CHAUFFEUR'S PROMPT SURGERY SAVES CHILD

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., May 13.—Little Minnie La Chowsky, aged seven years, sat on the steps of a district school on the outskirts of Middletown today, eating her lunch, when she suddenly choked after swallowing a big piece of mince pie. Little Minnie was pounded on the back and various other means were used to relieve her without results.

The teacher examined the child's throat and found a piece of wire nearly an inch long lodged in the trachea. She could find nothing with which to remove it and was about to start for home with the suffering youngster when a big automobile came in sight.

The chauffeur formed a hook of a bit of metal, and, after several attempts managed to pull out the wire. The child was saved, but suffered greatly from the shock. She was taken home and put to bed.

CONVALESCENT AT 69 STARTS 2,000 MILE WALK

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Atwell J. Cross, a convalescent from a Washington hospital, started today at the age of 69 to walk to Denver. He expects to eat his Christmas dinner in Denver and then go to his mining claim in Colorado and seek a fortune.

Cross has been taking treatment for his eyes in Washington. He was nearly blind when he entered the hospital and now can read from a newspaper. He is not making the long distance walk on a bet or because he likes to walk. He is just on his way to Colorado and walking looked like the most available means of locomotion.

The old man has a varied career in the west, and is a veteran Indian fighter. He started in good cheer and in light marching order. He will pay for his meals on the way and walk west by easy stages.
