of the valley, and while we did not learn the price paid, yet it is understood to have been a bargain. Mr. Fisher will soon begin the erection of a new house upon the property.

WILL VISIT THE EAST TO SETTLE AN ESTATE

P. M. Kershaw, salesman for the Oregon Granite company, will leave for Illinois about December 1, where he will settle the estate of his father, recently deceased. Mr. Kershaw will be absent some six weeks.

Pleasant Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Storm gave a reception to their friends at Trail Thursday evening on their return from Medford, where they had been married the day before. On their arrival at Trail P. O. (the bride's mother) they were met by a host of friends, who wished them a long and happy journey through life. A grand supper was awaiting them which had been prepared by Lena Middlebush and Mrs. Irene Avery, to which they and their friends did ample justice. Then a serenade was begun, which lasted as long as was required, and the serenaders came in and candy, cigars and soft drinks went fast. An enjoyable evening was spent.

Those present were: Miss Les Middlebush, Mrs. Emil Middlebush, Mr. Frank Middlebush, Mr. Fred Middlebush, Mr. Clarence Middlebush, Mr. Bob Dawson, Mr. Louis Martin, Mr. D. C. Corntrey, Mr. Elmer Dawson, Mr. Charles Fry, Mrs. Mary Middlebush, Mrs. Fred Warner, Mrs. Hoeligan and Mrs. Ova Hammond.

The bride is the oldest daughter of Mrs. Mary Middlebush, the postmistress. The groom is the oldest of the Storm boys, living on Trail. The next day the happy couple started for their home on Trail.
