BUTTE FALLS ITEMS.

Smith Bros. who have been in Butte Falls for more than a year, have gone to Benton county and will not return until work opens up here. There was a dance at Eisall's New Year's eve, which was attended by nearly everybody around, and reports are that there was a splendid time. A fine supper was given and the dance did not cease until early the next morning.

NEW CASES.

John Harrington vs. W. L. Wilson; action to recover money. Withington & Kelly, attorneys for plaintiff.

CRESTED BUTTE, Col., Jan. 6.—

Andy Mosher of Gothic, Col., has arrived here after two thrilling escapes from snowslides. W. F. Stockman and Mosher left Gothic with four horse-loads of supplies for Mountain King mine, six miles up the gulch.

Four miles up they encountered a snowslide that swept away a part of the supplies. Stockman refused to go any further.

Mosher went on a short distance, when another slide carried his horses down the mountain to death and buried him under six feet of snow. His Newfoundland dog rode the slide and then searched for his master, finally dragging him out.

Together they set out again for the mine, about a mile distant. Before reaching it a third slide engulfed them. The faithful animal again saved his master by digging him from under the avalanche.
