AMUSEMENTS

It having become known about the seats for "The Gingerbread Man," were $2.50 each, it is emphatically stated, although this production is worthy of it, there will be no advance in prices, the regular scale standing, i. e.,—50c, 75c, $1 and $1.50.

CLAS. D. HAZELWOOD.

"The Gingerbread Man" Tomorrow Night.

"The Gingerbread Man," a comic opera of the real school, is slated for presentation here Wednesday, April 7. This genuine musical offering has demonstrated its merit for the past three seasons with unusual success, and has made one of the greatest impressions on the quality of its music alone, of any opera of recent years. It has a pretty little fairy-tale story and superabundance of good comedy, and as its characters are particularly interesting this season, the original No. 1 cast appearing in it, and as it comes fresh from the larger cities with the original production, it should demand attention. The cast is an unusually good one, and the chorus are said to be comely and sufficient in quantity. Mr. Stone has been responsible for the score of "Cooing Through the Rye," "Lady Teazle," "The Mocking Bird" and several other comic operas and musical comedies, and his music has never yet failed to secure anything that he has ever done.

In the personnel of the company will be found such clever people as Chas. J. McGowan, Herbert Saffinger, Maurice Holden, Fred J. Niss, Ross Stone, Adèle Archer, Jola Renard and Max Bouton and Rose Murray.

The scene of the play is laid in Fairyland and is afterwards transferred to Humland, where rival kings dispute the possession of each other's respective territory.

At the Savoy.

Tonight is the best opportunity you will have to see one of the best and most amusing bill of pictures ever put on at the "five and ten" motion picture theater. Such pictures as the "Moose Hunting" and "Surrey-Nut Time" are now shown every day, and the management was fortunate in getting these headliners. Miss Ed. Fort sings a very beautiful waltz song, which received a great deal of applause from the music lovers who attended the performance last night.

Wednesday and Thursday the thrilling western picture, "On the Warpath," will be shown. This subject is a story of Indian warfare during the early days upon the plain, and shows many stirring skirmishes between the Indians and settlers. The climax is a most realistic battle full of exciting and intense incidents. You should not fail to see this headliner. Admission free.
