

TO SHOW PESTS AT THE SAVOY

Professor O'Gara Speaks on Saturday at 1:30 p.m. to Local Orchardists

(By Charles Meserrie.) To handle a modern orchard is a problem as difficult as to handle a modern warship. The modern fruit tree is as highly and delicately bred as is the modern dairy cow or fine horse, and to make it profitable takes the same thorough, intelligent care that the dairyman or the horseman gives to his cow or horse.

While the modern orchardist has been so breeding his trees that they readily fall a victim to any pest that may attack them, he has been making a further unbalancing of nature's arrangements and has made conditions exceedingly favorable for the development of a multitude of pests, both animal and vegetable, that seek to destroy his trees and the fruit they bear.

The fruitgrowers of Rogue River valley may be able to identify the most serious of the 1100 pests that threaten destruction to their orchards and that are most likely to soon appear here, the Rogue River Horticultural society has arranged with Professor O'Gara from the department of agriculture at Washington, D. C., to give a lecture in Medford, on Saturday, December 12, on fruit pests.

That the fruitgrowers of Rogue River valley may be able to identify the most serious of the 1100 pests that threaten destruction to their orchards and that are most likely to soon appear here, the Rogue River Horticultural society has arranged with Professor O'Gara from the department of agriculture at Washington, D. C., to give a lecture in Medford, on Saturday, December 12, on fruit pests.

Fruitgrowers who propose to make their orchards pay the big dividends that are certain where the trees and fruit are protected from the pests, will be quite certain to attend this meeting and gain the valuable information that Professor O'Gara will give in his address. Alleged fruitgrowers, who declare that they have no time to attend such meetings and have no knowledge of the pests and consequently no fear of them, will not attend, but they will think differently later on when the receipts from their orchards are so small that no profit is left after the expenses are paid.

MILLIONAIRE'S SON IN TOILS FOR BURGLARY

SALINAS, Cal., Dec. 2.—Charles J. Boyle, 22 years old, son of Henry Boyle, the San Rafael millionaire, will receive his sentence today following a continuation of burglary yesterday. Boyle, a member of the 20th United States infantry, was convicted of breaking into a store and stealing a revolver. After his arrest a cache was found in the hills back of the Presidio of Monterey in which were hidden gloves, gasp, slung-shot and masks.

It has been claimed that Boyle was injured in a football game at school and that he is irresponsible for his criminal acts.

AMUSEMENTS

"Man On the Fence." This was the subject Tuesday night at the Christian tabernacle. Evangelist Whiston preached another great sermon on this subject. A very large audience was present and all enjoyed every part of the service. The chorus rendered several hymns in a highly spiritual manner. The solos by Mr. Edwards and Mr. Longman were first-class. In fact, the entire service was one long to be remembered. Evangelist Whiston preached an able sermon. The service was crowned with success. Seven took their stand for Christ and the church—83 to date. Many more are coming. Several were baptized.

KLAMATH FARMERS DO NOT LIKE HIGH COST

MERRILL, Or., Dec. 3.—Farmers in this section of the Klamath basin are very much disgruntled over the announcement that government water for irrigation is to cost $30 per acre with an annual maintenance of 75 cents per acre added to it. Lands in the vicinity of Merrill have been under irrigation for several years, water having been supplied by the Adams and the Van Primmer ditches. The former passed into the hands of the government when it first invaded this section, the latter still remains in the hands of private owners, and the landowners under it are getting their water rights for approximately $5 an acre, while those under the government system must pay six times that amount.

J. Frank Adams, the former owner of the Adams system, offered to sell his ditch to the landowners at the same price the government came here for $10 per acre. Subsequently the system was purchased by the agents of the reclamation service and no work has been done on it since, but the landowners are called upon to pay $30 where they might have paid $10.

Farmers in the Merrill section will be practically united in an effort to compel the government to furnish water at the cost fixed by the reclamation service representatives at the time they induced the owners to sign up their lands. This cost was estimated at not to exceed $18.00 per acre, and there are hundreds of men who signed their lands who would not have done so had they known that the cost was to reach the $30 mark.

The first payment on the water right due in the spring of 1909, but one year is allowed in which to make the payment. It is likely that before that time some action will be taken toward terminating if the landowners have not some recourse.

Medford Theater.

The coming of "We Are King" to the Medford Theater on Tuesday, December 8, promises to be one of the best attractions of the present season, as the play was used by Mr. Walker Whiteside as a starring vehicle for three seasons and was one of his greatest successes. Mr. Edmund Carroll, who is now starring in this play, was Mr. Whiteside's support for many seasons, and from the advance newspaper reports is a most worthy successor. Of Mr. Carroll and the play, the Toledo Blade of April 17 has the following to say: "As on the occasion of the former presentation of 'We Are King' at the Lyceum, Edmund Carroll appears in the dual role of Gustavus Verner, the roving newspaper correspondent, and Hector, king of Mahaburg. When one contemplates the faultless stage presence, an individuality that is unique, the absence of the least suspicion of rant, and the many gifts that make him the actor in all that the word implies, one wonders why theatrical managers have not given Mr. Carroll a place with the greatest exponents of the art. 'We Are King' abounds in refined humor that is almost inimitable, and yet there are flashes of the most beautiful sentiment ever penned by a playwright. Only once does it afford an opportunity for a display of the actual limit of Mr. Carroll's ability, but that is sufficient to show that he is capable of handling the heaviest work on the American stage. Mr. Carroll has good support all through and the play is handsomely staged. Seats on sale at Haskins' Friday a. m., December 4.

COLONIAL JACK DUE SATURDAY

Walking About Borders of United States--Is Now 4,200 Miles on His Way

"Colonial" Jack with his famous "sphinx" is due to arrive in this city on Saturday morning on his unique trip, walking and pushing his "sphinx" around the border of the United States, a distance of 9000 miles, to be made in 400 days, at the conclusion of which he will write a book of his trip. The "sphinx" is a wheelbarrow contrivance in which he carries articles of necessity. An average of 22 1/2 miles a day must be made in order to make the trip on schedule time. The route taken by him is as follows: Starting from Portland, Me., June 1908, thence going west through New Hampshire, Vermont and New York, thence south through western New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, thence north through Michigan, thence west through Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, Idaho and Washington, thence south along the Pacific coast through Oregon and California to Los Angeles, thence east through Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, and Florida to Jacksonville, thence north along the Atlantic coast, through Georgia, South Carolina, Virginia, Delaware, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts and concluding at Portland, Me., on or before September 9, 1909, thus making one of the greatest walking trips ever attempted.

At the present time "Colonial" Jack is 4,200 miles on his way and is 600 miles ahead of his schedule.

A Map of Jackson County The Tribune and Southern Oregonian is having made at great expense a fine, colored, lithographed map of Jackson county. This map will show all cities, towns and villages, rivers and waterways, section and survey lines, railroads and projected railroads, wagon roads, forest reserve boundaries, election precincts and other data needed by everyone. All townships shown in colors. This up-to-date map will be ready for distribution some time in December. It will be sold only through The Tribune and Southern Oregonian. This will be your only chance to secure a good map of Jackson county, as all map editions are out of print and plates were destroyed in the San Francisco fire, necessitating new plates made at an enormous expense. Further details later. Ready in December.

ORDINANCE NO. 173. An ordinance providing for the acquisition by the city of Medford of a right of way for a trunk sewer, and prescribing the terms therefor. The city of Medford doth ordain as follows: Section 1. That upon delivery to the city of Medford, Oregon, by L. E. Hoover and C. M. Parker of good and sufficient conveyances granting to the said city perpetual right of way for a trunk sewer over and along the wagon road in front of the residence of said Hoover and Parker, respectively, which conveyances shall describe the said right of way according to a description thereof to be furnished by the city engineer of said city, the said city engineer shall forthwith cause to be constructed at the expense of the city an adequate service pipe from said sewer to the respective residences of said Hoover and Parker, and said Hoover and Parker and their heirs and assigns shall have the right to use such service pipe and sewer, subject to the general rules and regulations of the city of Medford regarding the use of sewers, so long as said trunk sewer shall continue to be used by said city as a sewer. Sec. 2. Inasmuch as the proposed trunk sewer is now under construction, and such construction is necessary for the preservation of the health and safety of the city, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its approval by the mayor. The foregoing ordinance was passed by the city council December 1, 1908, Trowbridge voting aye, Eiferst aye, Wortman aye, Hafer aye, Merrick absent, Oswald absent. Approved December 1, 1908. J. P. CHASED HER HUSBAND 4000 MILES TO SUE HIM LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 3.—After chasing her husband more than 4000 miles, Mrs. Isabel Carman is today suing John S. Carman for $100 a month for maintenance. Carman is the son of General Ezra Carman, U. S. A. Mrs. Carman charges that her husband deserted her a short time after their marriage in Detroit in 1905. She alleged the trouble between them was caused by her husband's decision to keep their marriage secret and by the refusal of her mother-in-law to receive her after the news of the union was made public. Following her husband from Detroit to Washington, Mrs. Carman says she then traced him to New York and finally here, where his mother now resides. The young woman said she had but little money when the chase began and she was compelled to work as a stenographer in various cities along her route to secure enough money to continue her search. D.
