The people of Medford will have their first opportunity to hear Opie Read, the celebrated novelist and lecturer, Saturday night at Medford Theater.

Jeff Heard, E. E. Kelly and A. B. Tronson spent Friday fishing at Gold Bay.

Opie Read's southern dialect is perfect. As an impersonator of all classes of southern characters, from the poor white trash to the Kentucky Cannel, class, he is inimitable.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Rosenbaum were among the many who attended the dance at Jacksonville Thursday evening.

Dr. C. R. Ray is planting 80 acres to apples and pears. The trees were purchased from L. E. Hoover, who represents the Yakima nursery.

And the table waiter answered me: "Hit isn't really clear."

"Oh, they don't know?" I ventured, seeking still the fact to get.

And again the waiter answered me: "Hit isn't settled yet."

With apologies to The Bohemian for December.

HAYES LEAVES FOR THE EAST WITH AID PLEDGED

SAN JOSE, Cal., Nov. 27.—I shall return to Washington determined to do all I can in co-operation with my colleagues from the coast states to secure attention for the growing demands of this section.

Congressman E. A. Hayes, representing the Fifth congressional district, made this statement today on the eve of his departure for the capital. Concerning the coming legislative session, he said:

"Many measures of vital importance to the entire coast will come up when congress again convenes. Our navy yards are one question which concerns us deeply. The whole country is aware of the necessity of improving the navy yards on this coast and getting them in shape to handle a battleship fleet. As to Mare Island, the navy department has recommended an appropriation of $1,700,000 for improvements there, and of course we will make an effort to secure that amount for California.

"As to Bremerton navy yard, I am prepared to co-operate with the members from Washington to secure any appropriations that may be needed to bring it as well as Mare Island to a position where it can take care of any fleet that may be sent to the Pacific either in war or peace."

OKLAHOMA LAW IS INVALIDATED BY COURT

GUTHRIE, Okla., Nov. 27.—The Oklahoma eight-hour law is believed to be invalidated by a local court, acquitting the State Paving company of a violation of the law because the company showed that the men were anxious to work more than eight hours.

Preparations are being made to fight the case on appeal by those interested in the integrity of the statute involved.

Youthful Forger Caught.

Claud E. Roache cashed a check for $100 at the Bank of Ashland Tuesday morning purporting to be signed by his mother, Mrs. A. J. Roach, but which proved to be a bold forgery, says the Tidings. After securing the money he boarded train 15 for California. As soon as the forgery was discovered steps were taken to locate the erring youth, and he was found at Kennett, Cal., and taken into custody.

STILL CLOUDED.

"Why is Bear creek water roily?" asked I with an aim sincere, and the table waiter answered me: "Hit isn't really clear."

"Oh, they don't know?" I ventured, seeking still the fact to get.

And again the waiter answered me: "Hit isn't settled yet."
