AMUSEMENTS

At the Savoy. Tonight at the Savoy will be shown an exceptionally fine performance featuring "The Scar," a stirring romantic drama. The plot of the picture is well told and acted by the cleverest of pantomime actors. The story revolves about Louis XIV's palace in Paris, all the scene being laid in the beautiful palace ground, a place of unsurpassed beauty. The film is all hand colored, making the flowers of the ground so lifelike one is tempted to pluck them and can easily imagine that their delicate perfume permeates the air.

The Montreal, Quebec, Gazette of Tuesday, Dec. 10, 1908, has the following to say of "The Burgomaster": "Packed to the capacity, with standing room in demand, the Academy of Music last night presented an aspect in keeping with the best traditions of far more seasons. Established popularity in previous visits, 'The Burgomaster,' with necessities up to date, at once revealed its hold, and the strange old ventures of the merry old Dutchman were witnessed with as much laughter as ever.

The Ideal Church. Subject at rehearsal Sunday night. Very important questions to be answered. Many churchmen contribute an excuse. Hear the address. Note the questions: 1. Creed—Shall it be long or short? Episcopalian or Transcendent? Human or all-wise? 2. Membership—Name the things the most important man must do to enter? Name the things the least important man must do to enter. Are the things named in the New Testament? 3. Discipline—Have we a right to excommunicate a member? Name five offenses for which a member should be excommunicated. Are such things keeping, profitable and disciplinary in business such offenses?

SPORANE, Wash., March 6.—Thirty five thousand yards of earth, extending 2000 feet along the Spokane-Portland Seattle railway, a few miles west of Spokane is to be moved by one huge blast of powder costing $5000. It will require over two weeks boring to prepare the holes for the powder. A similar plan was worked successfully near Kinzua, Washington, recently.

HOW THE BOOSTERS SAVED THE DAY.

The boosters went to Jacksonville to work the county court. The fund for road to Crater Lake was fifty thousand short. The boosters wrote two hundred strong. From ranches and from towns. The ones who helped to make them. Of course it was JOE BROWN. But great and learned men all spoke. And arguments were strong. The humor, wit and eloquence. They were both loud and long. Judge Neil was Johnny-on-the-spot. But the other two met. Until they heard the logic of THE MAN WHO SELLS THE DIRT.

TOM RICHARDSON GETS ONTARIO TO PUT UP $2500

ONTARIO, Or., March 6.—Tom Richardson, manager of the Portland Commercial club, addressed a big meeting here and aroused great enthusiasm for public work in this town and county. Twenty-five hundred dollars were subscribed in half an hour by the business men of the town to aid the Commercial club in securing new enterprises. This is thought to be a record breaking subscription for a town of 1500 in the West land belt. Ontario had already subscribed within the past month $1000 to aid in preliminary work for securing the Malheur government irrigation project. Tom Richardson made a brilliant speech, and a banquet followed at the Carter house, attended by all the business men of the town.

DICE SHAKING AND CARD PLAYING UNDER THE BAN

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., March 6.—If the council of this city enforces the ordinance passed at its last meeting, it will place Klamath Falls under laws that will reflect a shade of deep blue. In passing an ordinance prohibiting the sale of liquor within the corporate limits it was also made a misdemeanor to play cards for "treats" or to shake dice, or to engage in any other game of chance. Like many other laws of a similar character, it is not expected that the ordinance will be enforced, but the presumption is that it was passed so as to give the city a way to deal with the "blind pigs" and derive the revenue from fines imposed in cases of conviction for a violation of the prohibition law.
