TEN REASONS WHY

You Should Be a Reader of

The Pacific Monthly

1st. It is the leading magazine of Western America, published on the Pacific coast, edited by western men and its entire contents are Western. With pen, brush and camera, it tells the story of the wonderful progress of the West.

2nd. No other section of the entire world is experiencing such a rapid industrial and commercial growth as that section of the United States west of the Rockies. It is a duty you owe to yourself to keep informed—The Pacific Monthly completely covers the field.

3rd. There are opportunities for the extension of practically every line of business in this territory, and The Pacific Monthly tells of these opportunities.

4th. If you are looking for a chance to invest or locate—commerce, farming, orcharding or professional work, if you are worn, tired or in ill health, seeking rest or reasonable, The Pacific Monthly will give you a thousand valuable hints.

5th. Here also you can get close to nature. The great snow-capped mountains, in all their rugged grandeur, the boundless plains and the virgin forests, "God's Country," untarnished by the hand of man. Do you not wish to spend a few hours each month with us?

6th. The best of western literature to be found in the Pacific Monthly. Live topics of THE DAY, stories of progress and of opportunities, the Romance of the mountains and the plains, always intensely human.

7th. One never tires of beautiful pictures and the Pacific Monthly is famous for its illustrations, always a veritable picture book of Western scenery, from Mexico to Alaska and from Denver to the coast. No expense is spared in securing the most striking photos for reproduction in colors and halftones.

8th. The Pacific Monthly should be in every home. From cover to cover it is clean wholesome reading of an educational nature. It is particularly interesting and valuable both to teacher and students.

9th. Look upon your map, note the great area west of the Rockies, think of the wonderful resources of this section of the country—thousands of acres of agriculture land, billions of feet of standing timber, mineral riches beyond comprehension, extending to the shores of the mighty Pacific, the highway to the Orient—Do you not want to know more about this marvelous country?

10th. A spirit of optimism prevails throughout the west that lends life and vigor to all. That is why the Pacific Monthly is different. It comes to you each month breathing this spirit of the west. It will put the red blood into your veins—try it.

SACRAMENTO IS AFTER MORE TRADE

Jobbers Will Make a Trip Into Southern Oregon in July After More Business.

Sacramento Bee: The Jobbers' association is to have a meeting within the next few days to arrange an excursion next month to Klamath Falls, which the local wholesale merchants have had in mind for some time.

The purpose of the trip is to give the jobbers a good opportunity for seeing personally the vicinity of Klamath Falls and Southern Oregon. This is a prosperous and fast developing section of country, lying about midway between Portland and Sacramento, and consequently bringing the wholesalers of the two cities into competition for its increasing business.

The opening for this city to build up a flourishing trade with this locality has been insisted upon for weeks by the Bee, and its testimony chimes in with reports of traveling men from this city who have personal knowledge of the Klamath Falls country.

It is on these advices that the jobbers have planned an exploration just over the northern boundary of this state. They hope to get a sufficient number to take the trip so that they may travel on a special car and be at liberty to do about as they like in the way of seeing the country.

LESSONS DRAWN FROM THE FIRE

Editor Pattison Deducts a Few Truths From the Disaster of Monday.

Editor L. A. Pattison of the Central Point Herald draws the following lessons from the fire of Monday in that city:

We do need the water works after all.

A decree of absolute divorce between children and matches should be declared by parents and, if necessary, enforced with a big, stiff stick.

Townful of level-headed people, when a fire is raging, is better than great riches. Even the children kept quiet and fought fire in the grass and debris.

No more manure piles or outside haystacks should ever be permitted in the town. If an ordinance is necessary, pass it and enforce it.

We need a town grass burning day more than we need many other things that we think we want.

The men who voted against water bonds last spring were not making many popular orations in support of that action Monday afternoon.

The common good is greater than selfish interest. Had every man stayed by his own house to guard it, all would have been lost.

"A touch of fire makes the whole world kin." It is worth some loss and trouble to have such forceful demonstration of how many friends Central Point has in Medford and how quick they can act in an emergency. That's the Medford get-there spirit. It's been the making of them. It was near the salvation of us.

Our friends—we know them best when we need them most.

BUTTE FALLS ITEMS

Harvey Spencer and Joe Spencer of Dudley, visited Butte Falls and assisted the local club in the baseball game which was played and scored 16 to 0.

Miss Frankie Obenchain and Mrs. Charles Obenchain drove to the Falls on Sunday.

Wanna Parker and family were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ed Watson on Sunday.

Quite a number of young people are in the habit of driving or riding to our town Sundays. We are always glad to see them and as the weather is so delightful and the breezes so invigorating it is a very pleasant drive.

Mr. Gay of Central Point with another gentleman, was here looking

VIGOR IS CONTAGIOUS

You catch health, as you do sickness, from the food you eat.

Tuberculosis is one of the most dangerous diseases known to mankind, and more cattle are afflicted with that dreaded disease than any human being or beast on earth.

When you eat the ordinary piece of beef, no doubt you are eating diseased meat. Always demand United States Government inspected meats, which assures you of getting a piece of pure, fresh meat.

But if you are willing to stay in the old rut and take whatever is passed out to you, without question, you will pay the penalty sooner or later. Start today on the road to health and happiness, by ordering a United States Government inspected steak or roast; it costs you no more.

over our country and took dinner at Hotel Duphey on Sunday.

Lee Bradshaw of Lake creek section came to town this Monday morning to trade and returned the same day to his homestead.

The exercises at the schoolhouse on Monday evening were largely attended. Judge Pentz gave an interesting and instructive lecture, while Messrs. Wright and Clevenger, and Misses Mahoney and Watson rendered excellent music.

National Flag day was observed by our citizens, many of whom flung Old Glory to the breezes and showed their patriotism in other ways.

Ben Fredenburg and wife visited Medford on Monday and were trading with Medford merchants.

A musicale was given at the home of Mrs. Boughton in honor of Miss Frankie Obenchain, who was visiting her sister. The Medford quartet, consisting of Hall, Ellwood, Allen and Wilson, rendered vocal songs, while others engaged in pleasant pastimes. The Butte Falls boys did themselves credit in the courtesies shown their visiting friends. It was most a pleasant evening very agreeably passed and such occasions do much to break the monotony of life.

Miss Bernice Edmonson has been entertaining her cousin Miss Frankie Obenchain, for the past week.

Carl Beeson is erecting a bungalow on his property southwest of Talent. Eben Carver of Medford is doing the carpenter work.

Queen Anne...Addition

The city has passed a resolution extending the City Water system to Queen Anne Addition. Take a look for yourself at the gardens and shrubbery in this addition without water. You can see the possibilities for a beautiful home when the water is upon this productive soil. For information see
