Church Rally Day.

Next Sunday will be church rally day at the Christian tabernacle. It is expected this will be the best day in the history of the Christian church in Medford. Every member of the church within reach of Medford will make an effort to be present. It is requested that all come in time for the Bible school. Let church rally day be a great day. Special themes will be presented. Morning subject, "The Resurrection" or "What Christ Saw in the Cup." Evening subject, "The Seven Parables Sayings on the Cross." These are great themes. They will help you to see the suffering Savior as never before. At the approach of the glorious Easter time we need to see as never before the man of Galilee in his last moments on earth. Let everyone rally to these special services and make this a great day.

AMUSEMENTS

Vaudeville at Bijou.

The rainy spring days are here. The amusement-seeking public are looking for amusement and they are getting it at the Bijou. Vaudeville has again been put on at the Bijou and it is a signal for the old guard to turn out. Pa and Ma and the baby were all there last night. Baby started the ball rolling with a tee-hee-hee. Ma chuckled, and Pa roared. It is comedy they all want, and comedy they are getting at the Bijou. Tonight brings on an entirely new bill. The howling comedy vaudeville success entitled "The Crazy Dutchman" will be the fiddler tonight. You simply must laugh. Two big reels of pictures of most interesting character are also included. A big feature is billed for the school children Saturday afternoon. The trained baby elephant will perform for their special benefit. The performance is planned especially for the school children and they are kept in a continuous uproar.

Feature Bill at the Savoy.

Pathe Bros. have obtained another triumph in the first of their "Film de l'Art" series, "Incriminating Evidence" with Mr. Severin, the world's greatest pantomime actor, playing the leading role. The theme deals with the murder of Marquis de Rolo in the "Cave of the Innocents" in Paris. The murderer fastens the crime upon another man, who is arrested charged with the murder. The unfortunate man's friends find incriminating evidence against the real murderer. Then comes the struggle to use this evidence in behalf of his friend or for his own material advancement. Finally right prevails and the innocent man is released.

The artistic way this simple story is handled both in scenic arrangement and by the actors, makes the picture one of intense interest. The moving picture actor has to convey his meaning by pantomime, where the actor upon the stage is helped out by the lines of the play. In this respect the Pathe actors have achieved a real triumph, for by their gestures they not only portray with great vividness the workings of the mind, but we realize their conversation by their artistic pantomime. This film alone is worth the price of admission.

Other features, including such pictures as "The Lady Chauffeur" and "Rector's Revenge," both mirth-producers, round out an entertainment that cannot be surpassed in the moving pictures. Admission 10c.

"The Gingerbread Man" Coming.

A comic opera of delightful quality and unusual merit both in book lyrics and score is the "Gingerbread Man" which will be given here on Wednesday, April 7, with the original No. 1 company (fresh from a tour of the larger cities, where it has enjoyed unusual success) in this the third year of its presentation. The reason for this is obvious. The piece is one of certain merit—first of all for its particularly beautiful music, which by the way was composed by A. Baldwin Shoen, who has given us such timely compositions as "The Mocking Bird," "Jack and the Beanstalk," "Sergeant Kitty," "Broadway in Tokyo," and "Coming Thru the Rye." Mr. Shoen's music is not only tuneful, but it is written in a musician's style, and although it has a trick of catching the ear, it has class, which enables its composer to rank with the best that America produces.
