STEWART PLACE IS SOLD TO SYNDICATE

Local Men Pay $35,000 for 480 Acres of Land Two Miles East of This City—Oil and Coal.

The Elizabeth Stewart place, two miles east of this city, has been sold to a local syndicate composed of F. E. Merriek, Dr. F. C. Page, F. M. Cummings and W. T. York & Company, the consideration being $36,000.

The place consists of 480 acres of land. Upon the place the best of coal and oil prospects are to be found and otherwise the land is a splendid investment from a fruit standpoint. As soon as water is secured and the place developed it will prove one of the finest in the valley.

It is highly probable that the new owners will cut the place up into small tracts and place them on the market.

ROGUE RIVER.

When the Crater's azure waters
Lest lie in crystal caves,
When the ardent suns of summer
Anting, fall on whisper-waves;
Then the infant Rogue stream gathers,
Length and purpose toward its Flood;

Gauging volume—musiced golden,
Athe throne of Mazam's god.
Downward flows the infant stream-let,
It the hills and mountains high,
Roses with the light of morning,
Tier of the bending sky.
Lovedrifts of crimson curtains
Vests flood with nature-art;
High above its sparkling waters
Ply summits meet and part.

Vine we woven on thy margins,
La bloom of fairest hue,
Where the strong young trees are fling
Pd their fronds above the dew.
On thiolets that odor
Aspheres which steal like alm
O'er senses of some dreamer,
Sling by thy deep and calm.

On adown with sliding movement,
Clof Mazama and of Dawn,
Leaphere and there with gladness,
Cte as the love-eyed fawn;
Flow magic waters ever
Ted some haven-home of rest,
Where Isles of Wainmay slumber
In bosom of the west.
