

Lillian Russell, in "Wildfire," at the Medford Opera House, Wednesday Evening, April 14.

AMUSEMENTS

Lillian Russell.

Lillian Russell's success in the play "Wildfire" by George Broadhurst and George V. Hobart in which Joseph Brooks is presenting the famous heavy-toned opera, is almost phenomenal. She steps from the old comic opera days to this new work with a lightness and grace that are irresistible. As the widow of this interesting bit of dramatic fiction Miss Russell is more richly beautiful and far more artistic than ever, and her newer career is the unfolding of historic possibilities which were never supported except by the resourceful manager, who enticed Miss Russell to take up the new endeavors.

As plays go, "Wildfire" is unique. It was chosen originally for the purpose of permitting Miss Russell a broader opportunity. It has turned out the one genuine and high-class dramatic drama of the American stage to hold for in the first-class theaters. Miss Russell carried it by way of introduction and now she has a vehicle which it will be difficult to get away from. This is because of its spirited atmosphere and intensely human appeal.

Miss Russell is in the heyday of her career and with her present success, will be at the Medford Theater Wednesday, April 14.

The Real Lillian Russell.

Some unscrupulous person, who seems to have little regard for the truth, having circulated the report that Lillian Russell would not play here Wednesday night, that it would be her understudy, etc., I wish to say that this person can win $100 of my money by furnishing The Tribune's dramatic editor with proofs of his assertion. Furthermore, I want to say that the real Lillian Russell will play here Wednesday night or there will be no performance. I have never fooled my patrons yet, and I don't think I will begin at this late day, or with a star as well known as Lillian Russell.

Remember, subscribers for season tickets will be held for their seats if they do not notify me that they do not want them before 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Exceptionally Good Bill at Bijou.

The new program at the Bijou last night made a big hit with the audience. No program at the Bijou has been the cause of bringing forth more applause from the audience than the one of last night. The program is undoubtedly one of the strongest ever billed at the Bijou. It could not help but please the most skeptical. Miss Owsa De Lane as a pianist and vocalist scored a decided hit last night. Her wondrous rendition of that popular favorite, "Dearie," earned for

FACTORIES ARE SLOW IN PAYING FOR INSPECTION

SALEM, Or., April 12.—Over 140 factories and mills in Oregon have not paid their inspection fees. A complete list is being prepared by Labor Commissioner Hoff. It will be filed with the secretary of state and the district attorney will bring action for last year's fees due. In many cases the fees for the year before are still unpaid.

TO DETERMINE DATE OF TEACHERS' MEETING

SALEM, Or., April 12.—The executive board of the State Teachers' association is meeting here today to determine definitely the date of the next teachers' convention. Some favor June and others December. Prominent teachers from all parts of the state figure in the program.

MANY PAY HOMAGE TO GREAT POLISH ACTRESS

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 12.—The last rites over the body of Helena Modjeska, the famous actress, were performed here this morning. Thousands paid homage to her memory. St. Vibian's cathedral, where the solemn rites were held, was crowded before 9 o'clock, the time set for the services.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Pattison of Central Point have returned from a visit to Portland, where Mr. Pattison attended the annual meeting of the Oregon Editorial association.

E-RU-SA—THE ONLY LAWFUL PILE CURE

Because E-RU-SA CURES PILES, and DOES NOT contain narcotics, mercury, cocaine, lead or any poisonous drug. U. S. Dispensary recommends every ingredient of E-RU-SA. Drug laws make "false and misleading statements" a crime. Therefore, the sale of all other or narcotic pile medicines is illegal because they affect the brain and spinal marrow, produce constipation and nerve cure. E-RU-SA is not for sale at spium joints. Only druggists of highest standing endorse E-RU-SA. Medford Pharmacy, Eagle Pharmacy, Chas. Strang, Huskies' drug store.
