RINGLING BROTHERS
COMING THIS YEAR

Will Have Great Attraction With Them—Circus Is Astounding the East.

Arrangements have just been completed for the appearance in this city this season of Ringling Brothers' circus. This big show makes the entire west this year, bringing the splendid organization that is now drawing delighted crowds to Madison Square Garden in New York city. Never in the history of amusements has such a big been made as the Ringling Brothers have made in the eastern metropolis. Their circus is by all means the best they have ever presented, and the immense Garden has been too small to hold all who have sought admission. When the Ringling Brothers reach this city they will present exactly the same show that is now surprising the east. This is the only show of any consequence that will be seen here and as everybody knows it is well worth waiting for.

The New York papers in commenting on the opening at the Garden, without a single exception, declared the show to be the best that had ever been seen there.

TABLE ROCKETS.

The Kinkead family left for Chicago last Saturday. The remains of a sister who died here about a year ago were disinterred and taken along. Our best wishes go with these people to their new home.

Arbor day was duly observed by our school. A general cleaning up took place and several trees were planted.

The Easter program by the Sunday school was witnessed by about all of our residents and several visitors from the surrounding towns.

Mr. Wilson, who purchased the Kinkead farm, has taken possession of the same and will make many improvements.

Road Supervisor Smith has a force of men and teams at work making some much needed repairs on the road in front of the Collins farm.

A large crowd of our young people picnicked on Table Rock Sunday and enjoyed the fine view of the valley to be had from the summit.

Mrs. T. C. Law and children from Willow Springs is visiting relatives here.

New Cases.

Jackson County bank vs. Weston B. Barnett; action to recover money. M. Pardin, attorney for plaintiff.

Charles K. Kompp vs. Warren Nichols; action to recover money. Thompson & Hardy & Woodcock, Potter, attorneys for plaintiff.

Ernest R. Gilstrap vs. Warren Nichols; action to recover money.
Gilliam T. Kitchen vs. Warren Nichols; action to recover money.

CENTRAL POINT POINTERS.

(The Herald.)

Miss Mary A. Mee made a business trip to the county seat Tuesday.

Mrs. Ann Thomas of Eagle Point is here looking after her property.

Mrs. Edward March went to Yoncalla Tuesday to visit her parents.

John Albert left Tuesday for a two weeks' visit at Corning and other California points.

Miss Esther Merritt came home Tuesday from Portland, where she has been attending school.

Charlie Jeffers is spending the week on his homestead at Butte Falls.

J. M. Root and J. C. Brown of Medford transacted business here on Tuesday.

William Ferguson of this city spent Monday in Ashland on business.

E. G. Whiteside, who has been quite sick with the sunups for the past ten days, is up and around again.

Gus Newbury, the popular Jacksonville attorney, was transacting business in town Tuesday.

Mrs. W. D. Gleason of Tacoma, Wash., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Davis, of this city. She expects to remain several weeks.

Dr. Anderson was called to the home of J. W. Hicks Monday evening to attend Mrs. Hicks, who met with a painful accident while at work in her garden. A colt attempted to kick her and in trying to escape injury she fell and strained her right hip. While very painful, her injury is not serious.

The Commercial club committee is busy these days perfecting plans for an aggressive advertising campaign. When it comes to city publicity promotion, Central Point has a full quota of boosters, who not only know how, but believe in "doing it now."

Dr. R. W. Pollnitz, physician and surgeon, until recently house surgeon at St. Mary's hospital, Walla Walla, Wash., has entered into office practice with Dr. J. V. Anderson of this city, with whom he was a co-graduate. We bespeak for Drs. Anderson and Pollnitz a full and complete measure of success among those who may hereafter require the services of an able and reputable physician.

Circuit Court.

State of Oregon vs. George Putnam; order spreading mandate on record and giving defendant judgment for costs.

G. F. Ammons vs. Ransom Carter; suit for partition; default.

Isaac Dornberg vs. J. F. Reddy; action to recover money; reply filed.

William Ulrich, assignee, vs. Geo. M. Neuber and Hattie M. Neuber; motion for leave to file stay of proceeding.

B. S. Radcliff vs. R. P. Snell et al. order made to file amended petition; granted.

A Good Gargle.

The medicine chest may usefully include a gargle, and one that can be recommended contains eighty grains of chlorate of potash and half a dram of dilute hydrochloric acid in eight ounces of water.

Soap.

Lye of soda, heated in a pan impregnated with olive oil, led to the discovery of soap.

Long Time Fashions.

In times past a fashion lasted, with slight modification, for years. Much the same fashion continued through the long reign of Louis XIV. and another through that of Louis XV., while the ladies of the middle ages never thought of varying their costumes.

A Curious Custom.

A curious custom prevails in Greenland. When a child dies the parents bury a living dog beside the corpse, the animal being supposed to act as the child's guide in the other world.

Old Time Capital Crimes.

In England during the sixteenth century stealing above the value of twelvepence, burning a haystack, killing or stealing a sheep, breaking a dike or bridge, breaking a bank of a fish pond, cutting down a tree in an orchard and the malicious tearing or defacing of the garments of a person in the street were all capital offenses.

Volcanoes and Earthquakes.

Volcanic action and earthquakes are closely related, both being subterranean upheavals, and an earthquake may be said to be an abortive attempt to produce a volcano.

A White City.

All of the buildings in Valetta, the capital of the island of Malta, are of white stone. There being no smoke or fog to discover them, they are as fresh and clean now as when they were erected.

First Arc Lamp.

The first arc lamp is attributed to Volta, who observed that when a current is led across two sticks of pure carbon in contact with one another, and these are subsequently withdrawn, the current continues to flow across the gap produced, thus creating an arc.

Largest Pontoon Bridge.

The largest pontoon bridge in the world is in Asia. It connects Calcutta with Howrah, an important railway and cotton center of about 500,000 inhabitants.

Air Constituents.

Neon is a somewhat rare constituent of the air—one part in every 170,000,000 parts. Krypton is more plentiful—one part to every 200,000,000 parts. Helium is just absolutely common—there is one part to every 500,000 or, at most, 1,000,000 parts of air.

Artificial Eyes.

Artificial eyes were first made use of by the Egyptians. They were of lead and silver and subsequently of copper and ivory. Hundreds of years later, in the sixteenth century, when they were made in Europe, porcelain was the substance used, and the maker usually stamped his address on the white of the eye.

Oil Lamps.

Oil was used for burning in lamps as early as the epoch of Abraham, about 1921 B. C.
