NO GRAFT IN THE PANAMA DEAL, SAYS TAFT

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 16.—Declaring that every cent spent on the Panama canal had been expended in the interest of the government, and that no one dollar had been traced to graft, President-elect Taft tonight challenged the critics of the government to produce evidence to the contrary. Speaking at the Creole banquet, he approved the plan to issue bonds for the construction of the lakes to the gulf waterway.

Early Lambs Profitable.

Under favorable conditions there are many advantages in having the lambs come early. Early lambs can be cared for before the dock is turned out on the pasture. They come at a season when there is ample time to give them the care they require.

When lambs come in late in the season that the dunes are cut on pasture the busy time has arrived, and there is danger that the flock may be neglected. A second advantage is found in the fact that early lambs can be pushed on a 4 month cycle for early markets. While it is true that considerable profit is required to accomplish this, it is also true that owing to the higher price obtained, the grain pays a good profit.

Horse Notes.

Remember that overfatness in a steed may hide many defects. As a rule a horse bred in the fore-hand will be intelligent and kind.

Bred for a purpose. The average farmer should breed the draft horse. Feed judiciously rather than plentifully. Many horses are fed into a poor condition.

After a starve work clean the work horses thoroughly. Wash their faces from the harness down to the hoofs.

Feed liberally in a way that is regularly worked on the farm or has regular work. It exercises every day.

The horses will get more benefit from their rest at noon if the harness is removed as soon as they get to the stable.

Shredded Feeder.

Good shredded corn fodder is very palatable. It is of course very best for all kinds of farm stock and horses. It is especially adapted to horses and sheep, and is a desirable food for calves, fat beef cattle and sheep.

Beware the Bull.

The man who attempts to lead a bull without a good strategy is liable to a life in his hands. As a matter of fact a bull believes himself there is always a man's arm, and he will make up his mind to break out at any minute. A bull is about the most treacherous and unreliable animal on earth except a hog. Farm Progress.

Winter Manuring.

Spread the barnyard manure over the land as it is hauled daily from the barn, and if the soil is not too stiff disk it under in the spring. The manure will suffer less deterioration spread over the ground than if piled in a heap.—Country Gentleman.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Housecleaning Hints.

As all the polishing soaps and powders are dear, it may be useful to some economical minds to know that brown paper and vinegar will go a long way toward removing rust and stains from tin.

To clean windows try this method: Take two or three pieces of lump starch, dissolve them in a quart of water and with this wash the windows. Let the glass dry, then polish with a dry cloth.

To remove stains of long standing from marble mix one gill each of soap-suds and ox gall and half a gill of turpentine. Then add as much fuller's earth as will make a paste and rub it on the stains. Leave it on a few days and then wipe off. It may be necessary to repeat the operation.

Pork Pudding.

Make a paste with one-quarter pound of suet and one pound of flour, line a pudding dish with a part of it, wash free from salt one and one-half pounds of pickled pork, cut it into squares a little larger than dice, fill the lined basin with this, sprinkling in a little pepper and flour, add about one-half teaspoonful of water, cover with the remainder of the paste, which pinch well round, tie a cloth over, plunge into boiling water and boil at least two and one-half hours.

Ground for Pacific Northwest Soil and Climate. Now on hand at a low price. Ask for Catalogue. It contains a list of our products, prices, and names of our dealers, and we will send you a packet of these seeds free for your trouble. PORTLAND SEED CO., PORTLAND, OREGON, AND SPOKANE, WASH.
