

MEDFORD COLTS ARE THE CANDY KIDS

Handle the Horsehide as if They Liked It—Will Get Their Revenge.

The Medford Colts pulled off the best workout of the season at the ball park last night and as a fan remarked, it was the kind of dope that wins games. This evening at 6 o'clock the boys will be out again, accompanied by a bunch of the more enthusiastic fans, who are anxious to get revenge on the Hill team next Sunday.

Word comes from Central Point that practice is being indulged in regularly in that thriving little place and that Medford will have more than one team to do their best to beat Sunday afternoon.

Two of the Hill fans were in the city today and hinted there would be plenty of Hill money in Medford Sunday if anyone wanted to take a "flier"; also that Hill would bring a big crowd from the lumber camp to back the northern California champions.

The old lineup that made Grants Pass bite the dust twice this season will be in the infield and the team will be strengthened in several other positions as well. Be a booster and get out and root for Medford.

AMEN!

Phoenix seems to have taken on new life and does not propose to be a laggard in the present day era of progress and improvement in the Rogue River valley. Recently the town was incorporated and the inhabitants are thoroughly inoculated with the public spirit virus judging by the enthusiasm displayed yesterday, which was set apart as a municipal cleanup day. Practically all the able-bodied inhabitants of the place, together with available teams, were gathered together and an onslaught made upon the streets and highways and byways of the old town. Rocks and trash were gathered up and hauled off, weeds cleared away and a transformation was worked by the time the day was over. Good for Phoenix. Long may she live and grow.—Ashland Tidings.

About Celebrating

Why not celebrate in the good old way with basket lunch and local talent, with speeches, songs and athletic sports?

True, patriotism is not measured in dollars and cents, therefore to celebrate or not to celebrate should not depend upon the purse to be raised and expended so much as the zeal and good will with which an appropriate program may be carried out.

The failure to raise a large sum of money for some few to spend according to their varied fancy should not paralyze the zeal for celebrating in the least.

Fourth of July celebrations have become a burden rather than a grand pleasure to the citizens who promote them, and a farce to the public—all because vanity, greed and graft have crowded real merit out of the ring.

Away with graft and puffed up snobbery. Give common sense and true patriotism a chance once more.
