2. OregonLife makes all of its investments in securities which have their origin in Oregon and is an important factor in the upbuilding of a Greater Oregon.
3. OregonLife guarantees an Oregon man of financial standing, active in the business world, where they are remarkable examples of success. No other life insurance organization is so helpful to Oregon.
4. OregonLife is a polyholders company, managed for the benefit of polyholders exclusively. All profits of the business from every source go to them. No other Pacific Coast company is so organized.
5. OregonLife does not issue any cheap or half-rate company. Rates charged are with a view to absolute security under all conditions. Incidentally, our rates are somewhat less than other respectable companies.
6. OregonLife dividends to policyholders are large and satisfactory, reducing the actual cost of insurance below that of any other company.
7. OregonLife policies are unquestioned. We have a larger ratio of assets to liabilities than any of the large Western companies operating here. He says: "Our assets are large because our liabilities are large."
8. OregonLife policies are issued with and the same reasonable condition of life. They are sold on business principles, without resort to "hard sellmen" or other questionable methods.
9. OregonLife pays more promptly than any other company. It is a pleasure to pay in Oregon.
10. OregonLife will, in case of crop total disaster, pay you a cash bonus to help you get on your feet without further expense to you.

There is No Excuse for Any Citizen of Oregon Taking Life Insurance from Any Other Company OregonLife IS BEST

PLANT CHIEF ARRIVES

From the principal streets to the main thoroughfares of the city, the appearance of the streets, but will make the plant more complete in every detail. It is yet possible for the position to get in his work and knock on the reconstruction of the work by saying that this work will only be temporary and that after the telephone company is installed the Pacific Telephone company will not go along with the work and install the new system. The work at present, and the assembling of six or seven thousands of poles, the rearing of the residences and business houses, the installation of the switchboard and the material that is now being used on the way, would be a large extent be a total loss to the company if they did not go on with the work of reconstruction. In fact, it is the greatest part of the expense of the reconstruction of the system and any far-sighted person can readily see that the company could not go to this expense if they did not intend to complete the work. It has been estimated on the streets that the Pacific Telephone company should put up a bond with the city that they will complete this work within a certain time. If it was a new company that was just going in business and the city did not know their intentions it would be different, but the Pacific Telephone company have been doing business in this city for several years and have a large sum of money invested in this city at the present time, and their preparation for this reconstruction should be sufficient bond to guarantee the people of this city that their intentions are good. They have systems established all over the coast, and if they were required to put up a bond every time they made an improvement in a city they would have all their capital tied up in bonds and would be unable to do business with. The fact that they have thousands of dollars' worth of material here and their expert construction men on the ground and actually doing work, and a large force of our own people employed in the work is a sufficient guarantee that the work will be done. Of course, it would be no trouble for them to put up a sufficient bond in this city, but it would be establishing a precedent that would cause them trouble elsewhere and with a company as large as the Pacific Telephone company, and covering the territory that they do, there would be no end to the amount of bonds they would have to post on the coast states. There is every assurance that the work will be done and that we will have a new system, equal to any city in the west by July 31, and the amount of bond labor that is to be employed should be an incentive to the people of this city to lend every assistance in the company in their work. Right at this time a good and substantial payroll of the company added to what we already have means much and will save much a link to the other industrial work that is to be done hereafter.

TAFT OUTLINES POLICY

lands available for investment as capital in useful enterprises. It will furnish the absolute security which makes the proposed scheme of government guaranty of deposits so alluring with out its perils. I sincerely hope that the incoming congress will be alive, as it should be, to the importance of our foreign trade and of encouraging it in every way feasible. The possibility of increasing this trade in the orient, in the Philippines and in South America are known to everyone who has given the matter attention. The direct effort of free trade between this country and the Philippines will be marked upon our sale of cotton, agricultural machinery and other manufactures. The necessity of the establishment of direct lines of steamers between North and South America has been brought to the attention of congress by my predecessor and by Mr. Root before and after his noteworthy visit to that continent, and I sincerely hope that congress may be induced to see the wisdom of a tentative effort to establish such lines by the use of mail subsidies.

"The Burgomaster" Coming

Harry Hermesen and delany Ruth White will lead the big revival of "The Burgomaster," which William P. Collier will present at the Medford Theater Wednesday, March 10. These two show people are in the roles of Peter Stuyvesant, governor of New Amsterdam who sleeps for 200 years and awakes to find himself in modern New York, and of Willie, the gilded youth who essays to show him around the town. The costumes for the revival are all new, and are the handiwork of Miss White, and are the handiwork of Miss White, and are the handiwork of Miss White.

The Dependencies

The governments of our dependencies in Porto Rico and the Philippines are progressing as favorably as could be desired. The prosperity of Porto Rico continues unabated. The business conditions in the Philippines are not all that we could wish them to be, but with the passage of the new tariff bill permitting free trade between the United States and the archipelago, with such limitations in sugar and tobacco as shall prevent injury to the domestic interests on those products, we can count on an improvement in business conditions in the Philippines and the development of a mutually profitable trade between this country and the islands. Meantime our government in each dependency is upholding the traditions of civil liberty and increasing popular control which might be expected under American auspices. The work which we are doing there redounds to our credit as a nation.

The Sunny South

I look forward with hope to increasing the already good feeling between the south and the other sections of the country. My chief purpose is not to effect a change in the electoral vote of the southern states. That is a secondary consideration. What I look forward to is an increase in the tolerance of political views of all kinds and their coexistence throughout the south, and the existence of a respectable political opposition in every state; even more than this, to an increased feeling on the part of all the people in the south that this government is their government, and that its officers in their states are their officers.

Labor Question

There is one other matter to which I shall refer. It was made the subject of great controversy during the election and calls for at least a passing reference now. My distinguished predecessor has given much attention to the cause of labor, with whose struggle for better things he has shown the sincerest sympathy. At his instance, congress has passed the bill fixing the liability of interstate carriers to their employes for injury sustained in the course of employment, abolishing the rule of fellow servant and the common law rule as to contributory negligence, and substituting therefor the so-called rule of comparative negligence. It has also passed a law fixing the compensation of government employes for injuries sustained in the employ of the government through the negligence of the superior. It also passed a model child labor law for the District of Columbia. In previous administrations an arbitration law for interstate commerce railroads and their employes and laws for the application of safety devices to save the lives and limbs of employes of interstate railroads had been passed.

Injunctions

Another labor question has arisen which has awakened the most excited discussion. That is in respect to the power of the federal courts to issue injunctions in industrial disputes. As to that, my convictions are fixed. Take away from courts, if it could be taken away, the power to issue injunctions in labor disputes, and it would create a privileged class among the laborers and save the lawless among their number from a most needful remedy available to all men for the protection of their business against lawless invasion. The proposition that injunctions are not a property or pecuniary right which can be protected by equitable injunction is utterly without foundation to proceed to issue one. The proposition is usually linked with one to make the injunction itself lawful. Such a proposition is at variance with the American tradition and will find no support in my judgment when submitted to the American people.
