A timely word to contemplated fruit planters: We all know of the great demand and shortage of fruit trees the past season, not enough to go around. Mr. Planter, if you want fruit trees, get in touch with us now, place your orders for fall 1909. We predict great demand and high prices for year 1909. However, we took a peep into the future and are well supplied to handle large commercial orders, are heavy on pears, apples, peaches, walnuts. If you have any special sort you want grafted to order, send in your choice of grafts and we will grow you a first-class tree at right prices.

JAPAN'S EXHIBIT TO BE SPLENDID

Wonderful Array of Exhibits Shipped
From Flowery Kingdom to the Seattle Exposition.

SEATTLE, April 19.—Japan's participation in the Alaska-Yukon Pacific Exposition will provide the world with such a show of life, customs and resources of the rising eastern empire as has never been shown at any other international fair. For the big event which opens on June 1, the Nipponese have brought together a more comprehensive exhibit of their people resources and products than has ever been displayed before. Instead of the usual exhibit of a pagoda and a few Japanese jugglers and contortionists, so common at expositions, the Japanese government has taken in hand the preparation of a thorough exhibit, with the idea not only of amusing the visitor, but of instructing the world in Japan's commercial status, and of increasing her trade with the nations of the Pacific.

T. Takasawa, Imperial commissioner to the exposition, arrived in Seattle a month ago to take personal charge of the erection of Japan's building, which is now almost complete. He was accompanied by K. Hayashi, special consular agent, who will be attached to the local Japanese consulate this summer, and will look after the interests of thousands of his countrymen who will visit the United States to see the exposition.

Japan's building is of the architecture of that nation a century ago. It is being erected by skilled workmen of Japan, who are residents of the Northwest. Much of the material has been imported from the Orient, and the building will be typical of the land it represents. For the collection of the exhibits it will house, Japan is spending 200,000 yen, half of which is appropriated by the government, the other half by the Japanese business men through the Japanese Exhibition Society. The value of the exhibit will many millions of yen, for the government of Japan is entrusting to its commissioner some of the rarest and most sacred of its relics and documents.

As in the case of the U. S. government, Japan will have a complete mint in operation in its building. The war equipment and methods of Japan will be shown, with models of aged war junks, and modern battleships, of old time swords and armor, and modern culture, will be displayed. And for entertainment there will be the Japanese theatres and art exhibits, and tea gardens with kimono garbed geishas, which have contributed so much to the romantic lore of the islands.

Among the government displays at the A. P. Y. exposition Japan will run a close race for first place, barring the mammoth display which Uncle Sam is preparing. The international tone given to the A. P. Y. by the displays of the nations of the Pacific is one of the exposition's leading attractions, and Japan is more than doing her share in this department.

CELLULOID CUFF BURNS WEARER'S WRIST AND HAND

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., April 19.—Although a rich man, J. S. Lowe, a pioneer in this valley, does his own chores, lights the fire in the store in the morning and wears celluloid collars and cuffs. Mr. Lowe always completes his toilet before doing his chores in the morning. He dresses neatly and has been wearing celluloid cuffs and collars because they are easier to keep clean than linen.

Yesterday morning while Mr. Lowe was performing his usual chores his cuffs and collars only.

the fire and he was severely burned. In future Mr. Lowe will wear linen cuffs and collars only.

DESCHUTES PROJECT STILL IN DOUBT

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Secretary Ballinger says the fate of the Deschutes project has not been finally determined. The reclamation service recommended abandoning it, but the secretary has not decided to accept the recommendation. Further consideration will be given the matter in the immediate future.
