Robert Shewing, who for the past two years has had charge of the tailoring department at Daniels' clothing store, will leave for his new home at Arland, Cal., in the near future. His position will be filled by a Portland arrival.

AMUSEMENTS. The Florence Gear company, presenting "Marrying Mary," which comes to the Medford Theater Tuesday, March 16, is probably the best attraction that I will have during the remainder of the present season outside of Lillian Russell and Hackett. The piece is a big New York success. Miss Gear is recognized as being at the very top of the ladder as a comedienne and Manager John Murray has surrounded her with a high class company and complete scenic in vestiture. I unqualifiedly guarantee this attraction. CHAS. D. HAZELRIGG. "Marrying Mary" at the Medford. Those who enjoy good dancing—and who does not—will revel in the dances introduced into Edwin Milton Boyle's musical play, "Marrying Mary," in which Florence Gear and a large company will be seen at the Medford Theater on Tuesday March 16. At the head of the cast is Florence Gear, recognized as one of the most finished singers and dancers on the stage today. In "Marrying Mary" she has three dresses, each one more attractive than the other, as a recent newspaper critic expressed himself. Harry B. Roche as Willie Drinkwater has an attractive dance with the chorus. Thelma, the maid, has a terpsichorean specialty of her own. The three ex-husbands and their partners have a number in the first act that is everywhere received with great applause, and Colonel Henry Clay Kullpepper, the Rev. Thorley "Phoebemorton" and Monsieur Archaon have separate dances with the bridesmaids, hotel guests and waitresses respectively. Every member of the chorus was required to pass as rigid an examination in the terpsichorean art as in singing. In short, the entire company is composed of the best singers and dancers available. Manager John Murray, who makes the production a sponsor for the remark: "Good dancers are always healthy and good natured. Healthy and good natured people are good traveling companions. To have a company of good traveling companions is to have a company of money getters. I like to make money."

Dan Sully in "The Matchmaker." One of the bests of the coming attractions at the Medford is Daniel Sully's new play, "The Matchmaker." In which the popular star is meeting with the greatest success of his career, and will be seen at the Medford, Thursday, March 18. It is a romantic drama of unusual strength, full of exciting scenes and thrilling situations, bristling with comedy, original in theme and treatment. "The Matchmaker" must not be confounded with the "Parish Priest," which Sully produced some years ago, as the only resemblance between the two lies in the fact that a priest is the leading character in each. The new play is the greatest Sully has ever presented, and in it he is scoring the most brilliant triumph of his career.

A Plea for the Paving. Here's hoping they'll pave Seventh street. The finest street in town: The reason isn't hard to guess: On that street lives JOE BROWN. It should be made a boulevard. As which to point with pride; But the state 's in at present: You can neither walk nor ride. If they don't decide to pave it: Their feelings will get hurt; For there will be a mighty howl: From the MAN WHO SELLS THE TURT. 307.

Pupils Beauty School Grounds. GRANTS PASS, Or., March 15.—Fifteen hundred school children participated in the exercises outlined by the superintendent and principals of the public schools of this city in making Saturday a special arbor day, for beautifying school grounds and planting one hundred of roses and flowers in carefully prepared beds. An elaborate program was rendered at the high school.

REINS WIND ON WHEELS AND STOP RUNAWAY. A lucky streak of luck, namely the wrapping of the lines in the wheels, stopped what might have been a damaging runaway Monday noon. A spirited team of the Nashivery stable attached to a survey became frightened while the driver was loading a trunk in the vehicle. The frightened horses ran at great speed down North Front street for several blocks, when Providence intervened and stopped them in the above manner. They were soon brought back to the barn, none the worse for their sprint. The survey was not damaged a particle.

Methodist-Episcopal Church, B Street. The special meetings at the above church continue with increased interest. At all three services yesterday the evangelist was greeted by large appreciative audiences. At the morning and the evening services on the "Distances of Death," which was so regarded the finest sermon preached by the evangelist since his arrival. The discourse was characterized by good thought and telling illustrations. Ex-tempore travel and/or Evangelist Lewis gave his full play to his descriptive powers. After the sermon several kind words were uttered.

Not So Exacting. "So you're a butcher now?" "Yes," explained the former dry goods clerk. "The ladies don't try to match sparrows or steak."—Kansas City Journal.

SITUATION CLEAR D UP

A Spanish War Criticism. When the Spanish war came upon Commodore Dewey was at Hongkong. The navy department had sent him no preliminary orders. He didn't know anything about the ultimate policy or what the ultimate plan of campaign would be. The navy department didn't itself know. Dewey should have moved two or three days sooner than he did, and two or three days sometimes are vital. But our Washington officials were only aroused to the necessity of giving Admiral Dewey an order by a cablegram from Dewey informing them that the British governor of Hongkong insisted that our fleet must leave there. We were so dazed by the immediate exigencies of war that the English government had to prod us in the ribs to wake us up. Then our Washington authorities issued an order and did not fill them. They told Dewey to proceed to the Philippine Islands and capture or destroy the Spanish fleet. In other words, they gave him the stereotyped war order in the phraseology of the signal code, which, literally translated, read: "Go ahead and do the best you can. We give it up"—collars.

The Silver Thread. A matron in Harlem was calling upon another matron in Harlem. Neither was young, but one looked more so. "Really, my dear," said the one that looked more so, "you ought to have your hair treated. It's becoming quite gray in spots. See what a difference it has made with me. You would look much younger—really." "But I don't care to look much younger if I must dye my hair to do so," was the reply. "I prefer to be natural. If the Lord sends me gray hair there's a good reason, and I'm satisfied."

ONE OF THE CITIZENS. A Reasonable Excuse. "Bridget," said Mrs. Sublimis sternly, "breakfast is half an hour late again!" "Yes, m'm," returned Bridget meekly. "What excuse have you to offer? You know I told you that Mr. Sublimis must catch that early train, and punctuality at breakfast is absolutely necessary," said the lady. "Sure an' 'ol oversleep' meself," said Bridget. "That is no excuse," said the mistress. "I gave you an alarm clock only yesterday!" "Oh, know that, m'm."

Costly Law Robes. An English judge's outfit in the way of robes imposes a heavy tax upon the newly appointed judge, although the robe is not nearly so great as it was in the early days of Queen Victoria. Then it was the custom for the law luminaries to attend court functions in figured damask silk gowns, with costly lace bands and ruffles. These, a celebrated legal dignitary of that day, is said on one occasion to have spent £100 on bands alone. The lord chancellor's robes cost something like £150, and even a judge's stockings are an expensive item. The wardrobe of a judge costs anything from £500 to £600, and if the newly bedecked "my lord" is attached to the king's bench division he will require five gowns, a girle, a scarf, a casting hood, a black cap, a three cornered cap, a beaver hat, a peaked hat, a silk hat, lace bands and two full court suits, swords, etc., to keep up the majesty of the law.—London Globe.

What They Said. "Did the girls say anything when they heard of my engagement?" she asked with a little curiosity. "Very little," was the reply of her dearest friend. "Oh, yes, they said something." "Well, what was it?" "Well, most of them merely exclaimed, 'At last!'"

Was He Delirious? "Almost every man," says a Baltimore specialist, "learns sooner or later to think of his doctor as one of his best friends, but this fact does not hinder the world from laughing at the profession."

A Rising Fall. A certain member of the British government who was admittedly a great failure was being discussed by two of his colleagues. "And now," concluded one, "they want to make him a peer!" "No," said the other, with greater acumen; "they want to make him disappear."

The Talking Pots. "Yes, these pots of mine are all right," said the potter. "They don't talk, though." "No pots do." "Don't they? Look here." He took from the shelf a strange, crude pot dented yellow and blue that had the shape of a duck. He filled it with water; then he poured the water out again. "Quack, quack, quack!" said the pot distinctly. Every gurgle was a distinct quack. "There's art for you," said the potter. "Every gurgle of that duck pot is a quack. Wonderful Aztec art! And I have an Aztec pig pot that grunts like a pig and a dog pot that barks like a dog. Wonderful chaps, those Aztec potter fellows! I wish I knew their secret. Imagine an Aztec banquet," he said after a pause. "Pots filled, you know, with wine. And every time you pour yourself a drink 'Quack' go the ducks, 'Bowwow' go the dogs. Regular pandemonium!"—New York Press.

The Light of the Firefly. When man will attain the perfect vacuum, then the rude ether bluish of the electric light bulb will give forth many times more light, purified and heatless, soft and healing, as the light of the stars, penetrating as the sun. An examination of the firefly when snuffing flames or light shows bodily movements that cannot be understood to mean anything else than vacuum producing. The lights are always seen in the vacuum sack on the back. Immediately before emitting light the insect will flatten the body, draw the legs in, droop the head, seemingly contracting in all directions; then with the relaxation come the flame and light. The bodies of the glowworm and firefly always are transparent when filled with flame. The blades of grass or other debris are seen plainly through the bodies. Here are cases of nature dealing with X rays.—Chicago Tribune.

How Marshall Field Made Money. In the early eighties, when the First National bank of Waukegan was not as big as it is now, I pretty nearly had my breath taken away one day by a good looking stranger calling from Chicago. He threw a letter of credit for $50,000 from a Chicago bank on my desk and quietly said, "Can you cash that?" I looked him over once or twice, made a quick estimate of all the loose cash I thought I could scrape up and said: "Yes. How do you want it?" He gave a smile, set down and said, "I think I'll take it in kind." In a month's time, as his authorized agent, I bought about 20,000 acres of cheap railroad land for my Chicago friend, taking the deeds in my name at his request, paying an average of $2.65 an acre. He cleared over $1,000,000 on this one deal. His name was Marshall Field—Senator Aukens's Reminiscences in Leslie's Weekly.
