WILL ADDRESS NON-CATHOLICS

Father Cantwell Speaks this Evening on Catholic Confession.

Father Cantwell of Portland is conducting a mission at the new Catholic church in West Medford. He speaks every night this week. Special music has been arranged for each service. Father Cantwell is recognized as one of the most fluent preachers in the work in Portland and his addresses are well worth hearing. On Thursday evening he will address non-Catholics in a special sermon, on the subject, "Why Catholics Go to Confession." Services begin at 7:30 p. m.

TOTAL OF RAINFALL TO DATE IS 3.68 FOR STORM

The storm which began Sunday night still continues with prospects for continued moisture. Wednesday night 35 of an inch fell, making a total for the present storm of 3.68 inches, the heavy first downpour of the season. Much real good and but little damage has been done by the rain. The Rogue has been steadily falling since Tuesday morning, as have other streams. The rain has been a warm one and winter grain is looking fine. The storm has been general all along the coast. Heavy snows have fallen in the mountains. The Willamette valley and Portland are wearing a blanket of white. In Portland the weather has been extremely cold and school has had to be closed because of the cold. The streetcar lines were tied up and business generally suspended.

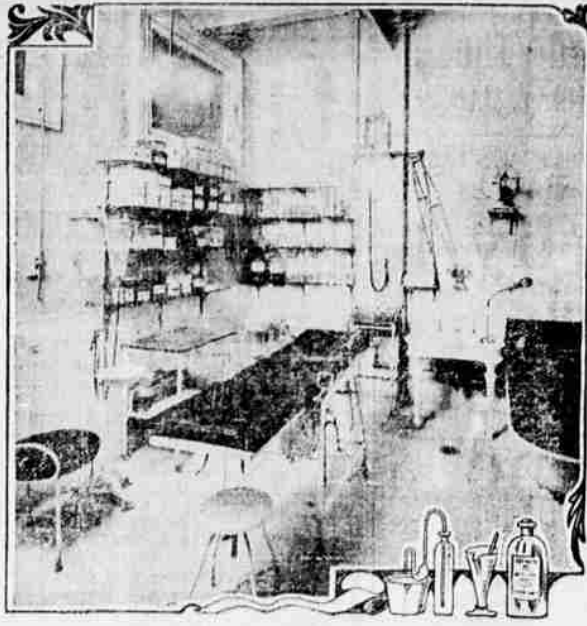

TRUTH ABOUT MAKING SPRAY

The Portland Journal of January 5 contains the following regarding the spraying of apples: "Montavilla, Or., Jan. 3.—To the Editor of the Journal: In the Journal of January 2 there appeared an editorial under the caption, 'Winter Spraying.' The closing sentence of the editorial, 'No one can afford to refuse to spray,' is all right, but many errors were apparent in this editorial. I have sprayed thousands of different trees under various conditions and in different localities and what I am about to state is the result of experience, observation and study. "Lime and sulphur solution cannot be made at home as cheaply as at the factory, if the farmer's time and fuel is worth anything. Advancing homemade spray solutions is like advancing home spun jeans, breeches and home knit socks. The fruit farmer has too much else to do to stop his work and boil lime and sulphur. "Lime and sulphur solution will kill San Jose scale if applied strong enough, but it is not a cure-all; will not control apple and pear scab; has no effect on codlin moth; does not kill entomophagous, and taken all together, is of but little or no value as a summer spray. "Furthermore, in proportion as lime and sulphur solution has been used, Bordeaux mixture has become ineffective. At the meeting of the State Horticultural society, and the Northwest Fruitgrowers' association, this fact was clearly brought out. In Hood river they had a terrible loss from apple scab last year, although they have sprayed to excess with lime and sulphur for the past 15 years. "My conclusions are: spray by all means, but do so intelligently. "W. H. ADDIS."

Married. CLAUDE C. CATE of Corvallis, and ROSE GRACE of Phoenix, Ariz. Mr. and Mrs. Rose will reside in Brownsville, where Mr. Cate is connected with Oregon Agricultural college. Many friends were present at the wedding.

AMUSEMENTS. Why Girls Leave Home, a play which has created a great deal of interest, and which is said to be a strong drama with a pure, natural and eloquent story, will be presented at Medford on Saturday, January 9.

New Attraction at Bijou. An entirely new bill at the Bijou tonight. A strong feature is included in entertainment. B. King makes his first appearance in the city in a light and heavy balancing act. Mr. King comes direct from Seattle, where he has been playing on the Pantheon. The act is entirely new and quaint, possessing none of the old-time joints. The attraction has never received anything but the most favorable comment. A new list of films and acts are also included in tonight's performance.

EMERGENCY HOSPITAL IN A HOTEL.

The Waldorf-Astoria hotel, in New York, is the first hotel in America to install an emergency hospital under its roof. This picture shows the neat and well-equipped room which has been set apart for the care of persons who may happen to be injured in the big hostelry. It has a surgical operating table and all the appliances necessary to giving first aid to injured persons.

QUERIES PUT TO MR. SHIELDS

Reply to Fletcher Linn's Letter-Individual Should Strengthen Himself

To the Editor: I see a communication in the Morning Mail, entitled, "Fletcher Linn's Letter to Rev. Shields." It starts out with saying, "The Tribune is right when it says that prosperity is the real issue on the 12th of January." Then goes on to ask if $150,000 of the people's money is to be squandered in saloons, the better part to be sent out of the town and county to brewery and distilleries. I would like to ask the Rev. Shields if such was the case. Isn't it a fact that every business house in the town sends a great part of its profit even out of the state? He goes on to state that it is wrong to allow 1730 of our fellowmen to become intoxicated every year and to allow our young girls to go staggering along the streets from blush doors of saloons. I want the second gentleman to tell me, is it the saloon man's fault? If the public agitator would get on the street and tell these men and women that each individual is alone responsible for his wrongdoing, then you might be able to overcome some of the evil that today exists. But as long as you make Willie believe that John Jones, blame for his (Willie's) failures, then Willie will go on being bad. Teach your boys and girls that before high heaven they alone will be held accountable for their misdeeds. This world has come to a pretty pass when men are compelled to make laws to protect themselves from themselves. The Rev. Shields and his colleagues are even trying to make this world hotter than God intended. The Bible tells me that God made the world; He also made man in his own image. God also placed the tree of knowledge in the Garden of Eden and warned Adam not to eat thereof. When Adam disobeyed him and said that the woman had tempted him and he felt, God did not excuse him from his share of the sin, but punished him the same as the woman. Sin has existed as long as the world has, and will continue as long as the world lasts. God gave every mortal a certain amount of will power, and if every one is taught to exert that will power to overcome the evil that is in them, then the world will be better, but as long as a man can say to himself, "I can go and get drunk; people will pity me for my weakness and blame the saloonkeeper," he will keep on getting drunk and put himself on the back and think what a good time he is having at other people's expense. Now, one more question, Rev. Shields: Do these agitators you bring here pay their own expenses, or are they allowed to take up contributions of money to take out of our city and county? As for this Fletcher Linn, I suppose he would like to help Medford to become a law-abiding place. Perhaps there is a little feeling of playing even with some of our merchants, for it was not many months ago that some of our people had to go to Portland to testify against his company, because they were law-breakers. If such is the case, then he had better turn his attention to his home town. He will find enough to do without exerting himself to come here. We have enough of his kind here already—more than enough.

Cottolene Shortens your food — Lengthens your life. Cottolene is a cleanly, wholesome product. It is made from cotton-seed oil, in a thoroughly modern and hygienic manner, and is just as pure as olive oil. It, moreover, makes palatable, digestible, healthful food which will agree with the most delicate stomach. Lard food on the contrary, is indigestible, and will cause trouble if its use is persisted in. Cottolene is endorsed by the most prominent cooks and household economists of the country, as well as by those of the medical profession who make a special study of pure food. There is no substitute for Cottolene, because there is no shortening so good as Cottolene. It stands alone, as everyone who has used it according to directions will verify. COTTOLENE is Guaranteed Your grocer is hereby authorized to refund your money in case you are not pleased, after having given Cottolene a fair test. Never Sold in Bulk Cottolene is packed in pails with an airtight top to keep it clean, fresh and wholesome odors, such as fish, oil, etc. Cook Book Free For a 2c stamp, to pay postage, we will mail you our new "PURE FOOD COOK BOOK" edited and compiled by Mrs. Mary J.
